HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, JANUARY 3, 1933.

No. 1

SENATE

TUESDAY, JANUARY 3, 1933, 12 O'CLOCK M.

This being the day and hour fixed by the Constitution for the meeting of the General Assembly, the members of the Senate, together with the Senators-elect chosen at the last general election held on November 8, 1932, assembled in the Senate Chamber.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Edward C. Shannon) called the Senate to order at 12 o'clock noon.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Christian H. Shirk, offered the following prayer:

Most merciful and ever-blessed God, we thank Thee that Thou hast prolonged our lives and enabled us to be present at the opening of this Legislative Assembly and to participate in its activities.

We invoke Thy blessing upon all who have been chosen to engage in the various functions of our State government. May Thy guidance be given to the officers and members of this body. It is their desire to enact such legislation as shall make life more easy and happy for their fellow citizens.

Conscious of the difficult tasks before us and of our human limitations we look to Thee for that wisdom and strength which will enable us to perform our tasks well.

For the granting of these favors and the pardoning of all our offences we will ascribe to Thee eternal praise, in the name of our lord. Amen.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senators remain standing and face the west for a moment as a token of respect to the memory of the departed members of the Senate, Honorable Augustus F. In the Senate, January 3, 1933.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate shall appoint three Members of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall appoint three Members of the House of Representatives, who, together shall constitute a joint legislative committee and organize by the selection of a chairman and secretary.

It shall be the duty of said committee to thoroughly study and analyze the report of the Legislative Finance Committee, the budget for the next fiscal biennium when presented by the Governor, the Administrative and Fiscal Codes, and such other reports and data as may be available or be obtained by the committee for the purpose of enabling said committee to prepare and report to the General Assembly as early as possible a comprehensive legislative program designed to secure economy in the operation of the State Government, cut the present cost of the State Government, and eliminate useless details, overlapping functions, and departmental supervision.

The committee shall have power to hold such hearings as may be necessary. It shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman, requiring and commanding any person to appear before it and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person by any member of the committee, or by any Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate or House of Representatives, and shall have the same force and effect as subpoenas issued out of the courts of the Commonwealth. Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read be laid on the table until the appropriate Committee shall be appointed to whom it may be referred.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I second the motion

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. FAY. Mr. President, I think that the most important thing before this body will be the reduction of the expenses of this government, which we all know have mounted to a point where our people cannot stand it. Our farms are being sold for taxes, our workmen's homes are being taken from them for taxes, and we have virtually got in the State of Pennsylvania today, confiscation, because the expenses of this government are so high that the people can not raise the money to pay them.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, will state his point of order.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, a motion to lay on the table is not debatable.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is well taken.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

The motion was agreed to.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Your Committee was duly appointed under Senate Resolution, Serial Number 9, Legislative Journal, Page 964, on August 16, 1932, which reads as follows:

SENATE RESOLUTION

Whereas, A demand for public utility regulations became general in this Commonwealth prior to 1913 and in consequence and after the best legal minds in Pennsylvania had devoted months to its study the Public Service Act was passed, since interpreted and construed by the State and Federal Appellate Courts forming a substantial body of law intimately affecting comfort and happiness of our people, and

Whereas, In the administration of that law certain weaknesses have been shown to exist demanding substantial amendatory legislation and the Senate of Pennsylvania in the Regular Session of 1931 passed such relief legislation, namely the McClure Bill, Senate Bill No. 414, known as the People's Counsel Bill and which would have given speedy and substantial relief to rate payers and any communities complaining against a utility rate without any cost to such communities; the Parkinson Bill, Senate Bill No. 483, which would have denied to any public utility the right to issue securities until such securities had been approved by the Public Service Commission thus preventing the watering of utility stock and other abuses of similar character and the Howell Bill, No. 259, which took away from Public utilities the right to increase rates by merely filing a scheduled increase, all of which legislation was killed by orders of Governor Pinchot, and

Whereas, The public is entitled, to know all the facts both as to the law creating the Commission and its personnel so that public confidence in the integrity of the efficiency and personnel of the State Government may be fully restored; and

Whereas, The revelations in the W. D. B. Ainey proceedings and the failure of Mr. Ainey to meet the charges on the ground of financial inability and health has shaken public confidence in the Public Service Commission; therefore be it

Resolved, That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate is hereby authorized to appoint a committee consisting of seven members of the Senate, which committee is hereby directed to make a full, complete, impartial and searching investigation, (a) of the allegations that money and other valuable considerations were paid, given or extended to or for the benefit of Members of the Public Service Commission by public utility companies or individual connected therewith to influence their decisions, (b) whether public utility companies and individuals connected therewith other than the ones named in the prior investigation have had improper relations with members of the Commission, (c) whether public utility Companies have been securing unfair advantage by corrupt means, (d) of the administration of the Public Service Company Law by the Public Service Commission and of the changes needed in said law to render full justice to the public and to utility companies, (e) of the affairs and personnel of the Public Service Commission since 1913, and (f) such other facts, matters and affairs as shall be deemed necessary by the committee in order to enable it to make a comprehensive report to the Senate or such recommendations for action by the Senate, as it deems necessary;

Resolved, That said committee shall have all the powers of the Senate when engaged in the transaction of executive business, power to transact which is conferred only upon the Senate by the Constitution and laws of the Commonwealth;

Resolved, That said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman, duly attested by the Secretary of the Senate, requiring and commanding any person or persons to appear before it and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary, and to take testimony of witnesses outside of Pennsylvania and for that purpose to issue commissions or other appropriate proceedings. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person, and shall have the same force and effect as subpoenas issuing out of the courts of the Commonwealth. Each member of the Committee shall have power to administer oaths or affirmations to witnesses appearing before it. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to appear and testify before said committee, or to produce any books, papers, records and documents, shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of this Commonwealth in such cases;

Resolved, That the Committee be authorized to request the Attorney General to render such advice and service as it deems necessary and turn over to us such information as he may have in his possession;

Resolved, That the committee be authorized to employ such attorneys, accountants, experts, stenographers, clerks and other agents as it may deem necessary in conducting said investigation to fix the compensation of the persons so employed, which compensation and the expenses of the members of the committee shall be paid out of an appropriation made at this session of the Legislature;

Resolved, That the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate be directed to attend said committee to serve subpoenas issued by it, and generally to enforce all orders which said committee may make, his compensation to be fixed by the committee, which compensation and the expenses of the Sergeant-at-Arms shall be paid from appropriations made at this session of the Legislature;

Resolved, That the powers of the committee created by this resolution to investigate the matters comprehended by this resolution be and the same are hereby continued after the adjournment of the Senate in order that the executive business of the Senate may be duly expedited;

Resolved, That the Committee shall make its report to the regular session of the Legislature of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, in order that appropriate action may be taken as early as possible.

Referred to Committee on Appropriations in the Senate, August 16.

Reported as committed, August 17.

Laid on table, August 17.

Taken from table, August 18.

Adopted unanimously by Senate, August 18.

President Pro Tempore announced the appointment of the following Committee, August 18, Senators Rial, Buckman, Earnest, Salus, Coyne, Clippinger and Roberts.

Senator Clarence J. Buckman, of Langhorne, Bucks County, asked the Senate to be relieved from membership on the Committee which, by motion of the Senate, was granted, August 18.

President Pro Tempore Boyd announced the appointment of Senator William D. Pethick, of Honesdale, Wayne County, vice Senator Buckman, who declined appointment, August 18.

YOUR COMMITTEE REPORTS PRELIMINARILY AS FOLLOWS:

Organization

1—That the Committee met and duly organized on the 18th day of August, 1932. Meetings were thereafter held on September 1st, and 30th, October 7th, 21st, 27th and 28th, November 10th, 16th, 17th and 30th, and December 8th, 16th and 30th, 1932. At these meetings the Committee investigated and considered the various subjects covered by the said resolution under which it was appointed, and at a number of these meetings took testimony, all of which is submitted herewith.

Selection of Counsel

2—The Committee selected Oliver K. Eaton, Esq., of Pittsburgh, as its chief counsel, Dr. John G. Harvey of Temple University, School of Law, as advisor to the Committee on Utility Legislation, J. Julius Levy, Esq., of Scranton and J. Cullen Ganey, Esq., of Bethlehem, as associate counsel.

Information Obtained From Public Service Commission

3—The work of the Committee was begun by procuring from the Public Service Commission, as a result of an inquiry made by the Chairman of the Committee, a vast amount of data as to the work actually done by the Public Service Commission, the methods involved, and in certain matters, the results which ensued.

Charges Against Public Service Commissioners

The Committee directed its attention, at the outset, to the charges made against members of the Public Service Commission. Questionnaires were sent to all the members, past and present, of the Public Service Commission, requesting information as to their banking accounts and business transactions during the time they served on the Commission.

W. D. B. Ainey

From 1915 to almost the date of his death, W. D. B. Ainey was a member of the Public Service Commission and its Chairman. All his known bank accounts were subpoenaed by the Committee, and produced before it, and oral testimony was taken with reference to his conduct in office.

The Committee regrets that a full performance of its duty required it to investigate the conduct of a man not living and, therefore, unable to present his defense. Therefore this phase of the evidence is not referred to in details, but is transmitted to the Senate without further comment.

James S. Benn

James S. Benn was a member of the Public Service Commission from May 25th, 1915 until May 13, 1931, when he resigned. His conduct was also investigated. Testimony was taken as to whether or not he had acquired certain utility stocks during his term of office, especially stock of the Pennsylvania Water and Power Company, a Pennsylvania utility. His broker, and his son-in-law, were also subpoenaed and they were directed to bring their books and papers. These books and papers disclosed purchases of stock for the account of James S. Benn, but it was contended at the hearing that these purchases were not for him but were for the account of Mr. Benn's son. Some of the original book entries showed the purchaser's name to be James S. Benn; in at least one instance, sometime after the original entry was made, and after the books had been subjected to examination, the letter "Jr." were added or interpolated making the entry to read "James S. Benn, Jr."; the interpolation admittedly was in the handwriting of Mr. Benn's son-in-law. Mr. Benn's son-in-law also testified that he borrowed large sums, estimated by him as totalling over $50,000.00 in cash from Mr. Benn.

On the basis of these disclosures your Committee issued subpoenas for the bank accounts, books and records involving the business transactions of James S. Benn, which were returnable November 30, 1932. On the 29th day of November 1932, Mr. Benn in the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County, Pennsylvania, procured a preliminary injunction restraining the Committee from enforcing the subpoenas in question alleging, in his bill, that the subpoenas were unlawfully issued. This case is pending and the Committee's powers, in this respect, have not as yet been determined by the Court. This preliminary injunction has restrained the Committee from ascertaining all the facts and circumstances with reference to the business transactions of James S. Benn. In the event injunction is dissolved, your Committee, if continued by Senatorial action, will vigorously renew its investigation.

S. Ray Shelby

S. Ray Shelby was appointed a member of the Public Service Commission on February 12, 1919, and is still a member. Subpoenas were issued for the purpose of ascertaining the facts as to the conduct of S. Ray Shelby, not only for his own books and papers, but also for the books, records and accounts of S. Ray Shelby in the Second National Bank at Uniontown, Fayette County, Pennsylvania. Prior to the return day of these subpoenas Commissioner Shelby brought two injunction proceedings; the first was brought in Uniontown, Fayette County, Pennsylvania, in the Court of Common Pleas of that County, in which he sought to restrain the Second National Bank from disclosing to your Committee his bank accounts, records and transactions in that bank; the second was instituted in the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County, Pennsylvania.

The Fayette County Court issued a preliminary injunction restraining the bank from making a disclosure of Commissioner Shelby's accounts: this injunction was issued without notice to your Committee or its counsel. Your Committee thereupon promptly presented its petition to the Fayette County Court, requesting that the members of the Committee be added as parties defendants in order that the Committee could defend its right to compel a disclosure of Commissioner Shelby's bank and business transactions with the Second National Bank of Uniontown, Pennsylvania. The members of the Committee were permitted to intervene and a preliminary hearing was held, at which the Committee appeared, by counsel, testimony was taken, both on behalf of Commissioner Shelby and on behalf of the Committee, and the case was argued; pending a decision, the preliminary injunction was formally continued. Briefs have been filed with the Court but no adjudication of the Committee's powers has yet been made.

In the Dauphin County injunction proceeding Commissioner Shelby made the members of your Committee parties defendant, and secured a preliminary injunction restraining your Committee from enforcing its subpoena, which required him to produce his records of banking and business transactions. This preliminary injunction has been formally continued, without a hearing, because a decision in that case will to some extent determine the rights and powers of your Committee to issue such a subpoena.

Taxpayer's Injunction

Moreover, Ira Jewell Williams, Esquire, counsel for James S. Benn, who had communicated with your Committee in such capacity, filed an injunction proceeding in the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County as a taxpayer, in which he contended that the Senate Resolution creating your Committee was unconstitutional and void.

Also he contended that the adjournment of the General Assembly terminated your Committee, and that the Appropriation Bill under which your Committee has worked was unconstitutional in that it was not within the Governor's proclamation calling the Special Session of the legislature. A preliminary injunction was granted in the Williams' case, restraining the members of the Committee and also Charles A. Waters, Auditor General, and Edward Martin, Treasurer of Pennsylvania, from drawing any warrants for the payment of any expenses of your Committee. Immediately upon learning of this preliminary injunction your Committee directed its counsel to take an appeal to the Supreme Court and request that Court, by petition, to fix an early date for argument. This was done but the Supreme Court refused to grant an early hearing at that time. Thereupon, the Attorney General, on behalf of the fiscal officers of the Commonwealth, appeared in the Dauphin County Court and counsel for your Committee appeared for it. A stipulation of facts was agreed upon, and formal answers were filed, so that the matter came before the Court for final hearing on December 13, 1932. After the presentation of the facts, oral arguments were made, briefs were filed and the preliminary injunction was continued by the Court, pending final decision.

Your Committee has in its files answers by other sitting Public Service Commissioners to the questionnaires addressed to them, and answers of former members of the Commission to like questionnaires. Your Committee, if continued, intends to complete its investigation of the conduct of all present and past living members of the Public Service Commission as soon as it is possible so to do. This investigation will ascertain the facts as to the banking and business transactions of these past and present Commissioners, which facts will reveal whether any of them had improper relations with any utility.

Injunction by Mr. Benn's Son-in-Law

In addition to the suits already mentioned, Mr. Walter L. Morgan, Benn's son-in-law, and his wife, brought an injunction proceeding in the Court of Common Pleas, of Dauphin County against the members of your Committee, seeking to restrain them from enforcing, under subpoena, the production of the bank accounts and brokerage records of business transactions of Walter L. Morgan and his wife, which had been subpoenaed by your Committee for the purpose of ascertaining the relation of James S. Benn to these transactions. This information was especially desired by your committee, because of the testimony of Walter L. Morgan hereinbefore referred to, that there were large cash transactions between him and James S. Benn, which cash transactions totalled over fifty thousand dollars. The Dauphin County Court granted a preliminary injunction restraining your Committee from enforcing this subpoena, and continued the preliminary injunction without a hearing, because of the contemplated decision in the Shelby proceeding in Fayette County and the pendency of the Williams' suit in the Dauphin County Court.

As soon as the right of your Committee to issue a subpoena of this character is adjudicated your Committee, if continued, intends to complete its investigation as to the conduct of James S. Benn while he was a member of the Public Service Commission.

Injunction of the Subsidiaries of Associated Gas and Electric Company -

A proceeding was brought by the subsidiaries of the Associated Gas and Electric Company to restrain the members of your Committee from enforcing the subpoena issued for the purpose of compelling the production of certain records, documents, papers and securities of the subsidiary companies, which your Committee desired to examine in order to ascertain the extent of large stock transactions carried on by the subsidiary companies at the direction or command of the Associated Gas and Electric System. Here again a preliminary injunction was granted and has restrained your Committee from enforcing the subpoena. It has been continued pending the determination of the Williams' case and the Shelby injunction proceeding in Fayette County.

Scope of Investigation

The short time which has elapsed between the appointment of your Committee and the requirement of the Senate Resolution that your Committee render a report to your Honorable Body at the current session of the legislature rendered it impossible for your Committee to investigate the entire utility field. For this reason, and for the further reason that public complaints involve primarily the electric utility systems, your Committee determined first to study their operations, the influence of holding companies upon their operations, the relation of the holding companies to the operating companies, and the consequences to the public of such operations and relations. The examination by your Committee reveals that practically all operating electric and power utilities in Pennsylvania are dominated by a few large holding company systems.

Holding Companies and Their Subsidiaries Operating in Pennsylvania

The Bureau of Engineering of the Public Service Commission, at the request of counsel, furnished a list of the various holding companies and their subsidiaries operating in Pennsylvania in the electric and power fields. This list shows that the chief holding companies and subsidiary companies are:

Holding Companies and Their Subsidiaries

1. American Gas & Elec. Co. Moscow Electric Co.
Scranton Electric Co.

and West Penn Power Co.

Luzerne County Gas & Elec. Co.

Southern Penna. Power Co.

*Advice from the Secretary of the Commonwealth's office dated February 18, 1931, to the Public Service Commission, showed that the Northern Penna. Power Co. was sold to Sullivan County Electric Co., and by further advice received February 23rd, the name of Sullivan County Electric Co., was changed to the Northern Pennsylvania Power Company.

Philadelphia Company

The foregoing data shows that the Byllesby System, operating through the Standard Power and Light Corporation, indirectly controls the Duquesne Light Company of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, through the medium of the Philadelphia Company, which latter company may be termed a "sub-holding company." Your Committee therefore proceeded to study the Philadelphia Company and its subsidiaries, to wit:

The Duquesne Light Company
The Equitable Gas Company
The Allegheny County Steam Heating Co. and
The Pittsburgh Railways Company.

The officers of the Philadelphia Company and its subsidiary companies were called before the Committee and testified, bringing with them copies of their books, contracts and records.

Their testimony reveals that the Duquesne Light Company, despite the ruling of the Public Service Commission that a seven per centum return was reasonable, has, for years, charged sufficiently high rates to enable it to earn and pay dividends, since 1923, of about fourteen per centum annually. This was despite the fact that, in 1927, the property of the Duquesne Light Company was reappraised and its book value written-up a total of over twenty-four million dollars against which there was written a reserve of about nine million dollars, making the net write-up over fourteen million dollars. This re-appraisal was made after the Byllesby interests became the dominating factor in the subsidiaries of the Philadelphia Company and after the Byllesby interests assumed, in part at least, managerial supervision of these subsidiaries.

The domination resulted in managerial contracts being made by the subsidiary companies of the Philadelphia Company with the Byllesby Engineering and Managing Corporation, as a result of which contracts the subsidiaries have paid out, management and engineering supervision fees, running into millions of dollars, to the affiliated interest. The fees paid to the Byllesby Engineering and Managing Corporation were paid under contracts which required the subsidiary companies to pay for management at the rate of two per centum of the gross revenue, excluding intercorporate transactions.

Your Committee does not question the right of a utility to place on its books the real value of its property, but the testimony before your Committee showed that in such appraisals there were included "intangibles," so-called. An intangible of special interest is "going concern value," which, as claimed by the Duquesne Light Company in its annual report, approximated ten million dollars.

Counsel for Utilities contend that management contracts and the fees paid thereunder are beyond the jurisdiction or control of the Public Service Commission under the present law. The abuses disclosed in the testimony before your Committee demonstrate the urgent need for corrective legislation.

The Insull System; Middle West Utilities Company

The second holding company system studied by your Committee was the so-called Insull System. The Middle West Utilities Company, a holding company of the Insull Group, along with other sub-holding companies, controls the Penn Central Light and Power Company, through the medium of the National Electric Power Company. The Penn Central Light and Power Company operates in the Altoona area. The organization and operation of the Penn Central Light and Power Company were studied.

Its former Comptroller, who is the present Treasurer, testified. The testimony revealed that the Penn Central Light and Power Company and subsidiary companies are dominated and controlled by officers of the National Electric Power Company in New York City. The evidence further disclosed that large sums of money belonging to the Penn Central Light and Power Company were loaned on open account to the parent holding company, to such an extent that it frequently became necessary, prior to the maturity of bond interest, for the Penn Central Light and Power Company to reacquire these funds in part from its parent holding company in order to enable it to pay the bond interest when due. The amount of these loans appeared to have been dictated by the officers of the parent holding company in New York City.

In some instances the local boards of directors passed upon these loans long after such loans were made. A pertinent example of the manipulation of these intercorporate loans by the parent holding company is revealed in the testimony of the officers of the Penn Central Light and Power Company, wherein it was shown that the said Penn Central Light and Power Company, gave up the right to collect certain moneys from the National Electric Power Company and accepted in lieu thereof the promise of an affiliated company, with the result that it finally accepted the obligation of a street railway company in an amount of over a million dollars. This street railway company was placed in the hands of a receiver a few months thereafter. Although the officers and directors testified that they deemed these transactions prudent, it was quite plain to your Committee that the transactions were dictated by the officers and directors of the parent holding or sub-holding companies doing business in New York or elsewhere. These transactions were arranged in New York City and communicated to the directors of the Penn Central Light and Power Company either in New York City or by telephone. The directors of the Penn Central Light and Power Company, who owned perhaps only one share of stock, admitted that they had no alternative but to confirm the arrangement which had been made in New York City. This testimony disclosed the fact that the directors of the Penn Central Light and Power Company, except as to operating and purchasing policies, were not directors but simply the agents of the parent holding company.

This testimony, with other testimony, convinced your Committee that remedial legislation increasing the power and jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission over operating utility companies and that additional legislation requiring the operating companies to disclose the real owners of its stock, and their respective interests, is absolutely necessary.

The annual reports, filed by the Penn Central Light and Power Company with the Public Service Commission, which reports your Committee has studied showed a write-up in the case of the Penn Central Light and Power Company of over nine million dollars. This write-up resulted from a re-appraisal in which we again find so-called intangibles. Despite the capital write-up the Penn Central Light and Power Company earned a return of approximately thirty per centum in 1930, on the stated book value of its capital stock, according to the testimony of the treasurer of the company. Nevertheless, due to the impoverishment of the treasury of the Penn Central Light and Power Company, resulting from the domination and control of the parent, National Electric Power Company, or its officers or agents, the Penn Central Light and Power Company was compelled to write-down the book value of its common capital stock, thereby reducing its book liabilities to that extent. If the treasuries or properties of the company are depleted by such practices it is bound to be reflected in the rates charged to the public or in the service rendered to the same.

The Associated Gas and Electric System

The next holding system studied was the Associated Gas and Electric Company. This system was studied in its entirety. This company controls more than two hundred and fifty operating utilities throughout the United States. In Pennsylvania it controls the Erie Light Company, the Metropolitan Edison Company and the Pennsylvania Electric Company.

Mr. Charles Nodder, a Consulting Economist for the Federal Trade Commission, has studied this system for more than three years. In his study he has had at his disposal, from time to time, a large force of accountants and examiners. Mr. Nodder was granted a leave of absence by the Federal Trade Commission at the request of your Committee for the purpose of testifying before the Senate Committee.

Mr. Nodder's testimony covered the capital structure of the entire system, the banking and financial policies of the holding and sub-holding companies, the operating plan, the numerous inter-company transactions and the organization of the entire system with particular reference to the services rendered by the management companies. His testimony revealed that with an original investment of about $300,000.00, Messrs. J. I. Mange and H. C. Hopson, about 1922, secured control of this system which now has assets of over nine hundred million dollars. This is not to infer that these two men now own assets of over nine hundred million dollars, but it does show that by their method of operation and the rates of return, and by the sale of securities to the public, these two men are in control of this huge system.

This control has been built up through the sale of preferred stock and other securities, whereas Messrs. Mange and Hopson have acquired a majority control of the voting Common stock. By this arrangement they have been able to obtain control of these properties and moneys even though their original investment was a small one.

Furthermore, Mr. Nodder testified that his examination showed that the officials of an operating subsidiary in this system are merely dummy officials in that the officials of these operating companies have been controlled directly by Messrs. Mange and Hopson. For example, his testimony revealed that the Pennsylvania Electric Company which operates in the Johnstown area has held the meetings of its Board of Directors and its Executive Committee in New York City; that the original minute-book of the corporation was kept in New York City; that the securities of the Pennsylvania Electric Company were largely retained in New York City; and in general that the financial policy was dictated from the offices of the Associated Gas and Electric System at No. 61 Wall Street. Furthermore, the information of one of the fiscal officers of this company was so limited that he exhibited no real knowledge of the extent to which securities were purchased by the operating company nor where they were kept.

The original minute-books of the Pennsylvania Electric Company, from 1929 to date were offered in evidence and impounded by the Committee. An examination of these books disclosed that they contained an alleged balance sheet of the Pennsylvania Electric Company as of March 31, 1932, showing total assets of $72,521,724.96. However, a certificate of notification filed with the Public Service Commission of Pennsylvania by the Pennsylvania Electric Company on March 31, 1932, in connection with a proposed bond issue of over four million dollars listed the total assets at $75,033,315.71. In other words in filing an official document concerning the proposed issue of bonds the company claimed their assets to be two million dollars in excess of the assets as stated on the balance sheet in their own minute-book. This discrepancy was made known to the Committee in open session but no explanation of it has ever been proffered by anyone on behalf of the company.

Your Committee was prevented from going into the matter further by virtue of the injunction proceeding brought by subsidiaries of the Associated Gas and Electric Company, restraining your Committee from enforcing its subpoena to produce the books, records and securities of certain companies. In addition the records disclose that the operating companies in Pennsylvania did not retain in their own accounts for any period of time the cash paid to them by the rate-payers but deposited these moneys in such a way that they became the property of the Associated Gas and Electric System, in order that they might be used throughout the system wherever it was deemed necessary by the officials of the parent organization.

Accordingly to Mr. Nodder, the Associated System had a complete plan for servicing and managing the operating companies; this plan included operating, management, engineering construction and supervision, purchasing services, appliance sales and general overhead supervision. The system dominated the operating companies to the extent that they were required to enter into such servicing and managing contracts as the parent company might dictate. In some instances, the system set up a servicing or managing corporation or acquired control of such a corporation.

Where it organized the corporation the supposed right of this servicing corporation to service or manage the operating company was capitalized and set up on the books of the servicing or management corporation as an asset, sometimes, in amounts running into millions of dollars. Where the servicing corporation was an independent concern it might ultimately be required or purchased by the parent company.

In many instances the servicing fee was two and one-half per centum of the gross revenue and where construction was involved seven and one-half per centum for engineering supervision. Sometimes the operating companies were required to pay fees where no services whatever were rendered by the supposed management corporation. For a period of time, where the fees were paid to a servicing corporation, the expenses of the services were charged back to the operating companies and pro rated among them, so that in addition to the fees paid by the operating companies, they actually paid the expense of rendering this service.

Mr. Nodder detailed the extent to which operating companies in Pennsylvania, which are a part of this system, were compelled to pay fees of this character, and also gave illustrations of the cost of such servicing, so that it could be determined whether the charges were reasonable, and it was found that in some instances they were absolutely unreasonable.

Mr. Nodder related the merchandising and purchasing policies of the system, which consisted of a purchasing corporation which functioned for the operating companies under contracts, permitting it so to do, and requiring the operating companies to pay therefor a fixed percentage of the purchase price. The purchasing corporation retained the profits of these operations. For a portion of the time, a merchandising company, acting as a purchasing corporation, kept the profits and charged back to the operating company the expense of its operations.

The domination of the operating companies by the holding companies or system was complete, and as above indicated, was unfair and detrimental to the operating companies.

Uncompleted Investigations

Your Committee, through its counsel, accountants and investigators contemplated the offering of further testimony.

First, as to the Pennsylvania Power and Light Company, which, through the National Power and Light Company, is a part of the Electric Bond and Share system. Accountants and counsel for the Committee made a preliminary investigation of the minute books and accounts of the Pennsylvania Power and Light Company at Allentown, Pennsylvania, and had it not been for the injunction proceedings would have completed the investigation of this system, insofar as it relates to certain operating companies in Pennsylvania, as well as to the holding, sub-holding and management companies, thereof.

Second, as to the West Penn Power Company, the West Penn Electric Company and the South Penn Power Company, which are a part of the American Water Works and Electric Company system, counsel, and accountants acting under their direction, had also made a preliminary study which likewise would have been completed had it not been for the injunction which intervened and restrained further action.

This investigation will be continued and a report thereof submitted to your Honorable Body in the event that the Committee is continued and its powers upheld by the Courts.

Recapitulation

It will be seen that five great systems were studied, testimony offered as to one system in its entirety, and testimony offered as to two other systems insofar as some of the Pennsylvania operating companies are concerned, together with their relation to the parent or holding companies.

The evidence before your Committee concerning the activities of the holding company systems in the management of the operating units and their relation thereto reveal certain abuses which merit correction at the hands of the General Assembly.

1. The evidence reveals that control of the operating company has been secured by the ownership of a controlling interest of the common stock, which ownership, in many instances, constitutes but a small portion of the securities outstanding, with the result that the preferred security-holders and bond owners are without any control as to the practices of the parent and subsidiary companies, and the fees which are exacted, etc.

2. The testimony reveals considerable extraction of moneys from local units through so-called management and servicing contracts. The management and servicing companies usually are an integral part of the holding company system, with the result that these contracts between the operating company and the management or servicing company are made by companies under common control. Thus, there is an absence of any dealing at arms' length. Furthermore, the majority of such contracts are placed upon an annual gross revenue basis. Consequently the services rendered under the contract may or may not bear a definite relation to actual value of the services rendered to the operating unit.

Inasmuch as the moneys paid to the management company for fees under these contracts are passed along to the parent company, this practice imposes expenses which enter into the operating accounts of the local utility, over which the Public Service Commission has only limited jurisdiction.

3. There exists in virtually every instance, contracts between the local company and a unit of the holding company system providing for operating services. This has meant that the operation of the local company has been removed from the local Boards of Directors and local officials, and in fact, if not in name, entrusted to the representatives of the holding company. This has resulted in actual operation of local utilities by the representatives of holding companies, many of which are foreign corporations and has wrested the control from the local officials, and thereby virtually removed them from the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission.

4. Another practice of which your Honorable Body should be informed consists in intercorporate loans and advances on open accounts. As heretofore related, the record discloses that the local officials have obeyed and necessarily must obey the direction of the parent companies as regards such loans. In some instances the loans have been between the local companies under common control and in other instances have been between the local companies and the holding companies.

Even though the Public Service Companies are required to maintain adequate facilities and render adequate service, and even though the rates supposedly are based upon the present fair value of the property, nevertheless the testimony before your Committee reveals that the Public Service Commission has fixed a valuation for the property of utilities in only a small percentage of instances. By and large the Public Service Commission has not ascertained the present fair value of property used in rendering service to the public by the majority of the public service companies operating in this State. In the majority of the instances the Commission has arrived at a rate by round table and engineering conferences; this necessarily has been done because of the limited facilities now at the disposal of the Commission. The record further reveals that in these round table conferences in fixing a rate, the Commission accepts the valuation of the property as fixed by the company, making a high spot valuation whenever it is deemed necessary. Here again this is occasioned by the inadequate staff of the Commission. Under such a process write-ups in capital assets necessarily are reflected in the rates charged by the operating companies.

Furthermore, since the operating companies are dominated by holding and sub-holding companies, which dictate the financial policies of the operating companies, and which exact unnecessary and exorbitant charges from the operating companies under managerial, supervisory construction, and financing contracts, these also are reflected in the rates charged the public when the book value and operating costs of the companies are accepted by the Public Service Commission as the basis of rate discussions. It appears that the majority of these abuses arise from the absence of any dealing at arms' length between the operating companies and servicing organizations; both usually are under common control, which profits both from the operating company and the servicing organization.

The testimony further reveals that the revenues of the local companies in many instances have gone into the coffers of the holding company, and are not retained by the operating company. Such revenues have been accepted by the holding and sub-holding companies and simply applied against moneys loaned to the operating companies on open account, or simply carried as credits due the local companies. The evidence reveals that such practices have been and are subject to abuse, and makes it imperative that remedial legislation be enacted at an early date.

Recommendations

On account of the delay occasioned by the numerous injunction proceedings hereinbefore referred to, your Committee and its legal staff turned their attention to the consideration of remedial legislation. Serious consideration was given to the abuses brought out in the testimony before your Committee, which have already been referred to, and to other defects in the present law which have been brought to the attention of your Committee and the legal staff.

As a result of this consideration, we submit the following suggestion to your Honorable body, with the recommendation that legislation be enacted:

1. To eliminate the evils and abuses incident to the public utility holding company system. The nature of such legislation has been indicated at various places in this report.
2. To prevent the over-capitalization of public service companies, and to further control their issuances of securities.
3. To repeal Section four of the Securities Act of 1927.

4. To require public service companies to maintain adequate depreciation reserves, and to entrust the enforcement of this duty to the Public Service Commission.

5. To regulate the sale of appliances and equipment by public service companies.

6. To require that increases in rates shall not be made by public service companies until the Public Service Commission has had an opportunity to pass upon the reasonableness thereof.

7. To relieve complainants of undue burdens in cases before the Public Service Commission, and on appeal to the courts, by providing legal and engineering assistance.

8. To require that each member of the Public Service Commission shall devote his entire time to the duties of office, and to provide that proceedings before the Commission shall be disposed of promptly.

9. To eliminate the payment of charges for service in advance in certain instances.

10. To eliminate the imposition of excessive penalties, ready-to-serve and rental charges on the part of certain types of utilities.

11. To regulate the charges made by telephone companies for the use of hand instruments.

A thorough study of the testimony given before the Committee will, we believe, justify our conclusions and demonstrate that certain legislation offered at the last Regular Session of the Legislature would have facilitated the proper functioning of the Public Service Commission and would have prevented certain abuses which have redounded to the detriment of the rate-payers and the public in general. Drafts of legislation have been prepared to correct the existing abuses and remedy the defects in the existing law and these will be presented to your Honorable body for your earnest consideration.

Respectfully submitted,

WM. H. EARNEST,
SAMUEL W. SALUS,
JAMES J. COYNE,

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, January 3, 1933

The hour of twelve o'clock having arrived, Honorable Eugene F. White, Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives, called the members-elect to order and announced, that

This being the day fixed by the Constitution for the meeting of the General Assembly, and a number of ladies and gentlemen elected members of the House of Representatives sufficient to constitute a quorum being present, the body will come to order.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. O. B. Poulson, offered the following prayer:

Our God and Father we praise Thee for the privileges of this hour. In Thy Providence Thou hast permitted us to assemble here for the opening of this General Assembly. We bless Thy name for goodness and mercy that have followed us all the days of our lives.

In the face of heavy responsibilities, we confess our need of Thy divine wisdom and direction. May Thy blessings rest upon him who has been chosen to direct the affairs of this House. Give to him strength and wisdom, and patience, to perform his duties as in Thy sight. Bless each Member and officer here assembled before Thee. As we face the tremendous tasks confronting this General Assembly may we again hear Thy promise "My grace is sufficient for Thee."

As Thou dost look down upon this great Commonwealth and Nation we believe Thou dost want all Thy children to be happy and cheerful. Yet all about us we find discouragement and cheerlessness. In the midst of a land of full and plenty, Thou dost behold our want and misery. In a world where there is so much to be done, O our God we pray Thee to pity those who can find nothing to do.

We would each give ourselves in consecration to the task Thy Providence has appointed that we should perform. May we all so labor as to win Thy approval; workmen who need not to be ashamed.

Bless all who are charged with responsibility of government, both in this State and in the Nation. And may the peace of God rule in all our hearts. Amen.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO ESCORT HON. FRANK B. WICKERSHAM TO ROSTRUM

The Chief Clerk appointed Messrs. Rice and Shreiner to escort the Hon. Frank B. Wickersham to the rostrum to administer the oath of office to the members-elect.

OATH OF OFFICE ADMINISTERED TO MEMBERS-ELECT

The CHIEF CLERK. The members-elect will present themselves before the bar of the House where the oath of office, as required by law, will be administered to them by the Honorable Frank B. Wickersham, a Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County.

The oath of office was then administered to all the members-elect, except Mr. Wheeler.

ELECTION OF SPEAKER

Mr. HUTTON offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, January 3, 1933.

Resolved, That in accordance with the provision of Article II, Section 9, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, the House now proceed to the election of a Speaker, and that the Clerks act as tellers.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chief Clerk and members of the House, several months ago we celebrated in this State the two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the landing upon the shores of this Commonwealth of that great founder of government, William Penn. He landed at a point where now is located the city of Chester in the County of Delaware.

Since the landing of William Penn there have been two hundred and twenty-four sessions of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania. Since the Constitution of 1776 there have been one hundred and thirty sessions of the Legislature under one Constitution or another. For the past seventy years the direction and control of legislative affairs in this Commonwealth have been in the hands of the Republican Party. During that two hundred and fifty years this Commonwealth, founded by that hardy band who wrested this great land from the forests; and who builded here the homes, the farms, the industries and the businesses of our people, we have grown into a great empire. In the seventy years that have transpired since the birth of the Republican Party, we have gone forward by leaps and bounds. We have developed our natural resources; we have increased our business and our industries. Certainly for these accomplishments some credit is due to this party of ours, that in seventy years has builded and constructed so well.

It therefore, seems fitting this morning, that when meeting, perhaps in the most momentous session of the Legislature of Pennsylvania, within that seventy year period; and when meeting here to decide some of the most important questions that have confronted the people of Pennsylvania for many a year, the citizens have again sent to these Legislative Halls a clear majority of Republican Members to represent them; that under these circumstances and conditions, we offer for the important post of Speaker, a stalwart Republican, who will direct the affairs and the deliberations of this body during the next few months.

We are not offering him in a partisan spirit; we are not offering him as a partisan candidate, we are offering him to you because we know that in the ranks of our party he has trod the path upward from a humble beginning in his local community. He was honored in that community by having been made a member of council and later Burgess of his town. We are offering him to you because we know that he knows the principles of party government. We are offering him because in these Legislative Halls he has won his own spurs. We are offering him because here upon this floor he has brought forth some of the most constructive legislation that this Commonwealth has ever known. We are offering him because he is trained in the affairs and the business of this body. We are offering him because we know that he is efficient. We are offering him because we know that he will work. My colleagues and myself from that little county of Delaware, offer him with pride for the service of the Commonwealth and for the service of her people.

Down in the little town of Chester there stands an old building of stone. It is the oldest public building in point of continuous service in the United States of America. It has seen almost the entire history of this great Commonwealth. It was erected in 1724, and at one time the Legislature of Pennsylvania met there.

It therefore seems proper to note as we pass this two hundred and fiftieth anniversary that the first Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania after the landing of Penn was held in Chester, that one of the early speakers of the House should have been John Morton, a Delaware County boy. He was elected to the Continental Congress, he presided over the Assembly of Pennsylvania as its Speaker, and I am sure that the traditions of that old building, and the traditions of this great Commonwealth of ours will not suffer in the hands of our colleague whom we desire to offer to you today.

It is with the greatest feeling of personal pleasure, and I am sure with the same feeling on the part of those members of the House who have served with him, of the people of this Commonwealth who have recognized his merit and ability, that we now offer him for a higher service. I therefore place in nomination the name of Grover C. Talbot of Delaware County.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Chief Clerk and members of the House I rise to second the nomination of the gentleman from Delaware for whom I have the highest respect, and in voicing my sentiments, I also voice verbal expressions and sentiments of the Republican delegation from the County of Allegheny. May I say to my fellow Democrats in this House that if he is elected Speaker, in the closing hours of this session they will express their appreciation of his fairness, as will also the Republican membership of the House.

Nobody knows better than I the sincere work that Mr. Talbot has performed in previous sessions, especially in the Extraordinary Session of 1931, and the Extraordinary Session of 1932. He and the committee, of which I was a member, worked diligently. Labor meant nothing to Grover Talbot, whether it was upon a Sunday or any other day of the week. He is the possessor of one of God's great gifts, a temperament that will qualify him for the Speakership of this House.

Therefore, ladies and gentlemen, it is with pleasure and pride on my part that I second the nomination of Grover C. Talbot of Delaware County.

Mr. HART. Mr. Chief Clerk, ladies and gentlemen of the House, it is an unusual honor to second the nomination of Grover Cleveland Talbot for Speaker of this House, and it is something of which I feel very, very proud.

Those of us who have served in this House a long period of years are thoroughly familiar with the outstanding characteristics of Grover Talbot, and to those new members who have come into this House it may not be out of order to call their attention to the fact that Grover Talbot represents not alone the great Republican Party of Pennsylvania, but he represents also all of that wonderful army of humanity, that has been dependent for the last two years upon contributions from the State of Pennsylvania. Those people are not here today to voice their sentiments and to express their approval or their thanks to Grover Talbot, and it therefore becomes almost the mandatory duty of every member of this House, whether he be Republican, Democrat or Socialist, to yield to the will of the people of Pennsylvania to see that Grover Talbot is triumphantly elected Speaker of this House.

I, therefore, second the nomination of Grover Cleveland Talbot for Speaker of this House.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Chief Clerk, ladies and gentlemen of the House, it is fitting and proper that the representatives of this House in placing the nomination a Speaker, should start with Mr. Talbot's colleague, the gentlemen from Delaware, who so feelingly presented the name of his colleague to the House of Representatives.

I was very much struck in the caucus of last night and it is not improper for me to say it here with the unanimity with which the Republican caucus evidenced their approval and assent to the election of Mr. Talbot as the Speaker of this House.

We who have seen him, who have worked with him, who have watched him on the floor, know his qualifications for this office, and I have great pleasure in seconding his nomination. He comes from the farthest county from my county in the State of Pennsylvania, and I want to assure him and the members of the House that he has the unanimous approval of the whole State of Pennsylvania, extending from Delaware on the east to Erie on the west.

I think Pennsylvania has every reason to be proud of the men elected to the office to which we are to elect Mr. Talbot today. We have been singularly blessed since I have been a member of this House with fine speakers. Tom Bluett, Aaron Hess, and Jay Goodnough were Speakers of whom any State might well be proud, and we are now presenting a man to the membership of this House as our choice for Speaker whom we feel and know will make a worthy successor, a man who will fill the office as these men have filled it, who will rise to the high traditions demanded by the office.

I feel sure from what I know of Mr. Talbot, having come to the House with him, having served with him and having known him intimately during all that time, that he will prove an officer who will get the work done, who will see that the business of the House moves with dispatch, and at the same time who will treat the members and those who have business before the House with courtesy, good manners, consideration, and fairness. I feel sure that the representatives of this House, when the session is over, when we have finished our tasks, which look so big today, will say of our Speaker in the words that the Chaplain used this morning in his prayer, "That he is a workman who needeth not be ashamed."

It gives me great pleasure, Mr. Chairman to second the nomination of Mr. Grover C. Talbot as Speaker of this House.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Chief Clerk, ladies and gentlemen of this House, I deem it a great privilege and pleasure to present to this House the unanimous choice of the Democratic members in Caucus assembled last evening. The Democrats assembled to select their candidate for the Speakership, and conferred that Honor upon a man who has served in this House since 1915; a man who is able, fair and just, and who will, if elected, give the best service that it is possible to be given to this House. All that has been said of our friend, Mr. Talbot of Delaware, can well be said of the candidate that I am going to name, with one exception—he is not a good Republican, that is shown by his work, and is shown by the esteem that the voters of Pennsylvania had for him last fall when they gave more than 1,137,000 of their votes for him. We believe the people of Pennsylvania, the Republicans of Pennsylvania, started a very good work last summer when they determined in large numbers to vote for a Democratic candidate, and we certainly invite the Republicans of this House to continue that good work in voting for our candidate. The man whom I am about to name has been very active on this floor, he has the esteem of everyone in his county, having been re-elected time after time, and he has the training to do the work. I, therefore, take great pleasure in presenting as the unanimous choice of the Democratic Party, as the Democratic candidate for Speaker of this House, the Honorable Wilson G. Sarig, of Berks County.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Chief Clerk and members of the House, the Democrats have presented to you a stalwart Democrat as their candidate for Speaker. He exemplifies those doctrines and those principles which were so overwhelmingly approved by the people of the United States on November 8. It, therefore, gives me great pleasure to second the nomination of Wilson G. Sarig, an experienced legislator of sixteen years.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Chief Clerk and members of the House, I arise to present the selection of the Independent Citizens Party for Speaker. I presume the shrubbery, Mr. Chairman, is in memory of the absent brothers.

I am commanded by the caucus of the Independent Citizens Party to present as its selection for Speaker the one man in this Assembly who by reason of his qualities, his knowledge of parliamentary law, his knowledge of the affairs of this Commonwealth is preeminently qualified to serve as the presiding officer of this House.

My party caucussed and I entered the party caucus with reluctance. I wanted to be the candidate of my party for Speaker, but my caucus over-ruled me. It said that the man that my party should present should be presented without any thought of personal consideration, party lines or factional differences, and my party caucus, Mr. Chairman, instructed me to direct my arguments to the two constituencies in this House: First, to the astounded Democrats, and second, to the bewildered and hesitating Pinchotites, because in those two constituencies, Mr. Chairman, there are sufficient votes to organize this House.

I am conscious that one must have patience to talk reason to Democrats, and one must have faith to expect the Pinchotites will be politically logical. I said astounded Democrats, and so they are, because they were—

The CHIEF CLERK. Is the gentleman making a political speech?

Mr. ANDREWS. I am trying in my own feeble way, Mr. Chairman, to present arguments which I believe to be basic in the selection of my candidate, and if the House will bear with me, if I have your permission to proceed?

The CHIEF CLERK. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. ANDREWS. And very briefly. I will not take your time. I say that these Democrats were astounded, because a great many of them did not expect to be here. They were actually running for post offices, and they let their names be used to fill up the ticket, and now they are going through the traditional motions of nominating a Speaker.

Now I have every affection for the gentleman from Berks, but I do not think he expects to be elected Speaker. The object in nominating a Speaker is to elect him, and the object of electing a Speaker is to organize the House, and the object of organizing the House is to determine the policy and get the jobs. The Democrats will find that there are not enough post offices to go around.

Mr. Chairman, one brief word to my friends the Pinchotites who find themselves unwillingly in an alliance that they do not know how to get rid of. A lot of them did not want to enter the caucus—they were afraid of it—they knew what would happen to them if they did enter the caucus and they are bound in this caucus union and they don't know how to get away.

With real logic I submit a compromise, and all good politics is a compromise. If this House wants a Speaker who will never use the power of the Chair to coerce the will of the House, the Citizens Independent Party can name such a man. If they want a Speaker who knows parliamentary law as well as any man in this Hall, the Citizens Independent Party can name such a man, and if they want a man who can absolutely be trusted to compile the committees in conformity with the policy of the party, the Citizens Independent Party can name such a man, fair, able, honest, without a superior upon the floor, and without any in the Chair.

The Citizens Independent Party submits, without having spoken to the man, without having consulted him, but nevertheless prepared to deliver to him its entire strength, the gentleman from Philadelphia, the honorable Philip Sterling.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Chief Clerk, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The CHIEF CLERK. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. PHILIP STERLING. Mr. Chief Clerk, the nomination was not seconded. It is difficult for anyone to repudiate that fine speech of nomination. I have for the past eighteen years, with great pride and some responsibility, been a member of the Republican Party of this Commonwealth. I participated in the caucus of the Republican Party last evening, and I contributed my vote to the unanimous action of that caucus. If I had been called upon either to nominate or second the nomination of my colleague, Grover C. Talbot, of Delaware County, I would have uttered those sentiments that were uttered in his behalf. I ask, in voting for the Speakership this morning, that my name be not considered.

The CHIEF CLERK. The remarks of the gentleman under his question of personal privilege will be spread upon the record.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chief Clerk, I move that the nominations be closed.

The motion was agreed to.

THE SPEAKER (GROVER C. TALBOT) IN THE CHAIR

ADDRESS OF THE SPEAKER

My fellow Members of the House of Representatives:

Election to the Speakership in one of the historic bodies of American law-making is the highest office within your power to confer. I am deeply appreciative of the confidence you have manifested in me by permitting me to preside over the destinies of the 1933 session of the House of Representatives.

I approach this station with a spirit of humility, but having a firm faith in an all-wise Providence, I am confident He will direct the destinies of this Session.

I thank you from the bottom of my heart for this honor. I say this not only to those Members with whom I have been associated in previous Sessions, but to those meeting with us today for the first time.

Now that this body is duly organized as required by the Constitution, our first duty is to consider those things that will promote the peace, comfort and happiness of our ten millions of citizens. It is only by a contented citizenry that a representative form of government may be lasting.

We cease from now on to be Republicans, Democrats, Socialists and Independents—we are Pennsylvanians, here to labor for the common good of all. This body is particularly indicative of the will of our people. We are elected every two years and from districts designed to enable full expression of the thoughts of the particular communities from which we are elected.

This is a period wherein our form of government is meeting a test such as no Legislature has confronted in our generation.

Our first duty lies in each individual representing his or her particular district, and then those things that affect the entire population of our Commonwealth. Business conditions have reached a level where earnest and thoughtful consideration must be given to preserve the very life of our people. Health and comfort must be maintained.

During the last decade the average citizen took very little interest in government other than to make demands upon it. Through these times legislation was enacted creating various bureaus and enlarging the functions of the various departments which, as a natural sequence, caused increased taxation. Under the present existing conditions a demand has come from the people for retrenchment and the one thing that the average citizen is interested in today is the lowering of taxes.

We, as the representatives of the people, must approach this subject in a safe and sane manner and at all times keeping a level head. We must of necessity return to that period in our government when only the essentials were necessary. Since 1927 the cost of administrative government has increased by about one billion dollars. It is fair to assume that what has been added without apparent benefit can be subtracted without appreciable harm.

If wage earners are to prosper, business must prosper. If business is to prosper, taxes must come down. Therein lies the secret of the preservation of our government.

The age in which we are living presents a great responsibility to the 1933 Session of the Pennsylvania Legislature.

It must be our duty to safeguard and maintain the home and the family. It is our duty to see that the children of today, may approach their tasks of tomorrow when they arrive at manhood and womanhood, in such state that they may accept the responsibilities of government and continue those principles of government that we inherited from our forefathers. While we are striving for the welfare of our people and the protection of the man who has established his home, we must also take into consideration the question of our resources.

In preparing the child of today for the responsibility of tomorrow we must consider the mental preparation of that child. We must in this Session be very careful not to permit the pendulum to swing too far the other way. We must be guided by the leaders in education for the proper light.

Therefore, unless those charged with the preparation and execution of our educational program can find means of economizing, it is altogether likely that unskilled hands will operate on their budget, and perhaps with detriment to the school system. The future welfare of our public school system depends in no small measure on its ability to meet an economic crisis such as we are passing through today. It will profit the child little if he is provided with a maximum of book learning and then, when he leaves school to enter the responsibilities of life, finds no job awaiting him. We must be practical. We must have a balanced governmental program.

Economy must be our watch word. Every activity now demands economy. Overlapping, duplication and frills must be eliminated.

Our budget must be balanced, not by increasing taxes, but by lowering costs and expenditures. Real estate must be relieved of a part of its burden; the small home owner must have a chance; industry must be aided. We must eliminate all public construction unless absolutely necessary and we must make laws that will safeguard the financial institutions of the Commonwealth.

The responsibility is ours. Let us meet the problems before us fairly and squarely to the end that our people may profit.

NOTIFICATION FROM THE SENATE

Messrs. Parkinson, Ziesenheim and Sones a committee of the Senate, being introduced, informed the House that the Senate is duly organized and ready to proceed with business. They were extended the thanks of the House.

ADOPTION OF RULES

Mr. HUTTON offered a resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 3, 1933.

Resolved, That the rules of the last session of the House of Representatives be the rules of this House until otherwise ordered.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO RULES

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments to the rules.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend the Rules Resolution by adding to the last line thereof: "With the following amendments"

Rule 5, which reads:

"He (the Speaker) shall appoint the members of standing, select and conference committees, unless otherwise ordered by the House," is hereby amended to read as follows:

"He (the Speaker) shall appoint the members of select and conference committees unless otherwise ordered by the House."

Rule 27 which reads:

"The following standing committees shall be appointed at the beginning of each session until otherwise ordered:

"A Committee on Aeronautics, Agriculture, Appropriations, Banking, Boroughs and Townships, Building and Loan Associations, Cities, Congressional Apportionment, Constitutional Amendments, Corporations, Counties, Education, Election, Federal Relations, Fisheries, Forestry, Game, Geological Survey, Highways, Insurance, Judicial Apportionment, Judiciary General, Judiciary Local, Judiciary Special, Labor, Law and Order, Legislative Apportionment, Manufactures, Military Affairs, Mines and Mining, Municipal Corporations, Pensions and Gratuities, Printing, Public Health and Sanitation, Public Utilities, Railroads and Railways, Repeal Bills, Rules, State Government, Ways and Means.

"The Committee on Apportionment shall be appointed only at such times when apportionments are required to be made," is hereby amended to read as follows:

A committee composed of: Grover C. Talbot, Delaware; Philip Sterling, Philadelphia; Joseph G. Steedle, Allegheny; George W. Williams, Tioga; John C. Hermansen, Luzerne; Wilson G. Sarig, Berks; Chester H. Rhodes, Monroe; shall constitute a committee to be styled "The Committee on Committees" whose duty it shall be to recommend to the House the names of the members of the following standing committees together with the chairmen thereof:

A Committee on Aeronautics, Agriculture, Appropriations, Banking, Boroughs and Townships, Building and Loan Associations, Cities, Congressional Apportionment; Constitutional Amendments, Corporations, Counties, Education, Elections,

Federal Relations, Fisheries, Forestry, Game, Geological Survey, Highways, Insurance, Judicial Apportionment, Judiciary General, Judiciary Local, Judiciary Special, Labor, Law and Order, Legislative Apportionment, Manufactures, Military Affairs, Mines and Mining, Municipal Corporations, Pensions and Gratuities, Printing, Public Health and Sanitation, Public Utilities, Railroads and Highways, Repeal Bills, State Government, Ways and Means.

The Committees on Apportionment shall be appointed only at such times when apportionments are required to be made.

Rule 40, which reads: "That when a bill or resolution has been ten days in the hands of a committee after having been referred to it, any committee may be discharged from the further consideration of the bill or resolution by a majority vote of all the members elect," is hereby amended to read as follows: "That when a bill or resolution has been ten days in the hands of a committee after having been referred to it, any committee may be discharged from further consideration of the bill or resolution by a vote of sixty members."

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair will lay before the House first the amendments to Rules 5 and 27, both of which relate to the appointment of Standing Committees. We will then immediately proceed to the consideration of the amendments to Rule 40, which relates to the number of votes required to discharge committees from further consideration of bills.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments to Rules 5 and 27?

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the high spot of this resolution is the Committee on Committees. This is in line with the spirit of the resolution which was adopted by the Senate last night. The Senate last night adopted resolutions taking out of the hands of Senator Homsher the appointment of the State Committee. Now, the amendments which I have just introduced are along the same lines and in the same spirit. This does not mean any personal slap at the Speaker. I have the highest regard for the Speaker who has just been elected, and I do not want the members of this House to think for one moment that this resolution is a personal slap at the Speaker; it goes far deeper than that. They have, as I understand, a committee on Committees in many states of the Union, and the Federal Government at Washington likewise selects its committees in the same way.

Under this plan the minority party is permitted to make its own appointments and its own selections. This I think, is thoroughly Democratic in spirit, and is in accord with the spirit of the times as has been expressed last night. Only last night in speaking in the Senate, Senator Salus spoke as the champion of Democracy. I am quoting from the Pittsburgh Post. Senator Salus said, "The changed condition in the new view of Democracy demands those elected to office shall name the committee which would control the Senate." Now, if there is such a rampant spirit of Democracy across the Hall in the Senate, why should this House here talk about the old rules and the old times. The underlying principle in this is that the members of the House shall control their own organization.

Now, there is another change suggested in regard to the vote of sixty members being sufficient to discharge a committee from further consideration of a bill or resolution. That rule has been in effect here for a number of years. From 1913—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I understand we are now proceeding to a vote upon the amendments pertaining to the Committee on Committees, is that correct?

The SPEAKER. That is correct.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Berks is speaking on the other amendment concerning the discharge of committees.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Berks will confine his remarks to the amendment before the House.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, I merely want to say in conclusion that we think this plan is only fair. We believe that the elected representatives of the people should have the right by the selection of their own committee to name the committee members. This is thoroughly Democratic in spirit, and gives the members of this body a larger measure of power in the activities of this Legislature. I therefore hope these amendments will be adopted.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I arise at this time to oppose the amendments, or the particular amendment offered by my friend, the gentleman from Berks.

I have the very greatest respect for Mr. Sarig, in fact he is one of my very dear friends in this House, whom I recall in previous sessions, but in this particular matter we submit that this reasoning is wrong, and that it would not work for the benefit of this House by the appointment of such a committee and a disturbance of the method of selecting the standing committees as it heretofore existed. We are, today, as representatives of the people, participating in the organization of this 130th session of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth, under those grand Constitutions of 1776, 1790, 1838, and the present Constitution of 1873.

As we look around today we find the nation at large in the throes of economic and social ills, and as we view affairs in our own state we find that the same sad condition exists. In looking across the seas we find Europe is seething with sullen discontent and unrest. In Russia, Stalin has proclaimed the rule of the proletariat; in Italy Mussolini has repudiated representative government, and in Germany the sturdy old Von Hindenburg, distracted by the factional strife and wearied by its futility seems to be giving way to the monarchical party.

On this side of the Atlantic we cannot view such conditions with complacency. Representative and parliamentary forms of government are on trial, and they must justify themselves to the people they represent. The grave criticism of our parliamentary system, is its ineptness and inefficiency. These weaknesses must be met by decisive, prompt and efficient action and such can only be attained by the election, as we have at this session, of an able and determined presiding officer, as Speaker, and he must in turn be supported by competent committees appointed by himself and co-ordinating with him. Any other course inevitably produces discord and lack of proper responsibility and consequent inefficiency.

No parliamentary system can be successful without this coordination between a strong presiding officer and competent, efficient and virile committees working in accord with him.

I submit that in the deliberations and workings of this House of Representatives, it is much better, it is more in accord with efficiency and good management, to have the responsibility of the appointment of the standing committees imposed and reposed in the Speaker of the House.

Reference has been made to other states. I have found upon investigation that there are but two states in the Union that have the Committee on Committees, and they are the States of Nebraska and Oklahoma and we have had in recent years upon what has been considered in Pennsylvania as rather eminent authority, the statement that these particular states that I have just named are "backward states," so I don't suppose that we want to follow the precedent of those backward states.

The argument, members of the House, is reduced to a very small compass. As a large body we must have efficient government; that efficient government comes from efficient committees. The committees must feel their sense of responsibility and if they are appointed by the Speaker, not only will there be a responsibility on the part of our presiding officer, but there is likewise a keener sense of responsibility upon the part of the committees. The Committee on Committees, however eminent the personnel might be, would have a tendency to distribute and disseminate responsibility and I submit to this House that in the election of the eminent gentleman whom we have elected to preside over our deliberations, we should in conjunction therewith impose upon him the duty of selecting the standing committees of the House, and thus the House can then hold him and the committees directly responsible.

I ask you therefore, that these amendments be voted down.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Hutton.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Franklin, Mr. Hutton permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman take the position that the committees should reflect the will of the Speaker or the will of the House?

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, the Speaker is the mouthpiece of the House, and as we have had long-honored precedent there should be reposed in him the right of appointing the committees.

Mr. RHODES. Are the committees responsible to the Speaker, or are they responsible to the membership of the House.

Mr. HUTTON. The committees in my judgment, Mr. Speaker, are responsible primarily to the Speaker and ultimately to the House.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman take the position that it is more democratic for one man to have the entire power to appoint the committees and the chairmen, than it is to have seven representatives of this House to make those selections?

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, in reference to that, I would say that we in America have not a democratic form of government. We have a representative form of government, and under that representative form of government we impose certain duties upon our presiding officers, and we expect them to make good.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman take the position that it is representative for all those powers to be reposed in one individual?

Mr. HUTTON. I do, Mr. Speaker, in the same sense that in running the affairs of this state there must be a strong executive.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the gentleman from Franklin and I disagree on our theory of government. He has told you a few moments ago about the European powers and leaders repudiating representative government, and that it was necessary for us to get back to that particular form of government. I agree that it is necessary for us in America to get back to a more democratic, more representative form of government, and this is a move in that direction.

The gentleman has said that all of the responsibility in connection with the committees should be reposed in the Speaker. I have the utmost respect for the judgment and integrity of our Speaker, and this is no attack upon him personally. My opposition to this present move is merely one of principle and not one of individualism.

The dissemination of responsibility would not be affected if those committees were selected by seven representative men of this House. The gentleman from Franklin has taken the position that that kind of a method would result in the dissemination of the responsibility. The Committees are responsible, not to the Speaker but they are responsible to the membership of this House. The Speaker has no control over the committees, and he should have no control over the committees. He is the presiding officer of this House. His capacity is that of one who is judicial more than that of one who is executive. These committees should reflect the will and desire of this membership and they should be responsible to the membership, and they should not reflect the desire of one particular individual no matter who he is.

If this plan goes through, as has been stated, it is getting back to the more representative form of government. It permits us to have these committees and the personnel thereof more in accordance with the will and desire of the entire membership, and I think you will note that the personnel of this committee, as has been suggested, would not be one of partisanship. The minority leader of the Democrats has placed upon this committee no more than two Democrats. He has placed five Republicans upon it, because the Republican membership of this House is in the majority, and therefore the personnel of this committee should be such as to reflect the will and desire of the respective parties that are here today, and I disagree with the gentleman from Franklin in all of his premises and in all of his deductions therefrom, and I take the position that it is the logical position today in these critical times, that these committees should be composed of a membership that reflects the will and desire of the people of Pennsylvania, as indicated to the membership here, and I believe that those committees would be more representative, would be more democratic if it were done in the manner indicated than if we followed the ideas suggested by the gentleman from Franklin.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I desire to say just one word more.

As I see it, the problems which will confront us in this session of the House, require absolute efficiency. History has shown that in order to produce efficiency, you must have a strong presiding officer and that officer made responsible through the committee system.

One of the great historic weaknesses of the Congress that conducted the war of the revolution was that there was no strong central force, no strong presiding officer, with the result that everything was done simply by a committee system, and there was this very dissemination or distribution of responsibility which has been the damning feature of representative government. That is exactly the argument Mussolini presents against representative form of government. All our efficiency in the past has been due to a centralization and a fixing of the responsibility in the manner that I have indicated.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, may I again interrogate the gentleman from Franklin?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Franklin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Franklin take the position that efficiency is primarily the result of centralization of power?

Mr. HUTTON. Very largely, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, if that were carried to its logical conclusion, would the gentleman from Franklin say that we would have a more efficient government in the United States if we had a monarchy than if we continued with our Republican form of government?

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, not necessarily, no.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, shorn of all the arguments and all the words that have been placed around it by my friend from Monroe, this matter has boiled itself down to the point whether the membership of this House is willing, as the membership of this House has from time immemorial, imposed its confidence in the Speaker to appoint committees.

There is only one exception in our history to that proposition. I have sat in this House since 1925, and never during that time has the question been raised that the committees were not representative of the membership of this House. It seems to me that this situation is like that that existed one time in the courts in our county where a man was discharged by the jury or was found not guilty. The Judge called him to the bar and he said "You are found not guilty. You are discharged, but don't do it again." There is a taint of lack of confidence. If we are to go through this session every member of this House who has served before knows that the business of this House can be expedited only by that good will and that good feeling toward the Speaker, and that feeling of confidence in the Speaker must rest in his fairness, must rest in the minds of the members, and I think if this resolution were to be adopted here today it would strike the first blow at destroying our confidence in the Speaker. Certainly if we have all the confidence that our Democratic friends said we have in the fairness and in the ability of the Speaker, then we can entrust this question to him as other legislators have done, no matter what has the complexion of partisanship politics or the political aspects of the Speaker or those who surround him, and so I hope the members of the House will vote this amendment down.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I arise in opposition to these amendments for this reason: I am surprised that my Democratic friends should present such an un-Democratic principle. I am surprised that they should want to substitute a clique for true Democracy. If they had some proposition to offer whereby the membership of the House selected the committee, then they would be coming here with a Democratic proposition. Instead of that the Democrats say, "Let us select five Republicans and two Democrats to select the Committee of the House." I, for one, prefer to repose confidence in the Speaker of the House, selected by the membership of the House, and therefore ask you to vote down the amendment.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in response to the argument of the gentleman from Philadelphia Mr. Sowers, I merely wish to say that the plan proposed in this resolution is a very fair one. We have named three men who are regarded almost universally as organization Republicans. We have two men who are regarded universally in this House as independent Republicans; we have granted five men to the majority party. We have on this list only two who are Democrats. Now, when you think of the plan adopted last night in the Senate, where a similar plan was proposed, not a single Democrat was given recognition, although there are seven Democrats out of the fifty members in the Senate.

When you talk about fairness, and when the gentleman from Philadelphia talks about fairness, let us compare these two plans, let us see whether this plan is so bad when we give five out of the seven members to the majority party and accept but two for ourselves, because we would merely like to have the power to name our own members on these committees. Compare the Senate course, who early last night took the power from the presiding officer to name the Slate Committee in exactly the same way as the plan here proposes. They named the men, they didn't propose to elect them by the vote of the Senate, but they were proposed in exactly the same way that this plan is proposed, and yet under that plan they did not give any representation whatever to the minority party. Here we have given five of seven to the majority party, and we bring this here as a matter of fairness.

I should not have answered the arguments had not the gentleman from Philadelphia reflected on the unfairness of this proposition. If this proposal is not fair, I would ask any member of the House to show me wherein it is not fair.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have listened with a great deal of interest to the various arguments advanced, and had it not been for a few very interesting statements made by my friend, Mr. Sarig, I don't believe I would have chosen to reply except that it seems to me very apparent, to repeat the figures, "three regular Republicans," as he terms them, "two independent Republicans," as he terms them, and "two Democratic members of the House." Now, gentleman, let us not be fooled as to the real purpose of this amendment. Is it or is it not, stripped of all its terms and arguments about Democratic principles,— is it or is it not an attempt by the minority of this Assembly to govern the procedure and work of this Assembly? This House was organized by the Republicans. The Republican Caucus placed in nomination the gentleman whom this House chose to make its Speaker. The business of this House has been expedited session after session through committees appointed by the Speaker. I have never heard the minority party prior to this session come forward with a proposition of a change in the rules such as this. Was it that at that time their membership in this body was so few?

Let me say one thing farther, and I think this answers the arguments of the gentleman from Berks. He twice referred to the action of the Senate last night. It did not strip its presiding officer of the power of appointment of the committees of the Senate. They took no power from the President Pro Tem of the Senate in the appointment of various committees and chairman. It merely appointed a committee to dispense the patronage of employees of the Senate. We too use the same method. In this House there is a Slate Committee composed usually of one member from every Congressional District in this State. We too have followed that plan, and will continue I am sure in this session, to distribute the patronage by the Slate Committee, which as I say, is composed of one member from each Congressional District. It is well not to be misled, but understand the fact that the Senate did not strip the presiding office of the power of appointment of committees which the House has always given to the Speaker and the Senate to the President. This to me is merely a blind in flowering language to attempt to transfer in a majority form of government the power which after all means a speedy dispatch of business, the power of appointment which is so necessary to the prompt and efficient work of the House. I, therefore, urge the defeat of the amendment.

PREVIOUS QUESTION

Mr. PETERS. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The SPEAKER. There being no rules of the House the moving of the previous question is out of order.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were not agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment to Rule 40?

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think it best that we should understand the purpose of this resolution. There has been a rule here for a number of years before this, I think from 1913 to 1927, when sixty members were required to discharge a committee. Now, the purpose of this is: At the present time one of your bills is locked up in Committee, you must have one hundred and five votes, or enough to pass it, before you can bring it out on the floor and have it considered. It seems to me wrong in principle that a member having a bill here, important legislation, in which his people are interested, should be compelled to produce one hundred and five votes, or enough to pass it, before that piece of legislation can ever be considered by this body. In other words, we have in this House one hundred new members, I realize that no matter how fair the Speaker is in making committee assignments, it is impossible to give a new member more than one or two important committees. The result is that under this present system these one hundred new members are almost disenfranchised. In other words, they have very little really to do with the proceedings of this House. If this amendment is adopted, it will mean that hereafter any member that can line up sixty votes in favor of his bill can bring it before this House and have it thoroughly considered, and under a democratic form of government such as we have here in America and in Pennsylvania, I think at least that a member should have an opportunity to have his legislation fairly considered. If, after it has been fairly discussed and considered on the floor of this House the members feel like rejecting it, all well and proper, but I feel that at least a member who has important legislation, in which he is interested, should have the privilege provided he can muster sixty votes to bring it before this House to have it considered in the proper and lawful manner.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, relative to this rule, 40, and the proposed change, I have this to say. Prior to 1913, as far as I can learn, going over the history, it has been the rule that a committee could only be discharged and a bill recalled from its custody by a vote of a constitutional majority. It is true that in 1913 the rule was changed, but in 1927 this House saw fit to go back to the old rule. As far as my own observation goes, and the limited experience I have had in this House, it seems to me that the rule as it now is, as proposed in my resolution, namely; that when a bill or resolution has been ten days in the hands of the Committee, after having referred to it, that the committee may be discharged from further consideration of the bill or resolution by a majority vote of all the members elected, has worked well, and it is furthermore along the lines of efficiency. The Speaker appoints the committee; the committees give the various bills as they are referred to them their proper consideration, and there certainly is a presumption, which can only be overridden by a constitutional majority of one hundred and five, that these bills are, if withheld in the committee, properly so withheld, in view of the fact that the rule as it was in the recent session, and has been for several sessions, has worked so well I would ask you to vote down the amendment as proposed.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I arise in support of the amendment in this case, for the reason that I think that the members of the House should have a right to vote upon bills, even though the majority of the committee to which they were referred does not care to report them out, without having to obtain a constitutional majority of this House in order to get the bills before it.

It has been repeatedly stated here that this is a representative form of government. One of the principles of a representative form of government is that the members of this House shall represent their constituents. If they represent their constituents it is only fair that the constituents should know how they stand upon questions of public importance.

Now, if you come up here and introduce a bill and it is killed in committee, the rules of the House say that the proceedings of the committee are secret; we have no means of knowing who is for or who is against the bill, all you know is that the bill itself is there, it never gets out. If you want to get it before the House you are not permitted to discuss the bill under the rules of the House. You are only permitted to say that the bill is number so and so, the minute you start to say what the bill is you are called to order. I believe it is the proud boast of this House that no committee has been discharged for the last six or seven sessions. In other words, it is a very efficient system. But I heard a spokesman of the Republican majority refer with considerable deprecation to Mussolini and the government of Germany at the present time. They are very efficient, both of them. They carry on. A dictatorship is usually very efficient if that is the one thing you are considering. We in America consider that the right of the people to govern themselves is more important than efficiency. We admit probably that greater efficiency could be obtained by having an absolute monarchy, but there are other drawbacks which are very serious, but are not in favor of an absolute dictatorship or an absolute monarchy nor are we in favor of reposing dictatorial powers in the hands of various committees.

The proposal that only sixty members be required to get a bill out of committee is eminently fair; it is practically one-third of the members of the House. I submit that if one-third of the members of this House consider a bill of sufficient importance to have that bill reported out of committee and brought before this House, it is only right and just and fair to the constituents of the members of this House to let them know how you stand on that question.

If you are afraid to face your people back home with a vote on these things, then vote against this amendment and keep the bills in committee where they will be killed in secret and nobody will know who voted or how. If you believe in representative government and are willing to stand up and let the people back home know where you stand in this day of crisis, when it is very important to know where you stand, then I appeal to you to vote for this amendment.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the amendment to rule 40?

Whereupon the President of the Senate announced that Frank E. Baldwin, of Potter County, having received the highest number of votes was duly elected Auditor General for the term of four years from the first Tuesday of May, 1933, and Charles A. Waters, of Philadelphia County, having received the highest number of votes was duly elected State Treasurer for the term of four years from the first Monday of May, 1933.

Four certificates of election for Auditor General and State Treasurer were signed in each case as follows:

CERTIFICATE OF ELECTION OF AUDITOR GENERAL

We, the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do certify that the President of the Senate did, on the 3rd day of January, A. D. one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, in the Hall of the House of Representatives at the State Capitol, open the returns of the election for Auditor General of this Commonwealth, and publish the same in the presence of both Houses of the General Assembly, conformably to the provisions of the laws of said Commonwealth, and upon counting the votes by a teller, appointed on the part of each House, it appeared that Frank E. ELECTION OF DIRECTOR OF LEGISLATIVE REFERENCE BUREAU

Senator STAUDENMEIER offered a resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 3, 1933.

Resolved, That in accordance with the provisions of section two of the act approved the seventh day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, entitled "An Act creating a Legislative Reference Bureau, providing for the election of a Director by the General Assembly, designating the officers and employees of such Bureau, defining their duties, fixing their salaries, abolishing the present Legislative Reference Bureau and making an appropriation," the Senate and House of Representatives in joint convention assembled elect John H. Fertig as Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Senator STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, in offering this resolution I merely wish to state that I consider it a distinct honor and a privilege in having been permitted to present it.

The person named in this particular resolution is a man whom the older members of the General Assembly have come to know, to love and to respect, and have nothing but the highest regard and the kindest feeling for him: a man small in stature but a giant in intellect. I refer to none other than John H. Fertig.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

OATH OF OFFICE ADMINISTERED TO DIRECTOR
LEGISLATIVE REFERENCE BUREAU

The oath of office was then administered to John H. Fertig, by Lieutenant-Governor Edward C. Shannon.

The SERGEANT-AT-ARMS OF THE SENATE. Mr. President, I have the honor to present to you His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, the Honorable Gifford Pinchot.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR SHANNON. Members of the General Assembly, the Chair presents His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, the Honorable Gifford Pinchot, who will now address you.

ADDRESS OF GOVERNOR GIFFORD PINCHOT

Ladies and Gentlemen of the General Assembly:

I am glad to welcome you to Harrisburg, and I congratulate you upon the almost unparalleled opportunity which lies before you. You have a chance to serve the people of Pennsylvania such as has hardly been equaled since the Nation was established and Pennsylvania became a sovereign State.

Seldom have the difficulties of the people been as great as now—seldom has there been such need of sound and far-sighted legislation in the interest of the common man, his wife, and their children.

The people expect of you three things. They have the right to expect them, and they have the right to receive them.

The first is relief from excessive taxation for those who are least able to bear it.

The second is adequate provision for the unemployed.

The third is legislation (on many subjects) with an eye single to the public welfare, and free from the dictation of concentrated wealth.

Above all, the people of this Commonwealth have the right to demand that you shall not allow political leaders, through you, to play politics with this emergency.

It is my most earnest desire to cooperate with you to these ends, and with each one of you, wholly without regard to faction or party.

Financial Condition of the Commonwealth

Nearly every major problem which faces Pennsylvania and the Union today goes back to taxation and economy. Fortunately for us, the financial condition of the Commonwealth is not in question. Beyond all cavil, it is sound.

That it should be sound in the midst of this depression is cause for genuine satisfaction. Indeed, it is enviable in comparison both with other States and with the Nation.

The Government of the United States is facing a huge and growing deficit. Pennsylvania has no deficit.

On all sides government units are unable to meet their payrolls. Pennsylvania has been able to meet every obligation the day it is due.

The United States and many states have had to impose extensive new taxes in order to balance the budget, and the national budget is still far from balanced. Pennsylvania's budget, ever since we paid off more than $32,000,000 of current debt during my first term as Governor, has been balanced and will remain so, while this Administration is in office.

Other states have been forced to curtail their road programs. Pennsylvania has not only maintained hers but increased it, so that our record of road construction in the last twelve months is the world's record, with no near competitor.

When the books are balanced next June, Pennsylvania will not only be without a deficit, but will have money in the bank—a small surplus beyond all obligations.

I repeat that in the face of decreased revenues, of increased demands caused by the depression, and with debts, deficiencies, and inability to meet obligations on every side of us, our financial affairs have been so handled that the Commonwealth is solvent. This Administration is prepared to carry on its regular service to the people not only without new forms of taxation, but with an actual reduction in the local taxes of those who are bearing the heaviest load.

Thus the Commonwealth stands as a rock of financial strength unshaken by the swirling currents of the depression, and the stabilizing influence of its firmness has been of the utmost value to its people.

The Budget

The details of our finances will be submitted to you in the Budget Message which I shall ask leave to lay before you later. At present I point out only that the new budget will call for $158,000,000, a reduction of $34,000,000 from the Budget of two years ago—a smaller yearly expenditure from general taxation for the whole Commonwealth of Pennsylvania than the customary budget of the single city of Philadelphia.

Under the new budget all of the General Fund departments under the Governor will operate at a total cost of about $14,000,000 a year. All the rest of the money, or more than ten times as much, goes to the Legislature, the courts, the three elective Departments, and (and this is by far the larger part) to schools, hospitals, and other subsidies and expenses which, if the State did not pay them, would fall upon and still further overload our local taxpayers.

In other words, at least three-quarters of all money raised by the State from general taxation goes back to pay for services which, if the State did not pay for them, would have to be paid for by increased local taxes.

Three-quarters of our revenue from general taxation is spent to lighten the load of the local taxpayer. Since this statement is true, it follows that cutting down State appropriations beyond a certain point means additional burdens on the man who carries too much already.

Economy

We are all agreed that economy in public expenditures is absolutely necessary. We are all agreed that economy must cut out extravagance first, the least necessary expenses next, and the most necessary last. And it must not cut out expenses which bring in more in dollars than they cost. Let us save where saving is actual, and not where alleged saving really entails a greater loss.

In other words, to be effective, economy must be intelligent. Cutting merely to embarrass the Administration, or cutting which costs the people more than it comes to, are both unsound.

There has been too much politics in suggested economies. The most inexcusable extravagance of all is that which wastes the taxpayers' money to maintain a political machine, with no return to the people who pay the taxes.

Cost of Machine Politics

The people of Pennsylvania are paying an annual tax of tens of millions of dollars for no purpose except to maintain political machines. Philadelphia is the best known, but not the only glaring example. No one familiar with the facts will dispute that except for past and present waste, corruption, and extravagance the government of the City and County of Philadelphia could now be run, and equally well run, at a saving to the taxpayers of not less than $20,000,000 a year. This is what the Philadelphia machine costs Philadelphia taxpayers in expenses from which the people get little or nothing and the machine and its backers everything there is to be got.

In Pittsburgh similarly excessive political costs have been the rule. In more than one county fee collecting officials take from the people from $20,000 to nearly $40,000 a year apiece, part or most of which goes to support a political machine. In many townships the cost of collecting taxes is from 5 to 6%.

Excessive expense of collecting the mercantile taxes, which now costs 18.5%, and excessive and unnecessary failure to collect, together add hundreds of thousands a year to the burden of the taxpayers.

This work could be done under non-political and economical methods for one per cent. or less. It costs the Department of Revenue less than one per cent. to collect the taxes of the Commonwealth. A dollar paid to an unnecessary official, or an unnecessary dollar paid to an official, is just as hard to raise and pay as a dollar that actually goes for roads or schools or the support of the poor.

The Department of Revenue

I understand there is a proposal to abolish the Department of Revenue and politicalize the collection of State taxes. If this had been done before 1931, the Commonwealth would be short of at least $10,000,000 which it now has, and would be facing a deficit instead of a balanced budget. Nothing but the extraordinary efficiency and economy of the Department of Revenue has enabled us to balance the Budget.

The people of Pennsylvania are already throwing too many millions to the politicians. There is no good in also throwing the Revenue Department to them.

Legislative Economy

It is neither good business nor good sportsmanship for the General Assembly to waste money without stint on unnecessary political appointees and other extravagances, while insisting on the utmost economy, even to the point of danger to the public interest, in the Executive Departments responsible to the Governor.

No demand by the Legislature for economy on the part of the Executive will be accepted by the people as made in good faith while legislative waste proceeds unchecked. I have already pointed out some conspicuous examples of such waste, and shall be glad to do so again if desired. Loading payrolls with needless employees is not justified by the mere fact that it has been going on a long time. The Departments under my charge have economized to the point where it hurts. The General Assembly has not. What is sauce for the goose ought to be sauce for the gander.

The Burden of Taxation

Our people are feeling the burden of taxation as never before. The place to lighten that burden is where it is heaviest. Taxes should be reduced first and most on the poor and needy, and not first on concentrated wealth.

The rank and file have at last won a place in the political sun. It will go hard with any party, or any faction of any party, which fails to keep that fact in mind. The people have shown what they can do to leaders whose interest is only in the rich and strong, and not in the troubles and burdens of those who are neither strong nor rich.

There is a common misunderstanding as to what kind of taxes are heaviest and hardest to pay. The fact is that about 30 per cent. of all taxation in the United States is collected and spent by the Federal Government, about 15 per cent. by the States, and about 55 per cent. by counties, townships, cities, boroughs, etc. In other words, local taxation is heavier than all other taxes put together.

Local taxes are not only heaviest and hardest to pay, but the waste in collecting and spending them is far greater than for State and National taxes.

And that is not all. Most of the load of local taxation is borne by those who are least able to carry it, through general property taxes on homes and farms. Eighty-eight per cent. of all our local taxes, or almost one-half of the entire National tax burden, falls on real property—on houses and farms.

The ideal solution of our tax problem in the present crisis would be to keep the budget balanced and the State solvent, relieve the average man in city and country of part of his load of local taxes, and at the same time meet the State's obligations for unemployment relief, and do it all without imposing any new taxes.

The mere statement would seem to show that such a thing is impossible. Nevertheless, it can be done.

The following plan will relieve local taxpayers to the extent of $35,000,000 in two years, find $20,000,000 for unemployment relief, avoid any new taxation, and carry on the operations of the government with great economy, but nevertheless carry them on.

I propose:

1. That the State take over all the remaining 53,000 miles of second class township roads for maintenance and construction, at a saving to those who pay local road taxes of at least $18,000,000 during the two years of the budget period. This will not merely maintain the roads better and ultimately improve them, but what is even more important, it will relieve the hardest hit taxpayers in Pennsylvania. I recommend it especially on that account.

2. That the Department of Revenue be authorized to assess and collect the personal property tax, the State to retain one-half of any increase over the last five year average return, the counties to get the other half. It is estimated that this will provide $13,000,000 additional revenue for State purposes, and $13,000,000 additional revenue to counties which can be applied to the relief of local real property taxpayers during the two years.

3. That the Department of Revenue be authorized to appraise and investigate inheritance taxes through its own employees. Additional revenue and reduced costs are estimated at $2,300,000 for two years.

4. That the Department of Revenue be authorized to appraise and collect mercantile taxes through its own employees. New revenue and reduced costs are estimated at $1,700,000 for two years.

5. That a more accurate method be provided of allocating the proportion of capital stock taxable in Pennsylvania of foreign corporations doing business here. Additional revenue is estimated at $3,000,000 for two years.

6. That the duties of the 425 Poor Boards of the State be transferred to County Poor Boards, where such do not now exist, at a probable saving of not less than $4,000,000 to local taxpayers in two years.

The total relief to local taxpayers, as estimated under this plan, for the next two years will, I repeat, amount to $35,000,000. The total new revenue to the State through increased efficiency in collecting existing taxes is estimated at $20,000,000, or enough to pay the State's share of the cost of unemployment relief. No new taxes will be required, those who need help most will get the most help, and at the same time the new State Budget will call for $34,000,000 less than the last one.

Take Over All the Township Roads

Such a plan as this will meet with opposition. The road machinery lobbyists will oppose it, for the State will not pay for road machinery the exorbitant prices they have been able to collect from the townships. Doubtless many road supervisors will co-operate against it. Many Directors of the Poor will oppose it, for they will strive to retain their power to collect and spend public funds.

These interests will not stand alone in their opposition. Many will reject the idea of change. But if the people want relief from intolerable taxation they must have a change.

Abolish the Mercantile Appraisers

There is no excuse for the existence of the Mercantile Appraisers except as political patronage. They represent a part of the cost of machine politics to the taxpayers of the State, and nothing else. If they were abolished neither the State nor the people would suffer in the slightest degree. But if the Legislature chooses to tolerate this useless political waste, the taxpayers must continue to pay the bill.

Tax on Foreign Corporations

Under our present law Pennsylvania corporations are taxed more heavily than foreign corporations doing business in Pennsylvania. This is unjust to domestic corporations and to the Commonwealth. The tax on foreign corporations should be equalized to pay in the same proportion as domestic corporations.

I recommend strongly that this discrimination against ourselves shall be stopped.

Poor Boards

Among the most wasteful forms of government are the Poor Boards. Doubtless there are some excellent Poor Boards in Pennsylvania. But as a whole the system is extravagant, and highly inefficient.

There are 425 Poor Boards in the State with 920 Directors or Overseers of the Poor. Some cover whole counties, some parts of two counties, some parts of cities. There is neither rhyme nor reason in the way they are distributed, nor in the way some of them behave. Some refuse to make their accounts public. Some are reported to buy cigars, whiskey, and flowers out of tax money to enliven their meetings.

In 1931 Poor Boards collected about $10,700,000 in poor taxes. In 1930 the total cost for almshouses, Poor Board offices, and outdoor relief was $8,370,000. The cost of administration was $1,770,000, or 21%. In 1931 it was $1,700,000, or 17%. The Department of Welfare administers the hospitals and institutions under its charge for 1.3%.

I recommend that the powers and duties of all Poor Boards be transferred to county Poor Boards, one for each county, where that is not already the case. Such action will not only save money but greatly improve the care of the poor.

Emergency Sales Tax

At the last extra session of the General Assembly $12,000,000 was needed for unemployment relief. Additional taxation had to be provided to raise this sum. After much discussion, the General Assembly finally decided upon the emergency sales tax.

It came to that or no relief. Therefore I signed the bill. A sales tax, bad as it is, was better than having the Commonwealth default on its obligations to its unemployed.

Sales Taxes

A sales tax is bad because it is simply one more device to put the tax burden mainly on those who are least able to pay. It denies the sound principle of equality of sacrifice, because it bears more heavily in proportion on the poor than on the rich. A sales tax amounts, in effect, to a graduated income tax reversed, for under it the smaller a man's income the larger percentage of it goes to pay the tax.

A worker or a farmer spends something like half of his total income for consumer's goods upon which sales taxes are levied. A rich man may, and often does, spend as little for these same goods as five per cent. One-half of the poor man's income is taxed under the sales tax and one-half escapes. Five per cent. of the rich man's income pays under the sales tax and ninety-five per cent. escapes.

There is no justice in such an arrangement. It is merely another way to free the rich from taxation.

A sales tax has been urged as a means to provide further unemployment relief. It is not necessary. Under the plan suggested in this message we can provide relief without it. I recommend strongly that the Emergency Sales Tax shall not be renewed and that no other sales tax be substituted for it.

State Tax Equalization Board

Small home owners all over Pennsylvania, but especially in the large cities, are overtaxed, and in many cases outrageously overtaxed, in comparison with large owners of property. In Philadelphia, for example, the great buildings of the business district near City Hall are underassessed to the extent of scores of millions of dollars in comparison with the little homes of the working men.

It is a fundamental principle of all sound taxation that it must be equitable, without unfair exemptions, and free from discrimination. The small property owners of Pennsylvania as a class are today the victims of tax discrimination.

In order that the injustice which now prevails may be corrected, I recommend the creation of a State Tax Equalization Board, with ample authority in proper cases so to control assessments that the poor man's dollar will pay no more than the rich man's dollar. In addition, such a Board could be of great value in securing equitable and honest distribution of school subsidies.

Put All Offices On a Salary Basis

The fee system of paying public officials is often but not always an unwarranted, unnecessary, and unfair drain on the taxpayers of the Commonwealth.

In 1931 the Register of Wills in Philadelphia received $37,654.47 in fees; in Allegheny county, $16,714.52; in Delaware county, $14,437.37; and in Montgomery county, $20,183.87.

These fees are in addition to the register's salary, as a county officer, of $4000 in Delaware county, and $5000 in each of the other counties mentioned. They are also in addition to the salaries of clerks, appraisers, and investigators, appointed to assist the registers, and all expenses are paid from collections and not from the register's fees. The fees are pure velvet.

Collectors of local taxes in many cases are almost equally overpaid. In 1930 the following fees and commissions were paid to one tax collector—not to several—for collecting township or borough, school, county, and poor taxes:

Upper Darby, Delaware county	$29,623
Dunmore, Lackawanna county	17,909

Hanover, Luzerne county	30,858
Lower Merion, Montgomery county	27,728

Each collector paid necessary clerk hire and other expenses except printing and postage from his fees.

There is no excuse for the huge cost of collecting local taxes in Pennsylvania. The local taxpayers of other States are free from it. In Ohio in 1928, the last year for which I have figures, Ohio collected local taxes to the amount of $322,000,000, Pennsylvania to the amount of $359,000,000. It cost Ohio taxpayers $1,187,000. It cost Pennsylvania taxpayers $5,112,000. There can be no reason why local taxpayers in Pennsylvania should pay four times as much for the same services as they do in Ohio. The fee system is largely responsible.

I recommend that reasonable salaries be established for all public officials now receiving excessive compensation in fees, but not in cases where salaries would cost more than present fees. The taxpayer will save hundreds of thousands of dollars a year if that be done.

Election Laws

The amendment of our election laws is of particular importance. I suggest in particular that the General Assembly consider a plan by which the defeated candidate will automatically take office if fraud is brought home to the successful candidate. Such a provision of law would do more than any penalizing of small fry to promote the purity of elections.

Home Rule in Fixing Salaries

At present the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania fixes the salaries to be paid to numerous officials who are employed by city and county governments, and are responsible to them, but over whom the Commonwealth has no control. Consequently these officials are independent of those who are responsible for them, and increases in salary which local authorities would refuse are secured by lobbying in Harrisburg. This is totally unfair to the local taxpayer.

I recommend that this invasion of the principle of home rule be terminated and that authority to fix local salaries be vested solely in local authorities.

Salaries of State Employees

Our people naturally turn to the State in their trouble. The work of the Departments has thereby been increased on the average more than one-third, and the increased work is being done by far less employees than in the easy times of the last administration. The employees of the Commonwealth are working longer hours, harder, and more efficiently than ever before.

Regular promotions have been cut off in the interest of economy, so that the great mass of employees are getting less than they would in normal times. Few members of the State service are overpaid for the work they do or should do. The demands upon individual employees to assist friends and relatives who are in need have steadily increased. On top of all that, through a voluntary organization of their own, originated and managed by themselves, the employees have pledged more than $500,000 to help carry the load of the less fortunate.

Finally, no salary cut is required to balance the budget. For all these reasons, I am firmly opposed to a cut in the salaries of State employees, and recommend strongly against it.

But if a cut shall become necessary, it should include all members of the Legislative, Judicial, and Executive Branches, should bear most heavily on the highest paid, and should leave the salaries of low paid employees untouched.

Classification of Employees

The efficiency of the State's work will be greatly increased by the new classification of State employees, upon which a report has just been completed, on the sound principle of equal pay for equal work. This very extensive and useful piece of work has been completed by members of the State service without extra cost to the Commonwealth. It will result in large savings to the State.

Better Business Methods

A survey of "possible improvements in any and all the methods under which the State Government does business" was completed late in December. Its results will be of real advantage to both the economy and the efficiency of the State's service to the people. Under its recommendations the State service is being shaken into better shape than ever before. Bureaus and sections are being consolidated, branch offices eliminated, better purchasing methods introduced, and greater economy secured in heating, lighting, and power.

Unemployment Relief

Later on I shall ask your permission to lay before you in detail the situation and the problem of unemployment relief in Pennsylvania. For the moment I confine myself to the statement that, in my judgment, the least amount the present General Assembly can afford to appropriate for unemployment relief is $20,000,000, and that unless you are prepared to take it from the hospitals and other State and State-aided institutions, to pay the cost of relief out of economies in government is out of the question.

Under the plan I have suggested this sum can be provided without imposing any new taxes on our people and without defaulting in our obvious duty to the unfortunate and the unemployed.

We cannot afford to disregard this duty. Not only is our self-respect as a Commonwealth involved, but we cannot expect Federal Aid unless we do our part. And if State and Federal help should fail, Pennsylvania would be the prey to disorders which would not only cost us vastly more than any possible appropriations for relief, but would unquestionably spread far beyond our boundaries to other States also.

Public Service Commission

At the last extra session facts long concealed concerning the Public Service Commission were brought to light, and the people became fully convinced that the Commission had been in truth what I had long declared it to be, the catspaw of the corporations. Resignations and appointments followed, and today a majority of the Commission is composed of men wholly free from public utility domination and sincerely and intelligently devoted to the public interest.

Under the driving power of this new majority double as much work is being done as before by the Commissioners with the enthusiastic co-operation of the staff. But that is the smaller part. Instead of acting only on petitioners' demands and when the law specifically required action, the new majority acts on its own motion when the public interest requires.

The reorganized Commission has put in force the principle of Theodore Roosevelt that it is the duty of a public servant to do whatever the public good requires unless it is directly forbidden by law. In a word, the Public Service Commission has become the active militant defender of the public interest, which it was not but always should have been.

The public utilities have succeeded, through the years, in surrounding regulation with innumerable legal delays and handicaps. At the suggestion of Judge Woodruff, the Commission wherever possible has adopted the method of informal conferences with public utility officials instead of needless time consuming legal proceedings. The result is a remarkable response from the public utilities and an immense reduction in the time required to secure reductions in rates. At present only decreasing utility revenue due to the depression stands in the way of much greater reductions, to the extent of many millions a year, which this method will ultimately produce.

This whole subject is, however, far too extensive and too important to be adequately dealt with at this time. I shall communicate with you upon it again later on.

Justice

Special credit is due the Department of Justice not only for its high standard of service, but in particular for its conduct of the Dorrance case, by reason of which the State is able to count upon additional funds greatly needed to balance the next budget.

Banking

The Department of Banking has rendered an inestimable service to Pennsylvania in the crisis of the depression. The Bankers Trust Company of Philadelphia had just closed when this administration took office. More failures followed in a rapid succession which reached its peak in October, 1931. It was a time when weakness or rashness alike might have done irreparable injury to the whole people.

In all 149 banks, with four hundred millions of assets, had to be taken over, managed, and liquidated. Realization corporations were organized in five districts with the co-operation of sixty outstanding financial authorities. A plan, unique to Pennsylvania, for cash advances, immensely reduced the time of waiting for depositors in closed banks. Weekly and monthly financial statements were required, and have resulted in early detection of weakness.

A plan for the evaluation of securities was devised, approved by clearing houses, and adopted in principle by other States and the comptroller of the currency.

The Secretary of Banking has recommended the prosecution of 180 banks, 59 building and loan associations, and six loan companies for violation of the banking laws.

During the greatest financial crisis of modern times the Department of Banking has handled the intricate and delicate problems thrust upon it in a way that has won the approval of bankers, business leaders, and the general public. It has done well.

Public Instruction

There is a conviction, widespread throughout the Commonwealth, that the burden of school taxes upon our people has passed a reasonable point. With this conviction I agree. To effect relief I join the Department of Public Instruction in recommending:

1. A suspension for two years of the automatic increase in teachers' salaries require under the Edmonds Law. I recognize the tremendous services of the teachers, but I am convinced that this temporary suspension is in their own interest and should be accepted by them lest worse befall. This would mean, if uniformly done, a saving of approximately $2,500,000.

2. A suspension for two years of the law which specifies minimum pay for teachers in each grade, leaving the rate of pay to be determined between teacher and school board for that period, provided the reduction shall not exceed 10 per cent. If the 10 per cent. reduction were everywhere made, the saving to local taxpayers would be approximately $9,500,000.

There are other methods of lightening the school tax burden which the people affected may or may not regard with favor. One proposal is a larger unit of school organization, which would put all school districts with less than 10,000 population under county school boards. The Department of Public Instruction tells me that this plan would result in immediate savings of not less than $3,150,000 a year out of $72,000,000 total expenditures of the districts in question, or 4.4 per cent.

This saving would from the beginning more than equal the reduction in State subsidies which must be made in the districts affected. Ultimately it would be very much greater. In addition, improved advantages for pupils, better budgetary control, and more equitable distribution of State school subsidies are claimed for this plan, upon which the taxpayers must decide.

Welfare

There are in Pennsylvania 194,814 inmates, or more than twice the population of Harrisburg, in 914 institutions—State, county and private. For the safety, welfare, and proper treatment of every one of these the Welfare Department is directly or indirectly responsible.

It is the instrument through which the Commonwealth does its duty to the unfortunates who are always with us, and lightens the load of the local taxpayer. It brings together at great increase of economy and efficiency functions often separated in other States.

The Welfare Department administers its vast responsibilities at a cost of only 1.3% of its total appropriation. For similar service local Poor Boards spend ten times as much.

The cost of running State institutions under the Welfare Department has already been reduced by over $1,600,000 since the present administration took office, and over $10,000,000 has been collected for the General Fund in fees for services rendered by institutions under this Department.

These facts speak for themselves.

Highways

During the first twenty-three months of this administration the Highway Department built nearly 7000 miles of hard State road, or three-fifths as many miles as were built by all other State administrations in the previous twenty years.

When I took office in January, 1931, the Pennsylvania State Highway system covered 13,640 miles. It now covers 34,145 miles. Even Texas has little more than half as much.

Of the 3114 miles still unimproved on the old highway system at that date, more than half, or 1875 miles, has been built or authorized for building. In addition to the rural roads, this administration has built one-fifth as much mileage on the old highway system as all previous administrations put together.

More than 300 miles of city streets have been taken over. The Highway Department inherited 955 bridges either unsuitable or unsafe. It has spent or authorized $7,783,459 on these bridges, in addition to ordinary maintenance.

On August 15, 1931, 20,205 miles of second class township roads were taken over for maintenance and improvement as a part of the State Highway system. By December 15th, a period of sixteen months, 5100 miles of these roads had been rebuilt with an all-the-year surface, at an average cost of $6000 per mile, and the remainder of the 20,000 miles put in better condition than ever before. This mileage of rural roads alone built in less than a year and a half is unequalled during the whole of any four-year administration in this or any other State.

The low cost rural roads accomplish five things: They take the farmer out of the mud; they bring schools, churches, and social centers within easy reach; they open city markets to the country throughout the year; they reduce the burden of local taxation; and in a majority of the counties the work relief they supply has been the most important single factor in caring for the unemployed.

Last month more than 55,000 men were engaged on State highways at one time, and more than a quarter million persons shared the benefit.

The taking over of the 20,000 miles has relieved the townships of the cost of maintaining and improving these roads, and made it possible for them to reduce their road taxes by large sums. This reduction already exceeds $2,500,000 a year. It could have been much larger.

All these notable achievements in the first twenty-three months of this administration cost $34,000,000 less than was spent on roads in the last twenty-three months before my present term.

In the last special session it was suggested that relief be provided out of highway funds. Any such proposal is unsound.

To divert the gasoline tax to other uses would be unfair to the motorists who pay it. The gasoline tax already supplies more work relief than all other relief agencies in Pennsylvania put together. Necessary funds for relief can be found without diverting any part of it.

New Construction

The Highway Department will be able to maintain, better than they ever have been maintained, the 53,000 miles of township roads which I recommend shall be taken over, and rebuild a small mileage. But if any important program of construction is desired, it will be necessary to impose an additional cent of tax on gasoline. In that case special provisions could be included to assist boroughs and cities by taking over streets which are continuations of State Highways.

None of the calamities which were prophesied if another cent were added actually took place after the Federal one cent tax was passed. It is reasonable to suppose that none would follow the addition of another cent.

Freight Trucks

The automobile owners of Pennsylvania are practically unanimous in demanding relief from the nuisance and the danger occasioned by the rapidly increasing size and number of trucks, and they are right about it.

Ten years ago 65,821 trucks were registered. Up to December 15 of this year, the number was 215,153, of which 16,399 carry more than ten, and 886 vehicles carry more than fourteen tons.

Today, 85.5 per cent. of all cars registered in Pennsylvania are passenger cars and 12.7 per cent. are trucks. Of the latter 94/100 of one per cent. are in excess of ten tons, and 5/100 of one per cent. are in excess of fourteen tons.

The owners of these giant freighters expect the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to build and maintain special roads and special bridges to accommodate a fraction of one per cent. of all vehicles which use the highways. Nothing could be more unjust or unreasonable and that is even more true in view of the relatively small license fees paid by the heavier trucks.

The heavier these giant freighters become, the more it costs to build and maintain roads and bridges for them and, therefore, the fewer miles of roads can be built and maintained. Heavier trucks mean less roads.

The railroads pay for their rights-of-way, for construction, for ties and rails. They pay interest on their investment and taxes on their property. The trucks use roadbeds built wholly at public expense. It is not good public policy to let the trucks ruin the railroads, and injure investors in railroad securities.

I recommend that after a reasonable period for adjustment truck weights in Pennsylvania be limited to ten tons on four-wheel, two-axle vehicles, and fourteen tons on six-wheel, three-axle vehicles, the length of truck and trailer to be not over forty-five feet. I recommend also that with certain necessary exceptions, such as milk trucks, no trucks beyond a total weight of five tons be allowed on any State highway on Sundays or holidays, and that additional penalties be provided to compel truck drivers to observe the regulations and rules of the road.

Finally

There remain many outstanding achievements of the Governor's Departments which I cannot discuss without stretching this message to an unreasonable length, and many recommendations which I cannot lay before you. The proposed new Banking Corporation, School, Insurance, and Building and Loan Codes will be laid before you, and are highly important. I regret that I cannot treat these and other matters as they deserve. Undoubtedly many of them will be brought to the attention of the General Assembly during the course of the session.

Let me remind you in closing that the financial plan contained in this message proposes to find $20,000,000 for unemployment relief, and to relieve those taxpayers who most need relief to the extent of $35,000,000. This is a total of $55,000,000 to be found for the benefit of the people of the State without endangering the soundness of our finances, and without imposing a single cent in new taxation upon the people of this Commonwealth.

The Minority

There are few things this Commonwealth has needed so much as a strong, intelligent, and constructive minority in the General Assembly. I welcome the presence of such a minority in the House.

In Conclusion

The people of Pennsylvania are watching, as they have seldom watched before, to see where this General Assembly will stand. They have seen Legislature after Legislature dominated by the special interests—by railroads, banks and public utilities, and by very few of each — and they are anxious to know whether money or humanity is going to call the tune. If the Republican organization leaders once more betray the welfare of the many for the special interests of the few voters will rightly demand a complete reorganization of the Republican Party in this State.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR SHANNON. The Chair wishes to express the thanks of the General Assembly to the Governor for the splendid message he has read to us. I am sure we have all listened with great interest.

ADJOURNMENT OF JOINT SESSION

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR SHANNON. The business for which the Joint Session of the General Assembly was convened, having been transacted the session is adjourned, and the Senators will please reassemble in the Senate Chamber.

(SPEAKER TALBOT IN THE CHAIR)

The SPEAKER. The report of the Tellers will be entered in the Journal of the House and printed in the Legislative Journal.

RESOLUTION

REDUCTION IN NUMBER OF HOUSE EMPLOYEES

Mr. SARIG offered a resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 3, 1933.

Whereas, The legislative branch of government should lead the way in effective economies in governmental costs, and the first step which the House of Representatives can perform in this direction is to eliminate the legislative positions during the Session of 1933, which are not essential to the dispatch of the business of the House; therefore be it

Resolved, That the following reductions in positions are hereby ordered to be made by the House of Representatives during the Legislative Session of 1933: to wit, Assistant Sergeant-at-arms from 16 to 8; Pastors and Folders from 3 to 6; Clerks to Committees from 15 to 10; and Assistant Messengers at the post office from 3 to 2.

Resolved, That the slate committee or other body or committee constituted for the purpose of recommending the names of persons for election to positions by the House, be requested to limit its recommendations in accordance with the reductions provided for by this resolution.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, this resolution provides for certain reductions in the number of employees in this House. It reduces the number of assistant sergeants-at-arms from sixteen to eight, pastors and folders from eight to six, clerks to committees from fifteen to ten, assistant messengers at the post office from three to two. Now, ladies and gentlemen, the reductions provided here may not mean a great deal in dollars and cents, but I feel that it is very important at this time because both the Republican and the Democratic organizations have gone on record in favor of reducing expenditures.

Inasmuch as this House will be called upon during the coming months to make reductions all along the line and cut out a lot of dead wood and cut out the frills and other matters that have grown up in this government, it is very important that this House should begin itself by putting its own house in order, and beginning to practice what we are preaching, and in the minds of the people of Pennsylvania, I feel, that we will put this House into a much stronger moral position when we come to make the reductions all along the line. The people of Pennsylvania will have very little confidence in our intention if we do not begin with ourselves first.

We have here at the present time, sixteen assistant sergeants-at-arms. I believe these reductions are very reasonable, and I believe that eight assistant sergeants-at-arms can very easily do the work required, and the same will apply to all of the others. Let me appeal to you, as members of this House, that we go on record in placing ourselves first in making these economies and these reductions, because then we can come with clean hands when we come to make the reductions all along the line. We will then be in a stronger moral position to tackle the job that is going to be before us during the coming months. I therefore ask you to give favorable consideration to this resolution.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker and ladies and gentlemen of the House, I heartily agree with what the gentleman from Berks County has to say in the main part and with his argument, but in view of the fact that he is only taking positions such as the assistant post office messengers, clerks to the committees, and the assistant sergeants-at-arms, I should like to request the gentleman from Berks, since we have gone over this in full detail and are recommending a reduction both in the number of employees and the amount of money involved, to withhold his resolution. We have itemized each cut, and each position and salary and show a total saving in the administrative end of this session of twenty-one per cent plus.

I should like very much to ask if my friend, the gentleman from Berks, will not withdraw his resolution at the present time and permit me to present this one, inasmuch as it gives more information to the members of the House, in that it gives the full number of employees in each department. In view of that fact I would deem it a privilege and would really appreciate it if the gentleman from Berks would permit me to substitute for his resolution this resolution which I have in my hand.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Steedle.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman, from Allegheny, what reduction does your resolution provide in the number of Legislative employees.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, with your permission I shall read it for your information and for the information of the members of the House:

"Resolved that the officers and employees of the House of Representatives for the Session of 1933, other than those elected today, shall be as follows:

Chief Page, $3 per diem session.

Assistant Clerk, $2,000 session and $1,800 annually ad interim.

Desk Clerk, $1,800 session.

Sergeant-at-Arms, $8 per diem session.

Chief Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms, $7 per diem session.

Twelve Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms—I think at present it is now constituted as 19—what does yours call for?

Mr. STEEDLE. Assistant Postmaster, $6 per diem session.

Messenger—Postoffice, $6 per diem session.

Four Pastors and Folders, $6 per diem session.

Custodian of Hall of House, $1,800 annually.

Superintendent of Folding Rooms, $7 per diem session.

Day Watchman, $1,800 annually.

Night Watchman, $1,800 annually.

Twenty Pages, $2 per diem session.

Now, as to the appointments by the Chief Clerk on the Legislative Journal and the Chief Clerk's Office:

Assistant to Chief Clerk, $3,600 annually.

Stenographer to Chief Clerk, $7 per diem session.

Superintendent of Store Rooms, $3,000 annually.

One Filing Clerk, $7 per diem session.

Now, as to the appointments by the Speaker:

Parliamentarian, $3,000 annually.

Speaker's Clerk, $7 per diem session.

Speaker's Stenographer, $7 per diem session.

Speaker's Page, $3 per diem session.

And as to the appointments by the resident clerk:

Assistant Resident Clerk, $3,600 per annum.

Stenographer to Resident Clerk, $8 per diem session and $1,800 ad interim.

Messengers to Resident Clerk, $1,200 annually.

This is the number of employees in our proposed recommendation to this body. I would like very much if the gentleman from Berks would withdraw his resolution.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Allegheny, what would be the total reduction that would be brought about by this?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, if this resolution is adopted, it will bring about a reduction of twenty-one per cent plus in money.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, with that understanding in mind I shall withdraw my resolution temporarily and in case we pass this resolution I shall withdraw it entirely.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Berks.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Berks, do I understand that he will withdraw his resolution and will allow me to present this one?

Mr. SARIG. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, then I shall ask the gentleman from Berks to state on the floor of the House his withdrawal, and I shall present this in turn.

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I shall withdraw the resolution, because this one provides for more reductions than I had in mine, and I will withdraw it to give the House a chance to act on it. In case of defeat of this resolution, I may represent mine.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Berks, Mr. Sarig, withdraws his resolution, and I now recognize the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Steedle.

EXTENDING SYMPATHY UPON DEATH OF HONORABLE
THOMAS J. BROWN

Mr. WOOD offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, January 3, 1933.

Whereas, Our hearts are filled with sadness on this the opening day of the 1933 session of the General Assembly because of the death of one of its members, the Honorable Thomas J. Brown, of Mt. Joy, Lancaster County.

He was first elected to the Legislature in 1923 and he served continuously ever since. He died one week before the last General Election but his constituency did him honor by re-electing him by about 10,000 majority.

His death has caused deep and sincere sorrow to all who had the privilege of knowing him, most particularly to his legislative colleagues of the last and previous sessions.

He was Christian in character, trustworthy in business and honest in his dealings and true to his constituency in his service to them. He was always in attendance at the sessions of the House and kept close attention to its proceedings.

Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the House of Representatives expresses to his family its deep and sincere sympathy.

Be It Further, Resolved, That a copy of the action of the House thereon be suitably engrossed and sent to the family by the Chief Clerk.

Be It Further Resolved, That when this House adjourns today it do so in memory of the late Honorable Thomas J. Brown, a member elect from Lancaster County.

The SPEAKER. When this House adjourns today it will adjourn in memory of the Honorable Thomas J. Brown, of Lancaster County.

NOMINATIONS BY THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor, being introduced, presented communications in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which were laid upon the table.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, it is in reference to the death of the father of Senator Prince.

On Saturday a week ago, I attended the funeral of one who was to me a second father, the father of our distinguished colleague, Senator Prince. Ever since the years 1866 to 1868, when our respective fathers were students together in Wesleyan University, they remained friends, and their friendship was possibly more like the friendship of David and Jonathan than that of any other two men I have known.

I know that the Senate of Pennsylvania will want to pay some tribute to the death of our distinguished colleague, I therefore offer the following resolution, and ask for its immediate consideration.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO DEATH OF DR. MORRIS WATSON PRINCE

Mr. REED offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

Whereas, The Senate of Pennsylvania has, with profound regret and sorrow, learned of the death of the Reverend Doctor Morris Watson Prince, father of our colleague, Senator Leon C. Prince; and

Whereas The Senate recognizes that in the passing of Doctor Morris Watson Prince the Commonwealth has lost an adopted son, who as preacher, scholar and educator was singularly beloved and distinguished, one whose life of almost four score and ten was characterized by untiring and unselfish service for the advancement of the Kingdom of God and the uplift of humanity;

Resolved, That the members of the Senate extend their sympathy to the family of Senator Prince, and request that this resolution be spread upon the Journal of the Senate and that a copy be forwarded by the Secretary of the Senate to the mother of our beloved and distinguished colleague.

USE OF SENATE CHAMBER GRANTED TO ELECTORAL COLLEGE

Mr. TRAINER offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, January 4, 1933.

Resolved, That the use of the Senate Chamber be granted for the meeting of the Electoral College of Pennsylvania, sitting in Harrisburg at 12 o'clock noon on Wednesday, January 4, 1933.

MOTION TO CONSIDER NOMINATIONS OF NOTARIES PUBLIC

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of all nominations of Notaries Public made by His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, received at the session of Tuesday, January 3, 1933, and also of the nominations of Notaries Public received at today's session.

Mr. FALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER (Grover C. Talbot) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. O. B. Poulson, offered the following prayer:

We stand to bless Thy name, our Father God, as we undertake the duties of this new day. Thou who hast been a Shepherd to our souls, lead us this day beside still waters and into green pastures. Thou who hast so often made our cup of gladness and rejoicing to overflow, withhold not Thy tender mercies from us today.

Thou hast given to us, and our posterity the institutions, the advantages and the blessings of this great Commonwealth. May we prove our gratitude to Thee for all these blessings by the lives we live and the kind of service we render unto Thee.

Remember in great mercy each officer, each Member and employee of this House; may each bring to the task committed to their hands their heart's best devotions; and may Thy peace abide with us all. We ask in the name of the Prince of Peace. Amen.

ADJOURNMENT RESOLUTION REFERRED

The SPEAKER. The resolution offered yesterday by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Steedle, relative to adjournment sine die by this House on April 13, 1933, is now referred to the Committee on Rules.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. EDERER asked and obtained leave of absence of Mr. Zimmerman on account of death in the family.

RESOLUTION

URGING REDUCTING IN STATUTORY SALARIES

Mr. ANDREWS offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, January 4, 1933.

Whereas, The cause of economy and retrenchment in public expenditures need constructive leadership; and

Whereas, Salaries paid to public officers of the State and local governments add an appreciable portion to the public tax burden; and

Whereas, The Constitution provides that the General Assembly may not reduce the salary of a public officer during the term for which he was elected, which provision restricts the power of the General Assembly to make an immediate readjustment of all salary schedules in accordance with reductions in the cost of levying; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Governor and the State Treasurer be requested to join in a personal appeal by letter to all public officers in this Commonwealth, whether of the State or local governments, whose salaries are fixed by statute or otherwise, requesting and urging them voluntarily to accept a reduction in their respective salaries in order to aid in financing State and local government; such reductions to be as follows:

Salaries of $20,000 a year, or more	20%
Salaries of $10,000 to $20,000	15%
Salaries of $5,000 to $10,000	12%
Salaries of $2,000 to $5,000	10%

Resolved, That the Governor and the State Treasurer request public officers to reply within fifteen days and that a tabulation of the replies received be submitted by the Governor to the House of Representatives for their information.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to announce that requests for committee assignments are not coming to the Speaker's office very promptly. We find that three requests were not signed by the particular members. Due to the fact that we are to meet next Monday night it does not give a great deal of time to prepare these committees, and the Chair requests that those members who have not returned their requests to the Speaker's office do so prior to leaving this afternoon, because we must then immediately start on the set-up for the appointments.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE TO PROCURE ROOMS FOR HOUSE COMMITTEES

Mr. RICE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following report of your committee appointed by Resolution of the House under date of May 26, 1931.

The report was read by the Clerk as follows:

Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, January 3, 1933.

To the Honorable the House of Representatives:

Your Committee duly appointed by Resolution of the House of Representatives under date of May 23, 1931, during the interim before the session of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three to have charge of and jurisdiction over the rooms now assigned to and used by the committees of the House for the session of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, and to have the said rooms vacated and ready for the use of the various committees of the House before the meeting of the session of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, and to arrange and provide for the use of any other rooms as in their judgment may be necessary for the speedy transaction of the working of the committees of the House; herewith reports

That six rooms used exclusively as committee rooms by committees of the House of Representatives during the session of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, to wit: House Caucus Room, 326, and Rooms numbers 323, 324, 325, 521 and 522 are in readiness for committees of the House during the 1933 session, and that Rooms numbers 505, 506, 507 and 508 are not available for use by the House of Representatives for the reason that they are now used by His Excellency, the Governor, and the Department of the Auditor General; and your Committee feels that it is without authority to seize and take possession of the said rooms.

That your committee and a previous committee had made repeated effort to secure additional rooms, and the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives, Eugene F. White, has been tireless in his efforts to secure proper accommodations.

That your committee believes that six committee rooms, including the House Caucus Room, are totally inadequate and will impede the proper exercise of the legislative functions of the House of Representatives.

That your Committee, who also served as a like Committee, during the interim between the 1929 and 1931 sessions, is of the opinion that it is highly important and necessary that the legislative branch of the State Government takes cognizance of the condition which biennially exists, by reason of encroachment by various Executive Departments upon rooms formerly assigned to the legislative branch of the government.

Your Committee therefore recommends that legislation should be enacted to preserve and conserve sufficient space for all legislative functions in the Capitol Building, convenient to the Chambers of the Senate and the Hall of the House of Representatives.

GEORGE L. REED,
SAMUEL H. MILLER,
HARRY B. FOX,
P. B. RICE.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee?

It was adopted.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. If there is any members who have bills to introduce the Chair requests that they file them with the Bill Clerk now.

RESOLUTION

EXTENDING SYMPATHY TO HONORABLE WILLIAM E. ZIMMERMAN

Mr. FORREST offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, January 4, 1933.

Whereas, Word has been received by the Honorable Wm. E. Zimmerman, of Montgomery County, a man young in years, and newly elected to be in our midst during the Sessions of the General Assembly, of the sudden death of his beloved father, William Zimmerman, be it therefore

Resolved, That the Members of the House of Representatives extend to Mr. Zimmerman and his family their sincere sympathy in the grief which has befallen them, and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the Honorable Wm. E. Zimmerman.

INVITATION TO ATTEND PRESENTATION OF MEDAL TO RALPH MODJESKI

The SPEAKER laid before the House an invitation to attend the ceremonies in connection with the presentation of a medal and scroll to Ralph Modjeski, which was read by the Clerk as follows:

A medal and scroll will be presented to Ralph Modjeski, Wednesday, January 4, 1933 at 2 P. M. by Governor Pinchot, in the Governor's Reception Room.

The presentation is in accordance with Act 32 passed by the General Assembly at the 1931 Session, in recognition of Mr. Modjeski's distinguished services rendered to the Commonwealth as Chief Engineer in charge of construction of the bridge over the Delaware River from Philadelphia to Camden.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. SHREINER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, January 9, 1933, at 9 o'clock P. M.

The motion was agreed to, and at 10.36 o'clock A. M., the House adjourned until Monday, January 9, 1933, at 9 o'clock P. M.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate of Pennsylvania: Recently we have been honored by the presence of His Excellency, the Governor, and his delivery of a message to the General Assembly. That message deserves and will receive, I know, respectful and considerate attention. Its preamble is as follows:

"Seldom have the difficulties of the people been as great as now—seldom has there been such need of sound and farsighted legislation in the interest of the common man, his wife, and their children.

"The people expect of you three things. They have the right to expect them, and they have the right to receive them.

"The first is relief from excessive taxation for those who are least able to bear it.

"The second is adequate provision for the unemployed.

"The third is legislation (on many subjects) with an eye single to the public welfare, and free from the dictation of concentrated wealth.

"Above all, the people of this Commonwealth have the right to demand that you shall not allow political leaders, through you, to play politics with this emergency.

"It is my most earnest desire to co-operate with you to these ends, and with each one of you, wholly without regard to faction or party."

As far as this preamble goes, I am in full accord with it, as is every member of this General Assembly, I believe. However, had I the power to amplify it, I would change the Governor's paragraph which reads:

"The first is relief from excessive taxation for those who are least able to bear it."

and have it read:

"The first is relief from excessive taxation. I do not believe that anyone is able to bear, or should be required to bear, the burden of the present day taxes."

In the Governor's paragraph which reads:

"Above all, the people of this Commonwealth have the right to demand that you shall not allow political leaders, through you, to play politics with this emergency."

and change it so it would read:

"Above all, the people of this Commonwealth have the right to demand that we shall not allow Executive or Legislative political leaders, to play politics with this emergency."

I believe that the paragraphs would then truly reflect the wishes of the people, and bring the Governor in accord with that which the people have a right to expect. Some curb would thus be placed voluntarily on the Governor who has played politics in every emergency.

I am likewise of the opinion that sound policy and necessity should have dictated to the Governor that his message contain his program on the budget, on unemployment relief, and public utilities so that the Legislature might know his thoughts concerning the pressing problems which confront the State, to the end that expeditious relief be provided promptly for the over-burdened taxpayer and business man, through appropriate legislation, thus expediting the work of the Legislature and decreasing the expense of its Sessions to the people of Pennsylvania, rather than that these subjects be withheld, legislative costs increased, and relief denied and delayed. Therefore, I would further amplify the message in respect of the budget, by including apt legislation on unemployment relief and public utilities.

This would be in keeping with the program of the Governor for legislative economy, which program, however, the Legislature recognized, heeded and followed, long before it was voiced by him—by reducing the appropriation to fiscal offices, departments and agencies, for the current biennium at the Special Session of 1932, $13,002,273.16; and by proposing by resolution that the payrolls of the Senate be reduced by twenty-four and five tenths percent, and the payroll of the House over twenty-five percent, at this Session. Legislation has also been introduced, reducing the salaries of the Members of the General Assembly, thirty-three per cent.

The Governor vehemently opposed the reduction of the $13,002,273.16 to Departments. His economy program is somewhat belated and vague. It is respectfully suggested that he make proportionate reductions in the cost of the Executive and Administrative offices under his control, and be governed by his advice to the Members of the General Assembly—"that loading payrolls with needless employes is not justified by the mere fact that it has been going on a long time."

The fundamental theory of this preamble and message is as it should be—sound and farsighted legislation for the benefit of the State and its people, and co-operation of the Executive to effect and consummate this purpose, but unfortunately it contains more theory than sound thought.

Nevertheless it seems fair to assume that if the suggestions for sound and farsighted legislation set forth in the message of the Governor, upon study, shall prove to be unsound, short-sighted, false or fallacious, that he, under his avowed purpose to co-operate with the General Assembly, will accept and heartily support those changes from his plan, which will be of real benefit to the people of this Commonwealth.

With this in mind, and with a willingness to accept the avowals of the Governor for co-operation, I have reached conclusions regarding the message which appear to me to be proper to set before this body, of which I am a Member, in order that it shall have the benefit of my study and impressions and I, in turn, derive a benefit through the judgement of my associates.

Let us turn now to the Governor's message, and look at the following paragraph on page 4:

"I repeat that in the fact of decreased revenues, of increased demands caused by the depression, and with debts, deficiencies and inability to meet obligations on every side of us, our financial affairs have been so handled that the Commonwealth is solvent. This Administration is prepared to carry on its regular service to the people not only without new forms of taxation, but with an actual reduction in the local taxes of those who are bearing the heaviest load."

I assume that the Governor is magnanimous enough to give some little credit, at least to the Members of the General Assembly who passed the laws at the Special Session of 1932 which assured the solvency of the State of Pennsylvania and to those officers of the State, other than the Governor, who have assisted in the establishment and retention of this solvency, even though their election as such officers may, to some degree, have been engendered by those of the General Assembly whom he now feels called upon to criticize.

But the statement of the Governor in the foregoing paragraph is not consistent and is not supported by the rest of his message. It leads one to believe that the burden of State taxation is to be lessened, yet nowhere in the entire message is there, by word, suggestion or inference, the elimination or reduction of a single State tax.

Instead of the elimination or reduction of taxation for State purposes, thus lessening the burdens of the people, he suggests that the collection and receipt of the four mills tax be shifted from the counties, where it has been since 1913, to the Department of Revenue; that twenty-six millions more of this tax shall be exacted and collected from the people during the next fiscal biennium; that when it is exacted and collected, thirteen million dollars of it shall go to the State to supply, presumably, some increased cost in State government and that the other thirteen millions shall go to the counties to take care of some increased cost in those units. No matter where it goes, it first has to be collected, and its imposition is an added burden of taxation on the people of Pennsylvania.

Furthermore, he suggests that since the people have accepted an additional federal levy of one cent upon gasoline, that another cent be imposed upon automobile users, and the levy on gasoline be advanced from four to five cents.

Presumably, the Governor does not consider this levy a tax upon the people of Pennsylvania. But I do, I think it is a ghost, an extremely unpleasant and distressing apparition in this time of depression, struggle and suffering.

But let us look at these proposals carefully, and in their order.

The latest available records of the State of Pennsylvania concerning the collection of the four mills tax on personal property is for the year 1930. This is substantially a year and a half after the depression hit us, and a fair criterion for collections for the present.

In that year the counties of Pennsylvania, at the rate of four mills on the dollar collected $13,628,788, through this tax. This means that there was returned and assessed personal property of the people of Pennsylvania to the value of $3,407,197,000.

The Governor now proposes, according to his message, to raise twenty-six millions additional in the biennium through this tax, and when it is raised and collected, thirteen millions is to go to the State and thirteen millions to the counties.

This means, either that the tax has to be increased from four mills to eight mills, or that since there is a personal property tax collection of substantially thirteen millions, and that tax is now to yield thirteen additional millions, or a total return of twenty-six millions per year, that there is six billions, five hundred million dollars worth of personal property, or double the amount which is now being assessed and returned, which has been unassessed and unreturned.

This last contingency seems unbelievable, and to the first, an increase in this tax, I am opposed, because I believe the people are rightfully against it, and if it is true that one-half of the personal property of the people of this State is unassessed, unreturned and untaxed, the law as it now stands provides the remedy, with a penalty upon the person who fails to make a proper and true return.

The County of Philadelphia received and collected from this tax in 1930, $5,438,447; for all counties outside of Philadelphia, $8,190,341, was collected. If it is possible that thirteen millions additional of this tax is, or was uncollected, then without the penalties now applicable, Philadelphia, on the existing ratio of collection under the Governor's plan, in the division of the thirteen millions, loses substantially five million dollars, and the other counties in the State eight millions.

I repeat that I fear that the true perspective for these times and our people has been lost by a vision which is much too farsighted to be practical and effective for their benefit.

If we are to have real relief from excessive taxation, let us have it in its true sense and proportion.

I have proposed and have presented legislation, at this Session, to the effect that the four mills tax shall be collected by the county treasurers of the respective counties in Pennsylvania, without any precentum imposed by them for its collection. They are salaried officers and competent, and bonded to do the job. Five per cent. is now the legal charge for this collection, and if that is not imposed and exacted there will be a saving to the people of my own county, in which I am deeply interested, on the 1930 basis of collection of $440,783, of $22,039.15; to all counties of the State on a collection of $7,749,558, of $387,477.90; or a total saving to the people of the State on the 1930 collection of $13,628,788, of $409,517.05, and if thirteen million additional can be collected, as the Governor says, there will be an additional saving of $409,517.05, or a total saving of $819,034.10; and this saving may well go to the reduction in the millage for taxation, thus compelling, in every aspect, a true relief from excessive taxation.

Whether this be farsighted or not, it is at least sound and bona fide, and I feel that the Governor ought to and will accept it, emanating even though it does from the General Assembly.

But what of the ghost of the gasoline tax and its increase? This raises an additional twelve million dollars from automobile users, and takes care of, in accordance with the message, 53,000 miles of second-class township roads.

My rather definite recollection is that there is an outstanding promise somewhere, in some platform submitted to the people of this State, to reduce the charges paid by automobile users and drivers, rather than increase them.

Of course, we are all interested in helping second-class townships and helping them with new roads, if the new roads so far built are going to stand up in the spring, when the frost comes out of the ground, but it is a rather cold proposition to our people in first-class townships, boroughs and cities, who have borne and are bearing the burden of the present tax on automobiles, to impose an additional tax on them for the benefit of the people of some other subdivision, and it may well be, and no doubt is the fact, that if the larger cities, such as Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, had received even an approach to a proportionate division of the automobile taxes which they pay, over the years that the tax has been collected, that they would not be in the plight which now confronts them, and their small home owners would receive a just and necessary reduction in taxes on their real estate, a large proportion of which they are required to pay, for the construction, maintenance and repair of their expensive highways.

So the imposition of this tax and its allocation, for tax it is, cannot be said to be either farsighted, equitable or just.

If we are to have relief from excessive taxation, either let's forget this increased tax, or if it must be imposed, allocate it proportionately to the municipal divisions which pay it, and let them get some return on their money and relief from the burden of taxation on their home owners' real estate.

As I have said, there are many factors and features of this message which do not stand up as sound and farsighted, when scrutinized and analyzed, and with the fear of tiring you and knowing that you will make your own study and examination of this message, I shall refer to but one or two more.

Another is the recommendation regarding poor districts, and the suggestions that they should be county wide.

For Delaware, my home county, I feel that this is a benefit, and there could be a classification of counties arranged which would be generally benefited by it; yet I would hesitate to force upon Union County and its people a county unit district. They must pay the bill, and county unit districts may or may not be economically sound for them, and in no case should we force a system on any county which would cause increased expenditures and be to its detriment and disadvantage.

We all know that certain counties in the State have not and do not desire county unit districts. A number of such county districts were created by the Poor Relief Act of the 1925 Session, and representatives from many counties came back to the legislature and properly demanded that their borough and township poor districts should be restored. We complied, of course, with their sound request, and in the 1931 Session borough and township districts were restored in Union, Snyder and Juniata Counties, and the laws approved and signed by Governor Pinchot. To that approval the Governor attached the following significant message:

"I sign this bill with full knowledge that a commission, appointed in 1921, recommended county units for Poor Relief Administration, and with the conviction that, when well administered, the county unit is superior to the township system.

"I am informed, however, not only that the people of Union, Snyder and Juniata Counties are substantially unanimous in their desire that this bill be passed, but that they are indignant over the extravagance which is alleged to have occurred under the county system."

In the face of this approval, the Governor now says, that the action of creating county unit districts "will not only save money but greatly improve the care of the poor."

I am inclined to agree with the Governor, but the trouble is, the Governor no longer agrees with himself!

When he co-operates with himself, it will then be a more propitious time, possibly, for the legislature to acknowledge the co-operation.

A further statement of the Governor's in the message challenges attention. It is as follows:

"I understand there is a proposal to abolish the Department of Revenue and politicalize the collection of State taxes. If this had been done before 1931, the Commonwealth would be short of at least $10,000,000 which it now has, and would be facing a deficit instead of a balanced budget. Nothing but the extraordinary efficiency and economy of the Department of Revenue has enabled us to balance the Budget. The people of Pennsylvania are already throwing too many millions to the politicians. There is no good in throwing the Revenue Department to them also."

As a sane man in a brown derby has many times said, "Let's look at the record," and to my Democratic associates I would at least, at this time, vividly recall that admonition.

In the Administration of Governor Fisher, the General Assembly for 1929 appropriated for salaries and general expenses to the Department of Revenue $1,194,000.00
It expended 784,007.02
and for that current biennial period there lapsed into, or was returned to the general fund more than 33 1-3 per cent. of that appropriation, or .. 409,992.98
There was collected by the Department for that same period upwards of $200,000,000.00

Under the administration of Governor Pinchot, for the biennial period of 1931 to 1933, under the budget presented to the General Assembly by him on February 3, 1931, the appropriation for the Department of Revenue was increased over the Fisher administration from $1,194,000 to $1,394,000 for salaries and general expenses of this department.

This Department has expended, in the eighteen months' period from June 1, 1931 to November 30, 1932, $955,883.76, or $171,876.74 more during the eighteen months than was expended by the Fisher Administration in the entire biennial period.

The total revenue collected by this Department from June 1, 1931 to November 30, 1932 was $113,542,270.

The statement should be:

Fisher Administration
Biennium period	Cost	Collection
1929-1931	$784,000.00	$200,000,000.00

Pinchot Administration
18 months of biennium periods, June 1, 1931 to November 30, 1932	$955,880.00	$113,540,000.00

The cost is $171,880 higher for three-quarters of the period. The collections, so far, are $86,460,000 lower.

The figures given are comparable and do not include the millions expended by the Department of Revenue for the collection of motor license fees, and fines, liquid fuels tax and the operation of the Motor Patrol.

I hold no brief for or against the abolition of the Revenue Department, but if these figures prove extraordinary efficiency and economy, then the Department, if it is not abolished, had better be reorganized immediately.

Now the Governor suggests a State Tax Equalization Board, which shall assess all the real estate in all the townships, cities, boroughs, and counties in the State of Pennsylvania, under the guise that it will help the small property owner. First he wanted the right to hire and fire the Public Service Commission; then he wanted the right to appoint county boards to control elections; and now he apparently wants the right to control a board which shall place the value on every man and woman's property in the State of Pennsylvania for taxation.

This is centralized government to the "nth" degree, and would bring to his doorstep the presence and plaint of every landowner in Pennsylvania for relief, which relief could not be based on an apt and exact knowledge of conditions and real values and would therefore have to be based on some untrue and unsound standard.

And the man from the mountain section and all those far distant from Harrisburg or the seats of the mighty where this Board would repose, if they could reach that citadel to make an application for the reduction of their assessment, would be red-taped to death before they had a hearing before the Board, which, under no conceivable plan, could familiarize itself with the myriad of matters which enter into a just valuation of all the different kinds of property which this State contains; while the large property owner would be benefited by the easier access which he could make and have and the simpler equation of values which obtains in connection with all large properties.

If this be sound and farsighted legislation, it is on the basis of a bifocaled governmental vision, and the danger is that the official with the power might see the situation through the wrong part of the glass.

Concentrated government is just as wrong as concentrated wealth, and it is just as right and sound to inveigh against one as it is against the other; and he who does not understand and follow this, either does not have a clear vision or has some sinister and ulterior purpose.

It is not wealth that is wrong; nor is it government that is wrong. Both are necessary, but it is the concentration of either or both in the hands of a few that is both frightfully wrong and frightfully dangerous. It is wrong because neither is equalized and because those who are entitled to an equitable distribution of both are denied that distribution. It is dangerous because the power of both, in the hands of a few, cements a combination which is destructive of the rights of the majority.

Power long held in any hand is a dangerous weapon, and like seeks like, and power seeks other power as an associate, and soon forgets and fails to see the rights and necessities of him lower down the line, who does not have and cannot obtain the attractive attribute; and this means the loss of the people's rights.

Gravitation is stronger than elevation in all nature but human nature, and power, which human nature desires, seeks elevation and forgets to look or come down.

The problem in this day is, and the effort must be, to interest the people in their own government and that interest is only retarded or destroyed in each instance in which they are denied the right to express their own thoughts and employ their own efforts in their own government.

Dynasties are destructive of independence, of both thought and action, and if the people of Pennsylvania are to preserve an independence in thought and action, they must be unusually cautious and careful where they concentrate and centralize power.

They must decide for themselves the questions which affect them.

They must retain the right to so decide.

They must preserve through those ever-ready corrective measures their rights, when power shall fail to be considerate of them or become overbearing.

This is still a government of checks and balances, and must remain so. The check may become weak and the balance for a time totter, but each can be strengthened if both remain. It is only when they shall disappear that real danger will come.

I am still for and hope the day shall never come when I cannot be for an equally balanced government of all the people, voiced through the Executive, Legislative and Judicial branches, with none subservient to or dominated by the other, the policies and standards of which shall be reflected in local government. You cannot sustain one without fostering the other.

I am therefore against centralization.

In conclusion, to return to our premise and preamble, I am for relief from excessive taxation for all persons who are excessively taxed, and I believe that the majority of the people of Pennsylvania are.

I am for unemployment relief.

I am for legislation for the public welfare.

I am for a program that the General Assembly shall adopt, carrying out these projects.

I welcome the help and co-operation of His Excellency, the Governor, on all sound and farsighted legislation.

I have no criticism to make of him personally. The criticism I do make is not of him but of policies which he enunciates and announces, many of which appear to me to be unsound and not farsighted in effecting a benefit for the people of this State.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I rise to a matter of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, will state his matter of personal privilege.

Mr. REED. Mr. President and members of the Senate: I see that the newspapers tonight carry a statement that I intend to reply to the message of the Governor. I have no such thought, because were I to state all I think about Governor Pinchot we would be here until the early hours of the morning, and I would be attempting to address empty seats. Nor do I feel particularly inclined to answer Governor Pinchot, because on last Tuesday I rather pitied him. He was no longer the happy warrior, but seemed to be more like a fighter ready to take the count. It would be useless to attempt to reply to all the statements contained in that message. It contained the usual vituperative attacks, and every question of policy therein advocated was true to form, namely, the centralization of power in the Executive. He would make the Highway Department even more than it now is the center of autocratic authority. He would raise the Department of Revenue by abolishing all local officers and turning it into an engine of absolute oppression. And so throughout that message we see that here in Pennsylvania we have an Alexander who has attempted to conquer the world, and today weeps because there are no more worlds to conquer.

But the particular thing I want to answer is the paragraph on Legislative economy. He says:

"It is neither good business nor good sportsmanship for the General Assembly to waste money without stint on unnecessary political appointees and other extravagances, while insisting on the utmost economy, even to the point of danger to the public interest, in the executive departments responsible to the Governor."

He adds:

"No demand by the Legislature for economy on the part of the Executive will be accepted by the people as made in good faith while legislative waste proceeds unchecked. I have already pointed out some conspicuous examples of such waste, and shall be glad to do so again if desired. Loading payrolls with needless employees is not justified by the mere fact that it has been going on a long time. The departments under my charge have economized to the point where it hurts. The General Assembly has not. What is sauce for the goose ought to be sauce for the gander."

I do not know whether Governor Pinchot meant that the Legislature is the goose or not, but I am sure that the people of Pennsylvania know that he is the goose who is about to get it in the neck.

I deny that charge. The statement of Governor Pinchot that the Legislature of Pennsylvania has been guilty of wilful waste is maliciously untrue. During the last twenty or thirty years when other departments of the government have grown and magnified, not by ordinary leaps and bounds, but multiplied again and again, we today have virtually the same payroll that we had twenty or thirty years ago. But let us take the other picture of this economy. This claim of economy in the Executive Department of the government I charge is not true.

First, when the Greater Pennsylvania Council was formed, the Governor appointed to the Executive positions men who were not familiar with the government of the Commonwealth or the facts concerning the affairs of Pennsylvania. Without making a careful survey of the information that was available at the Capitol, gathered over a period of years by well-known experts, the Council formulated an ambitious program of work. Field men were sent out to collect statistics and data about the industries of the Commonwealth. Practically all of the information was in the Department of Internal Affairs. The Council discovered that surveys were made, facts and figures compiled and booklets published on the identical projects the amateurs were investigating, all of which were being distributed to the industries in Pennsylvania. After a period of floundering around chasing will-o'-the-wisps, the Council learned their lesson at a cost of ninety thousand dollars to the taxpayers of Pennsylvania, and the people of Pennsylvania learned that the whole plan was a mistake. If we had a Governor who knew Pennsylvania and was willing to be informed concerning the work of the several departments of the Commonwealth, this needless expenditure of money would not have occurred.

Second, in the Department of Labor and Industry there was appointed as Chief of the Bureau of Industrial Relations a certain Ambrose Langan, mayor of the city of Pittston, whose salary was, I believe, six thousand dollars a year. As Chief of the Bureau his headquarters were in Harrisburg. I am advised by an audit that that gentleman was not in Harrisburg more than sixty-three days. An instance of that kind of men at high salaries, holding exalted positions in this Commonwealth, and doing nothing or practically nothing to earn those salaries, cannot be labeled economy.

Third, during the term of Benson E. Taylor, one of the greatest officials that has ever served the State of Pennsylvania—during his term of office as Secretary of the Department of Property and Supplies, his annual office expense was forty-seven hundred dollars. Under the present secretary, Mr. Hanna, the annual office expense exceeds ten thousand dollars. I ask you, Mr. President, if we are having this economy that Mr. Pinchot talks about here? These expenses in that department more than doubled in four years.

Fourth, when the plans for the Selinsgrove Epileptic Colony at Selinsgrove, Pennsylvania, were first considered, Colonel Eric Fisher Wood, a Pittsburgh architect, made the preliminary plans at a cost of twenty thousand dollars. It is well known that Governor Pinchot did not particularly like Colonel Wood, and Governor Pinchot fired him from the job, and he employed a Harrisburg firm of architects, the firm of Lawrie and Greene to do the identical work that Colonel Wood had done at a cost of over twenty thousand dollars.

Fifth, I have here a bill which has been duly audited, which to me is interesting. It is only seventy-three dollars and ninety-five cents, and it is for the purchase of certain Axminster rugs. But attached to that is a letter written by the Adjutant General of Pennsylvania, in which he says, "The bill of Levy and Gross, in the amount of seventy-three dollars and ninety-five cents, covering three rugs and included on Requisition Symbol 11310, Requisition No. 8, chargeable to appropriation for Celebration Yorktown Sesqui Centennial, were purchased inasmuch as the Governor, while attending the Yorktown Celebration, decided to live in camp, and rugs were purchased for his quarters. These rugs are now stored in the State Arsenal and will be further used in the quarters occupied by the Governor during the summer encampments of the Pennsylvania National Guard." And so I want the people of Pennsylvania to know that their commander-in-chief will sit in his tent like Alexander of old with tapestries before the tent and Axminster rugs upon the floor.

Sixth, I have here another very interesting bill, which has been properly audited. It is the purchase of one white silk

Governor's flag, silk embroidered, complete with jointed ebon staff, brass spear and screw joint, fringed and with cord and tassels and cover, for two hundred and twenty-five dollars. Just what use the Governor can have for that flag I do not know. But one flag was not enough. I see another item, two white silk Governor's auto flags, hand and machine embroidered, fringed and with nickel rod and top, seventy-five dollars. A total of one hundred and fifty dollars for two little flags to fly at the head of royal auto number one, purchased at a cost of one hundred and fifty dollars by the Governor, who is practicing economy until it hurts. And no wonder that the auditor has added these few significant lines right on the original voucher:

And the flags of the Governor
How long will they wave?
His spending is free but
All others must save.

Seventh, I find, according to the State Treasurer, that there is a certain gentleman on the payroll of the State by the name of Mel James. He is attached to the Governor's Office, and draws an annual salary of five thousand dollars. I understand that he is a press representative. Now, I do not know just why the State of Pennsylvania has to pay a press representative of the Governor's Office in that amount, nor just what his functions are. I remember very well just about a year ago on the closing day of the Special Session of the Legislature when the distinguished representative from Delaware County, Mr. Turner, and myself arose to address the House on a question of personal privilege, that a certain press correspondent came to me and said that, "In my paper you are going to get two columns tomorrow." And I looked at that paper the next day and found instead that I had about ten lines, and when I saw him next I asked him why, and he said that a certain Mr. James was running the newspaper correspondence and wanted to cut Hell out of Turner and cut Hell out of me. Now, the fact that Mr. James wanted to cut Hell out of me means nothing in my life; but I say to you that the State of Pennsylvania is paying a salary of five thousand dollars to cut Hell out of the representative leader of the House of Representatives and the Senator from Dauphin County.

Eight, I find that there was an invoice duly approved, an invoice of the Lincoln Motor Cars, Theodore Luse, Incorporated, showing repairs amounting to seven hundred and seventy-five dollars and thirty cents, approved by William F. Hinkel, the Governor's chauffeur, with the information, which I understand was in the Governor's handwriting, that Official Car No. one broke down in Newark, New Jersey, on March 13, 1931, and it could not be returned to Harrisburg until repaired. On the date of the accident Mrs. Pinchot was in New York City. Governor Pinchot had a speaking engagement in Wilkes-Barre that evening, which it was impossible for him to keep because of the pressure of official business in Harrisburg. He, therefore, requested Mrs. Pinchot to speak in his place, and because of some other engagement which Mrs. Pinchot had it was impossible for her to get to Wilkes-Barre in time for the meeting. Accordingly, Official Car No. one was enroute to pick up Mrs. Pinchot in New York City and bring her to Wilkes-Barre. Now, Mr. President, I do not know why it was the place of the State of Pennsylvania to pay for that car. But I do say there is an item which appears in the official records which shows that, and shows conclusively, that the State of Pennsylvania was paying for the Governor's car engaged in private business.

I have here the expense account taken from the official requisition for employes in the Governor's Mansion showing that the Governor has a butler, a houseman, a chauffeur, three matrons and a laundress, a chief cook and a policeman, at a total salary of nine hundred and forty-five dollars a month. I say in all seriousness, has economy been practised in the Executive Mansion to a point where it hurts?

Now, I would go on at great length. I simply have cited these instances to show you and to show the people of Pennsylvania what the people of Dauphin County know, and well know, that there is wicked extravagance and waste in the various Executive Departments of our State government. That, to my mind, is the chief business of this Legislature. As the Senator from Delaware has well said, it is the duty of this Legislature exercising the great legislative power vested in us under the Constitution to see to it that the checks and balances are maintained, to see to it that extravagance and waste shall cease, and to see to it that practical Republican principles in government shall continue to prevail. We have the power, we have the imperative duty, to maintain and to carry it out. In my opinion, Mr. President, the charges which have been made by the Governor of this Commonwealth are too serious to remain unanswered; and furthermore that it is the duty of this Senate to investigate the charges which he has made. And I, therefore, offer the following resolution:

RESOLUTION REQUESTING APPOINTMENT OF A COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE CHARGES OF THE GOVERNOR AGAINST THE LEGISLATURE.

Mr. REED offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Appropriations:

In the Senate, January 9, 1933.

Whereas, The Senate of Pennsylvania recognizes the necessity of legislation to relieve the farmer, the property owner, and the business man from the present excessive burden of taxation; and

Whereas, Tax relief can be secured by eliminataing useless agencies of government and by compelling greater economy and efficiency in all departments and agencies; and

Whereas, His Excellency, in his message to the General Assembly, said:

"No demand by the Legislature for economy on the part of the Executive will be accepted by the people as made in good faith while legislative waste proceeds unchecked. I have already pointed out some conspicuous examples of such waste, and shall be glad to do so again if desired. Loading payrolls with needless employes is not justified by the mere fact that it has been going on a long time. The Departments under my charge have economized to the point where it hurts. The General Assembly has not. What is sauce for the goose ought to be sauce for the gander;" and

Whereas, Former officers and employes of Executive Departments and citizens generally have repeatedly charged that the said Executive Departments are honeycombed with mismanagement, incompetence, special privilege and corruption, and that executive payrolls have been magnified and multiplied contrary to sound government and to the injury of taxpayers and other citizens of the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, These charges by the Governor against the Legislature, and the charges by former officers, employes and citizens generally against Departments and agencies under the Governor, should be sifted and the truth be made public; therefore be it

Resolved, That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate shall appoint an investigating committee composed of seven Senators, five of whom shall be practicing attorneys, whose duty it shall be to investigate the charges recited in the preambles of this resolution, and make report of its findings to the Senate not later than March fifteenth, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three;

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate shall act as secretary of said committee, and that Senate employes including stenographers, be made available for the use of the committee, because of its lack of any appropriation for the employment of assistants and counsel;

Resolved, That said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman, or any member thereof, duly attested by the secretary, requiring and commanding any officer, person or persons, to appear before it and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the same force and effect as subpoenas issuing out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of the committee shall have power to issue oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before it. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to appear and testify, or to produce any books, papers, records and documents, shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of this Commonwealth in such cases;

Resolved, That the Sergeant-at-Arms and assistant Sergeants-at-Arms of the Senate be directed to attend said committee to serve subpoenas issued by it, and generally to enforce all orders which said committee may make.

RESOLUTION REQUESTING CONGRESS TO REPEAL THE THREE CENT FIRST CLASS POSTAGE LAW

Mr. CHAPMAN offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and referred to the Committee on Federal Relations:

In the Senate, January, 1933.

Whereas, The three cent postage has failed to produce the added revenues for the Federal Government predicted by its sponsors, for the principal reason that large corporations and public utilities have found it more economical to deliver monthly bills and materials by messenger; and

Whereas, Small businesses cannot meet this postal increase by the same means and are forced to pay the increase; and

Whereas, Two cent first class postage for the family letter has been one of the strongest ties of the American family, and this increase of fifty per centum (50%) in postage rates inflicts hardship on millions of people; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly respectfully petitions Congress of the United States to repeal the law providing for three cent first class postage and that the rate be restored to two cents as heretofore;

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Senate shall send a copy of this resolution to the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States, and to each Senator and Representative from Pennsylvania in Congress of the United States.

HOUSE MESSAGES

RESOLUTION URGING THE TREASURY DEPARTMENT TO ERECT FEDERAL BUILDING IN PHILADELPHIA

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced presented extract from the Journal of the House, which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Federal Relations:

In the House of Representatives, January 9, 1933.

Whereas, There has been appropriated by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States the sum of two million nine hundred thousand dollars ($2,900,000) for the purpose of erecting and constructing a Federal building within the city of Philadelphia, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, for the use of the United States District Court of the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, and of the Circuit Courts of Appeal of the Third Circuit; and

Whereas, The Treasury Department of the United States is empowered to select a site in the said city of Philadelphia, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, upon which to erect the said new Federal building as aforesaid; and

Whereas, The present site of the Federal building housing the aforesaid courts is located at the southwest corner of Ninth and Market streets, and extending to the northwest corner of Ninth and Chestnut streets; and

Whereas, The present location of the Federal building is not a suitable location for the courts aforesaid; and

Whereas, There is in the city of Philadelphia a Parkway, extending from City Hall, situated in Penn Square, to Fairmount Park, upon which are erected the many public buildings of architectural beauty, and upon which future building of similar type are to be erected; and

Whereas, The said Parkway in the city of Philadelphia has been laid out and developed by the city of Philadelphia at great expense, and is a boulevard of great beauty; and

Whereas, The said Parkway is situated so that it would be of convenient access to litigants and officers having business in the aforesaid courts and to railroad stations; and

Whereas, It is contemplated by the representatives of the government to erect a building of architectural beauty such as would be in keeping with those already erected, and which will in the future be erected on the Parkway aforesaid; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully urge the Treasury Department of the United States to select as a site or location for the erection of the said Federal building to house the Federal courts as aforesaid, the southeast corner of Eighteenth Street and the Parkway;

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House to the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States.

RESOLUTION ON THE DEATH OF CALVIN COOLIDGE

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House, which was twice read as follows, considered and agreed to:

In the House of Representatives, January 9, 1933.

The sad and unexpected announcement of the death of Calvin Coolidge, thirtieth President of the United States, had plunged the Nation into a new sorrow.

The melancholy drooping of the low hung flags
Proclaims with full significance
The universal loss that now is felt,
That Calvin Coolidge is no more.
The world stands shocked and stunned
And wonders why,
With millions waiting in life's twilight hour
For that sure ending of their day,
The call of death should come to him,
Who yet was basking in the noon-time sun.
With dauntless, fearless courage, and steadfast
As the granite of his native hills,
He fought the people's fight, and won.
Each victory for the common good
But carried him to higher place.
Until, with simple modesty, he graced
The highest seat in all the world;
And to that honored place,
That mightiest of the mighty seats,
He took a kindly Godliness
That in this darkened hour we find
Has won for him the full esteem,
The deep respect, the lasting love
Of all his fellow men.
The deep respect, the lasting love

During a life devoted to others, he served his home town, his State, and the Nation with rare ability.

The impress of his example, the wide influence of his acts and writings, and the results of his sound judgment will remain a rich heritage to posterity.

Those who differed with him never questioned his integrity, his patriotism, nor his devotion to public service. Through his wise counsel, his clarity of vision, and his fearless adherence to the cause he felt was right, he led the people of the country to give him their complete confidence.

He had the full respect of his contemporaries to an extent vouchsafed to few public men; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That in the passing of Calvin Coolidge, a world figure has been removed, the Nation has suffered an irreparable loss, the State of Massachusetts has lost its most illustrious citizen, and the people who loved and respected him so well will sadly miss the one who gave to them without stint many years of courageous service and patriotic devotion, and be it further

Resolved, That the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania reverently extend to Mrs. Coolidge their most profound sympathy, and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to her by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

RESOLUTION FIXING DATE FOR FINAL ADJOURNMENT

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House, which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Appropriations:

In the House of Representatives, January 3, 1933.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That this Session of the General Assembly adjourn sine die, Thursday, April 13, 1933.

HOUSE CONCURS IN RESOLUTION FOR JOINT SESSION TO HEAR GOVERNOR'S ADDRESS

He also presented communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate, as follows:

In the Senate, January 9, 1933.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Senate and House of Representatives meet in joint session Tuesday, January 10, 1933, at 12 o'clock noon in the Hall of the House for the purpose of hearing an address of His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 10:52 P. M. until Tuesday morning, January 10, at 11 o'clock.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, January 9, 1933

The House met at 9:00 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (Grover C. Talbot) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. O. B. Poulson, offered the following prayer:

We thank Thee, O Lord, that we can lift our faces heavenward and call Thee "Our Father." Through Thy Providence we are again permitted to assemble within these walls. We give Thee thanks for Thy protection throughout the journees that have brought us all here. Remember in tender mercy those members of this House who are absent from us tonight because of affliction or bereavement.

We come before Thee as citizens of a great Commonwealth. We rejoice and take courage because we know that the officers and members of this legislative body believe in God; believe too in Thy over-ruling Providence; and are not ashamed to look up and seek Thy guidance at all times and in all places.

May Thy spirit of peace and good will be manifested in all our lives, tonight and always. In the dear Lord's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of Wednesday, January 4, 1933.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of Wednesday, January 4, 1933, when, on motion of Mr. Yeakel, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

RESOLUTION

SYMPATHY EXTENDED UPON DEATH OF CALVIN COOLIDGE

Mr. WILSON offered a resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 9, 1933.

The sad and unexpected announcement of the death of Calvin Coolidge, thirtieth President of the United States, has plunged the Nation into a new sorrow.

Proclaims with full significance
The universal loss that now is felt,
That Calvin Coolidge is no more.
The world stands shocked and stunned,
And wonders why,
With millions waiting in life's twilight hour
For that sure ending of their day
The call of death should come to him,
Who yet was basking in the noon-time sun.
With dauntless, fearless courage, and steadfast
As the granite of his native hills,
He fought the people's fight, and won.
Each victory for the common good
But carried him to higher place,
Until, with simple modesty, he graced
The highest seat in all the world;
And to that honored place,
That mightiest of the mighty seats,
He took a kindly Godliness
That in this darkened hour we find

Has won for him the full esteem,
The deep respect, the lasting love
Of all his fellow men.

During a life devoted to others, he served his home town, his State, and the Nation with rare ability.

The impress of his example, the wide influence of his acts and writings, and the results of his sound judgment will remain a rich heritage to posterity.

Those who differed with him never questioned his integrity, his patriotism, nor his devotion to public service. Through his wise counsel, his clarity of vision, and his fearless adherence to the cause he felt was right, he led the people of the Country to give him their complete confidence.

He had the full respect of his contemporaries to an extent vouchsafed to few public men; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That in the passing of Calvin Coolidge, a world figure has been removed, the Nation has suffered an irreparable loss, the State of Massachusetts has lost its most illustrious citizen, and the people who loved and respected him so well will sadly miss the one who gave to them without stint many years of courageous service and patriotic devotion, and be it further

Resolved, That the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania reverently extend to Mrs. Coolidge their most profound sympathy, and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to her by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the members to rise and remain standing until the gavel falls.

The resolution was unanimously adopted.

REDUCTION OF SALARIES OF MEMBERS

Mr. TURNER offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, January 9, 1933.

Whereas, The Members of the Legislature are convinced of the necessity for reductions in salaries of officers and employes of the State Government in order to balance the budget; and

Whereas, The Members of the Legislature should set an example for the executive and judicial branches of government by accepting a reduction in their own salaries, effective during the present Session; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That it is the sense of the members of this Legislature that the salaries of the Members of the Legislature for the Session of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, be two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) instead of three thousand dollars ($3,000), that appropriate legislation be adopted as early as possible fixing the compensation of Legislators at the above amount, and that such legislation be made to apply to the salaries during the present Session;

Whereas, There is in the city of Philadelphia a Parkway extending from City Hall, situated in Penn Square, to Fairmount Park, upon which are erected the many public buildings of architectural beauty, and upon which future buildings of similar type are to be erected; and

Whereas, The said Parkway in the city of Philadelphia has been laid out and developed by the city of Philadelphia at great expense, and is a boulevard of great beauty; and

Whereas, The said Parkway is situated so that it would afford convenient access to litigants and officers having business in the aforesaid courts and to railroad stations; and

Whereas, It is contemplated by the representatives of the government to erect a building of architectural beauty such would be in keeping with those already erected, and which will in the future be erected on the Parkway aforesaid; therefore be it

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 9, 1933.

The sad and unexpected announcement of the death of Calvin Coolidge, thirtieth President of the United States, has plunged the Nation into a new sorrow.

Proclaims with full significance
The universal loss that now is felt,
That Calvin Coolidge is no more.
The world stands shocked and stunned
And wonders why,
With millions waiting in life's twilight hour
For that sure ending of their day,
The call of death should come to him,
Who yet was basking in the noon-time sun.
With dauntless, fearless courage, and steadfast
As the granite of his native hills,
He fought the peoples' fight, and won.
Each victory for the common good
But carried him to higher place,
Until, with simple modesty, he graced
The highest seat in all the world;
And to that honored place,
That mightiest of the mighty seats,
He took a kindly Godliness
That in this darkened hour we find
Has won for him the full esteem,
The deep respect, the lasting love
Of all his fellow men.

During a life devoted to others, he served his home town, his State, and the Nation with rare ability.

The impress of his example, the wide influence of his acts and writings, and the results of his sound judgment will remain a rich heritage to posterity.

Those who differed with him never questioned his integrity, his patriotism, nor his devotion to public service. Through his wise counsel, his clarity of vision, and his fearlessness adherence to the cause he felt was right, he led the people of the country to give him their complete confidence.

He had the full respect of his contemporaries to an extent vouchsafed to few public men; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That in the passing of Calvin Coolidge, a world figure has been removed, the Nation has suffered an irreparable loss, the State of Massachusetts has lost its most illustrious citizen, and the people who loved and respected him so well will sadly miss the one who gave to them without stint many years of courageous service and patriotic devotion, and be it further

Resolved, That the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania reverently extend to Mrs. Coolidge their most profound sympathy, and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to her by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. FLINCHBAUGH asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. Hartman.

ADDRESS OF THE GOVERNOR

GOVERNOR PINCHOT. Ladies and Gentlemen of the General Assembly:

In compliance with Article VI of the Act of April 9, 1929, P. L. 177, I have the honor to lay before the General Assembly the State Budget for the fiscal biennium from June 1, 1933 to May 31, 1935.

The two great budget problems before you are to determine what is to be done about unemployment relief and to what extent you are going to lighten the load of government on the local real property taxpayer. The State Budget is balanced.

Seldom will greater difficulties be faced in making up a financial program for a two-year period than in this one. It is estimated that available moneys in the General Fund will shrink $34,000,000 for the next two years. In all funds, the shrinkage is expected to reach $60,000,000. The depression still continues, with two million men and women wholly or partly out of work in Pennsylvania, and increasing numbers in dire need of help. In such an economic situation people cannot and should not be asked to bear more taxes.

Thanks to the budget system which was established at the beginning of my first term, and the rigid economy by which we then cleared the State of $32,000,000 of current debt, we came into the depression with a clean slate. We shall start the new biennium not only with a clean slate, but with a small margin to spare. Therein is no small comfort.

Aims of the Budget

In making this Budget, three central aims have been kept in mind. The first aim is by economy and good management to make up for the slump in revenues without imposing new taxes. The second is to provide unemployment relief without new taxes. The third is not only to avoid new taxes but actually to give relief to the local real property taxpayer—farmers and home owners in particular—by reducing the taxes they are paying now.

Budget Plans to Meet Aims

In pursuance of these objects I present to you a Budget which conforms to the estimated revenues from existing taxes. It calls for appropriations of $158,000,000 from the General Fund for the two-year period as against an original budget of $192,000,000 for the present biennium—a reduction of $34,000,000.

I recommend certain changes in the methods of collecting existing taxes which will provide $20,000,000 for unemployment relief without new taxation. I recommend also several methods of relief to the local property taxpayer to the total amount of $35,000,000.

The following specific recommendations are taken from my message of last week.

1. That the State take over all the remaining 53,000 miles of second class township roads for maintenance and construction, at a saving to those who pay local road taxes of at least $18,000,000 during the two years of the budget period. This will not merely maintain the roads better and ultimately improve them, but what is even more important, it will relieve the hardest hit taxpayers in Pennsylvania. I recommend it especially on that account.

2. That the Department of Revenue be authorized to assess and collect the personal property tax, the State to retain one-half of any increase over the last five-year average return, the counties to get the other half. It is estimated that this will provide $13,000,000 additional revenue for State purposes, and $13,000,000 additional revenue to counties which can be applied to the relief of local real property taxpayers during the two years.

3. That the Department of Revenue be authorized to appraise and investigate inheritance taxes through its own employees. Additional revenue and reduced costs are estimated at $2,300,000 for two years.

4. That the Department of Revenue be authorized to appraise and collect mercantile taxes through its own employees. New revenue and reduced costs are estimated at $1,700,000 for two years.

5. That a more accurate method be provided of allocating the proportion of capital stock taxable in Pennsylvania of foreign corporations doing business here. Additional revenue is estimated at $3,000,000 for two years.

6. That the duties of the 425 Poor Boards of the State be transferred to County Poor Boards, where such do not now exist, at a probable saving of not less than $4,000,000 to local taxpayers in two years.

What I propose is this: That as compared with the appropriations approved by me in 1931, the State taxpayers shall be saved $34,000,000; that the local taxpayers shall be saved $35,000,000; and that $20,000,000 shall be provided for unemployment relief without new taxes.

If these items are added together, they make a total of $89,000,000, of which $69,000,000 represents an actual saving to the taxpayers of Pennsylvania, and in addition $20,000,000 for unemployment relief without new forms of taxation.

Relief for Local Taxpayers

Where the money appropriated by the General Assembly goes to is commonly misunderstood. As a matter of fact more than three quarters of it goes to reduce the taxes of the local taxpayers. It works out as follows:

Fifty-eight per cent of the General Fund Budget, or $91,300,000 out of $158,000,000, as shown on page 4 of the Budget, goes for subsidies to schools, state-aided hospitals, and institutions, mothers' pensions, animal indemnities, and care of indigent insane. Every cent of this vast sum is in relief of local taxpayers. If the State did not collect these funds from corporation, mercantile, inheritance, and other taxes and use them for these purposes, this burden, which someone must carry, would fall upon the local property taxpayer.

I have tried to help the local taxpayer by allotting the largest possible amount for these purposes. This amount is within 6% of the old Budget, while the operation of the departments responsible to the Governor is cut to 18% below the old Budget.

The amounts set aside in the new Budget for the care of mental, tubercular, and epileptic patients, and inmates of penal institutions are also in relief of the local taxpayer. So are the amounts for the State-owned medical hospitals. If the State did not furnish the major part of the cost of caring for these patients and inmates the burden would fall entirely upon the local taxpayers.

For that reason allotments are made to these institutions which will enable them not only to maintain all the patients and inmates they now have, but to take in more during the two-year period. As against 18% for the Governor's Departments, the average reduction for welfare institutions and health sanatoria is 10.8%.

For the maintenance of all of the institutions, including the teachers colleges, I recommend $30,200,000. This sum, when added to the amounts for subsidies, and for the Pymatuning Project, makes $122,000,000 or 77% of the total General Fund Budget of $158,000,000.

There remains $36,000,000 for the operation of the departments, the Judiciary, and the Legislature. But if we take out the amounts for the Judiciary, the Legislature, the Auditor General, and the State Treasurer, there remains only $26,600,000 for the biennium, or $13,300,000 per year for the departments under the Governor's control.

The distribution of funds is well shown by the first accompanying chart on the following pages.

Cost of Government to the General Taxpayer

While, as the chart shows, only $13,300,000 a year is required to run the departments under my control, or 17% of all General Fund appropriations, that does not tell the whole story. This is not a net expenditure. These departments also bring in revenue.

Not including the Department of Revenue, whose business is to collect taxes, all of them together bring in about $3,075,000 a year. This means that the departments under my control cost the taxpayer only $10,225,000 a year or 15% of the General Fund appropriations. If that is not economy, I do not know the meaning of the word.

The welfare institutions also bring in revenue. While I recommend appropriations for them for the biennium to the amount of $19,000,000, receipts from these institutions are estimated to reach $10,560,000. The general State taxpayer, therefore, pays only $8,440,000 in two years for supporting these institutions. The second chart on the following pages will show the situation.

The two year budget which the general taxpayer is called upon to support, therefore, is not $158,000,000 but only $136,300,000 when the earnings of the departments and institutions are deducted. Of that $136,300,000 an amount of $91,300,000 goes for subsidies, which leaves $45,000,000 net for running all of the State institutions and departments for two years. All the general taxpayer pays per year for the whole government of Pennsylvania is one-half of that amount, or $22,500,000.

These charts and figures show that most of the burden on the general taxpayer comes not from running the departments and maintaining the State institutions, but from subsidies which are in relief of local taxpayers and which, if not paid by the State, would have to be paid by an increase in local taxation on farms and homes and other property.

I repeat that these subsidies constitute the State's part in bearing the load which local districts would now have to carry except for the State's help.

Thus the State, through its corporation, inheritance, mercantile, and other taxes relieves the local taxpayer to the extent of approximately $61,000,000 every year, while the Governor's Departments cost, net, only $10,225,000 a year, or a dollar apiece for the people of Pennsylvania.

It is easy to talk about huge reductions and economies—easy to say cut here and cut there—if you care nothing about the needs of the people, and the services which they have been in the habit of receiving, and which they have a right to receive, from the Government of the State. It might even be in order to cripple or destroy these many helps the State gives its citizens if the State were in debt, if it were facing a deficit, or if to continue them meant new taxation.

But when there is no debt, when there is no deficit, when there are no new taxes in sight, but on the contrary large reductions in present taxes, then it would be mere foolishness to hamstring the State Government at a time when the people are turning to it for help as never before.

And this is especially true when large, necessary, and practicable economies remain unmade in the Legislative and Judicial Departments. I repeat that what is sauce for the goose ought to be sauce for the gander.

Budget Problems

The cut of 18% in the Governor's Departments reduces them to the point where they can only just meet the greatly increased demand for service from the people of the State. The rigid economy which we had to practice in paying off $32,000,000 of debts in my first administration is back with us again.

The General Assembly should and doubtless will satisfy itself as to what has been and what can be done in the way of economies. But it would be useless for any purpose and costly to the taxpayers to waste time, as was done in the extra sessions, in trying and failing to get impossible, unnecessary, and wasteful reductions.

After weeks of such attempts, the last extra session failed by $29,000 to reduce as much as I had already ordered cut from the departments and institutions under my control before the extra session convened. My reductions totalled $5,350,000; the legislative reduction $5,321,000. The budget would have been kept in balance, and kept in balance solely through executive budgetary control, had there never been an extra session at all.

I repeat:

The two great budget problems before you are to determine what is to be done about unemployment relief and to what extent you are going to lighten the load of government on the local real property taxpayer. The State Budget is balanced.

Budget Schedules

Beginning on page 11 are tables detailing the appropriations recommended by departments for the biennium 1933-1935, and comparing them with the present and the two preceding bienniums. These tables have been prepared in a new way, to give information not heretofore supplied.

State appropriations for one year in the General Fund under the Budget for 1933-1935
 with departmental and institutional earnings included

Total General Fund Budget $158,077,775.03, or, for one year, $79,038,887.50

State appropriations for one year in the General Fund under the Budget for 1933-1935
less departmental and institutional earnings.

Total General Fund Budget $158,077,775.03 less estimated departmental and institutional earnings of $21,787,015 equals
$136,290,760.03 or, for one year, $68,145,380

The appropriations for each department are grouped in three classes: First, salaries and other costs of government which are termed governmental operations; second, subsidies and indemnities; and third, land purchase and building construction.

The appropriations for governmental operations have been further grouped into functions under the Governor's jurisdiction, both departments and institutions, and functions independent of the Governor. Thanks to these groupings, it is easy to see what part of the appropriations goes for running the departments and what for relief to local taxpayers.

Legislative and Judicial

The amounts included in the Budget for Legislative and Judicial expenses are essentially the same as were appropriated for 1931-1933. Undoubtedly there should be large reductions in these items, but they should originate in the General Assembly.

The Budget has been balanced wholly at the expense of the Executive Departments. In all fairness to the taxpayers both the Legislature and the Judiciary should contribute their equal share by accepting lowered appropriations.

Auditor General and State Treasurer

The Budget carries $1,274,000 for the Auditor General, or 18% less than the appropriation for 1931-1933. For the Treasury Department it carries $719,000 for salaries and expenses, a decrease of 18%, and $402,100 from which the Board of Finance and Revenue may refund money collected to which the Commonwealth is not entitled. The percentage of reduction for these departments in the Budget is the same as for the departments under my control, although the Auditor General and State Treasurer asked for the same amounts they now have.

Public Service Commission

For the Public Service Commission the Budget contains a badly needed increase of $250,000. If granted, this increase will result in savings of many times $250,000 to the people of Pennsylvania.

There would, however, seem to be no good reason why the utilities should be in a preferred position in the matter of regulation as compared with the banks and insurance companies. Banks and insurance companies are regulated by the State, but not at State expense. They pay the full cost of regulation.

The utilities, on the contrary, have been regulated (if it can be called regulation) at the expense of the general taxpayer. I suggest that the General Assembly consider whether the utilities, like the banks and the insurance companies, should not carry the cost of regulating them, and thus take the support of the Public Service Commission off the shoulders of the general taxpayer.

Public School Subsidies

The public school subsidies appropriated for 1931-1933 totalled $61,600,000. For 1933-1935 the Budget carries $57,700,000. Reports from the school districts as of November 1, indicate that $58,200,000 would be required under the Edmunds Act for teachers salaries alone during 1933-1935. The Budget carries $53,000,000. In 1931-1933 this item was $56,000,000. In 1927-1929 it was $47,500,000.

I am strongly in favor of helping the local school districts to the utmost practicable extent. Unfortunately, however, the State's revenues are shrinking. We must do the best we can in securing for each child adequate and uniform educational advantages without excessive or unreasonable strain on State or local taxpayers.

In my message on January 3, I presented to you a plan by which school costs and taxes can be lowered.

Public School Employees Retirement Fund

The State's share of the Public School Employees' Retirement Fund is set at $500,000 less than for the present biennium. An actuarial study shows that the contributions of the State and the local school districts can each be reduced safely by this amount. The $1,500,000 now due the Fund should be returned through a deficiency appropriation.

Teachers Colleges

The present appropriation to the State Teachers Colleges, as adjusted by the extra session, is $9,500,000, or $10,500,000 originally. Instead of it, a specific appropriation of $3,000,000 is proposed, contingent on the appropriation of the board, lodging, laundry, and other fees now charged to students to the colleges from which they came.

Higher Education in Pennsylvania

The appropriations recommended for the universities and colleges are ten per cent below the present amounts. I regret the necessity for this reduction, but I can see no way to avoid it.

During my first term as Governor I endeavored to secure a State policy toward higher education through conferences between the then heads of the universities. At that time the plan failed. It has recently been revived by the heads of the universities of Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh, Temple, and State College, on their own initiative.

I am delighted to report to the General Assembly that these four State-subsidized universities have agreed to join in presenting their requests to the General Assembly. What is even more important, they have agreed to eliminate duplication of instruction among themselves, to cooperate toward the establishment of a policy of higher education for the State, and to make their resources available to the State for research, information, and advice. This is a service of real value to the Commonwealth and deserves recognition as such.

State Employees' Retirement System

Ever since the beginning of the State Employees' Retirement System the State's whole share has been appropriated from the General Fund alone. It is no more than fair that the Motor, Fish, Game, and Banking Funds should carry their shares of the retirements. Consequently appropriations are recommended of $433,500 from the Motor License Fund, $11,220 from the Fish Fund, $24,820 from the Game Fund, and $45,050 from the Banking Fund for this purpose.

Aid to Veterans

Aid to veterans is recommended in the amount of $200,000. The last budget carried $100,000, which was raised to $300,000 in the extra sessions. Additional need among veterans unemployed can be met from other funds.

Mothers' Assistance and State-aided Hospitals

For State-aided hospitals this Budget contains the same amount as the last budget. For Mothers' Assistance it carries the increased amount provided by the last regular session. I realize that the need is great, but I can see no way in which these amounts can be increased materially unless reductions in legislative and judicial expenses are made to correspond to those made in the Governor's Departments.

Philadelphia Employment Office

The appropriation of $50,000 for the experimental employment office in Philadelphia, in cooperation with the Spelman Foundation, is recommended solely on the express condition that salaries and expenses be reduced to the normal and customary level for similar work in this State.

Pymatuning Dam

The appropriation of $500,000 in the Budget will complete the Pymatuning Project. This work, begun during my first term, will, when finished, assure an abundant domestic and industrial water supply to one of the most important manufacturing sections of Pennsylvania, which for many years has suffered from aggravated water shortage.

Gypsy Moth

An infestation of the Gypsy Moth has occurred in the anthracite region. Immediate action is needed to check this very serious danger to our forests.

This pest has cost New England many millions of dollars. The Federal Government is helping to fight it for us. I recommend an appropriation of $200,000 as our share. The amount of work which can be done with this money will be greatly extended through work relief.

Cattle Indemnities

The Budget carries $2,000,000 for indemnities for cattle destroyed in the fight against tuberculosis. There remain 18 counties in the process of being accredited in which approximately 130,000 cattle must be tested. In the other counties approximately 1,540,000 cattle must be re-tested if such counties are to continue as accredited. At a low estimate these tests will show that 50,000 cattle must be condemned.

All this will require $2,000,000 for indemnity. Without it many farmers will either lose their market or the value of their cattle killed for the health of the State.

This amount will, I am assured, clean up the State. What this would mean to the farmers who produce milk and the consumers who use it, you know as well as I.

Property and Supplies

The reduced appropriation recommended for the Department of Property and Supplies is contingent upon certain changes in the law to permit purchasing at less cost and with less delay. Central control of purchasing does not necessarily mean central ordering. Money can be saved by allowing departments and institutions to place their own orders under contracts or price agreements already made.

Better Business Methods

The State has never conducted its business by as business-like methods as it does today.

Throughout the two years of this Administration, improvements in the methods of doing the State's work have been steadily pushed ahead. I cite only a few. In the second year of this biennium we are saving at the rate of $6,000 a month on printing, binding, and stationery, $16,000 a month on traveling expenses, $28,000 a month on heat, light, power and fuel, $43,000 a month on food, and $51,000 a month on supplies. More than $150,000 has been saved by removing all offices in Harrisburg into State buildings and by reductions in other rentals.

Postage

By the use of economy postcards, and in other ways, and making allowance for the three-cent postage, we are saving on postage at the rate of $192,000 a year as compared with the last fiscal year.

Automobiles

During 1929-1931 the Commonwealth bought automobiles from the General Fund to the amount of $486,255. During the biennium 1931-1933 the corresponding expenditure will not exceed $258,000. This is a clear reduction in the cost of government of $228,000. In addition the use of State cars for private business or pleasure has been stopped, the purchase of expensive cars has been stopped and large numbers of them have been laid up, and cars are required to render full service before they are scrapped.

The cost of gasoline, oil, and repairs has been so greatly reduced that State cars now run at a total cost of about 2½ cents a mile. What was largely a racket has been changed into a business run on business principles.

Custodial Funds

The investment of the State's custodial funds has been reorganized and is up-to-date. Those funds today are very many thousands of dollars better off because investments offered have been thoroughly analyzed. Available records of investments prior to this Administration indicate little regard to value in many cases.

Salaries

Aside from the employees unavoidably added to take care of the work of the State Emergency Relief Board, the additional employees necessarily required by the Department of Banking in the present banking emergency, the special deputies and local counsel placed on salary by the Department of Justice at large savings to the State instead of on fees as heretofore, the additional motor patrolmen required to control gasoline bootlegging, who thus pay for themselves many times over and to carry on the twice-a-year compulsory vehicle inspection, and similar but minor instances, there were on December 1, 1932, 300 fewer employees in the departments under the Governor than when I took office in January, 1931, and the annual pay roll was smaller by $470,000.

In addition to these and countless other economies, a survey of business methods of the departments and institutions just completed will produce still further savings. It is expected that twenty-one bureaus will be eliminated in the departments under my control and their necessary functions transferred. Positions will be consolidated, overlapping functions, if any, will disappear, and field offices will be abolished. A better purchasing procedure has been outlined. High inventories will be reduced; cash discounts will be increased; delays will be lessened, and some additional personnel will be eliminated. The saving in Property and Supplies alone will be large.

Plans are made for better purchasing and use of heat, light fuel, power, and water. Thousands of dollars can be saved in fees now paid to engineering and architectural consultants if the law is changed to permit it. The use of power equipment and coal at the institutions can be greatly improved through better technical methods. New specifications and a standard coal contract are now being drawn. Large savings can thus be made.

Utility rates for equal service differ among the various institutions within the State and are excessive when compared with rates in other States. Pennsylvania's institutions are not enjoying special rate schedules as are neighboring states.

Per capita costs of institutions are being studied as never before. Because centralized accounts have been developed, we now know what is being spent at the institutions for every purpose. For the first time we can compare one institution with another. All of which brings costs down.

Saving Continues

The Departments are required to report monthly on their savings. In September these savings amounted to $211,000, in October to $292,000, and in November to $156,000. It is years since the taxpayer's dollar has produced anything like as much service to the people as it is producing today.

Immediate Saving

While the reduced budget I present to you will not go into effect until June 1, the Departments responsible to the Governor are being put on that basis as speedily as possible. Most are there now and the others, where commitments do not permit, will be on the reduced basis very shortly.

General Fund Deficiencies

I recommend deficiency appropriations of $1,600,000 as follows:

To the Public School Employees' Retirement Fund, $1,500,000, to replace the sum which the Extra Session of 1932 took from this fund.

To the Department of Forests and Waters, $100,000 for the cost of controlling forest fires. The deficiency appropriation of $600,000 made at the last Regular Session of the Legislature failed to cover the bills for the 1929-31 biennium by the amount of $73,000. As a result, a further appropriation is required.

It may interest you to know that in 1932 there were 4,810 fires which cost approximately $163,000 to extinguish, or an average of $34 per fire, as compared with 6,790 fires in 1930 costing $676,000, or an average of $100. The cost per fire was three times as much in 1930 as in 1932. That is the difference between professional and political leadership in forestry.

Special Funds

Thus far I have dealt primarily with the General Fund out of which money is provided for running general fund departments, institutions, and furnishing subsidies. The activities supported by the Special Funds, Fish, Game, Banking, and Motor, do not fall upon the general taxpayer. Fish, Game, and Banking present no budget problems. Something needs to be said about the Motor License Fund which supports highway maintenance and construction.

Motor License Fund

The revenues and receipts to the Motor License Fund are estimated for the present biennium to be $134,000,000. The 1933-1935 collections for this fund are estimated to be $126,000,000. This is a decrease of 6 per cent. A statement in detail will be found on page 49.

Highways

For the present biennium, the Department of Highways has a budget of $124,600,000. This is divided: $44,800,000 for road maintenance, office costs, payments of balances remaining from specific appropriations of Sessions prior to 1931, and miscellaneous items, and $79,800,000 for construction.

For 1933-1935, the estimated budget for the Department of Highways is $104,000,000. This is $20,600,000 less than this biennium's budget. The estimates for the Department of Highways can be found on page 37.

For maintenance and construction on the State highway system $46,800,000 is allotted. Of that amount $11,700,000 is necessary to match Federal Aid Funds. For construction and maintenance of State highways in cities $1,584,000 is allotted. And then, after taking out sufficient for administration and miscellaneous charges, there is left $41,985,000, or 40 per cent. of the total funds for construction and maintenance on the rural highway system, which will include, if the remaining township roads are taken over, some 70,000 miles.

Township Roads

I have already recommended that the State take over these township roads.

Without additional taxes, this additional mileage can be maintained and some construction can be done. But if the construction program is to be much expanded, another cent tax on gasoline will be necessary.

Revenues

We estimate that during the 1933-1935 biennium General Fund revenues to the amount of $156,500,000 will accrue. These with $1,500,000 of surplus in the present biennium, make up the total of $158,000,000, the amount of the General Fund Budget. In that amount is included $17,400,000 for the Dorrance Estate and $9,600,000 for the Delaware River Bridge.

During the blackest part of the depression the budget estimate for the biennium ending May 31, 1933, was revised as of June 1, 1932, and reduced to show estimated revenue of $64,400,000 for the single year ending May 31, 1933. Most fortunately, the fears which led to this reduction were not realized. The previous assessment and collection of State taxes, upon which our estimates were necessarily based, turned out to be more defective than was conceived to be possible, and in consequence the continued efficiency of the Department of Revenue has produced greater returns than could have been anticipated.

Specifically, the reduction in estimates from $76,224,000 to $64,480,000 was due to the rapid decline in taxable values. Corporation tax settlements made in 1932 for the calendar year 1931 indicated a material decline in corporation taxes. Stock, bond, and real estate values were constantly falling and threatening to carry corporation and inheritance taxes down with them. Gross premiums of insurance companies and domestic and foreign bonuses seemed sure to follow, while mercantile taxes would naturally decrease with the general decline in consumer purchasing power.

To cover a part of this shrinkage the receipt of about $8,000,000, as originally estimated, from the Delaware River Bridge Commission was anticipated.

Since June 1, 1932, when the revised estimate was made, the decline in corporation taxes has been in part offset by additional collections. The adjustment of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's appeal led to additional receipts from many accumulated appeals. Tax exemptions were more closely scrutinized. Settlements were demanded from public utility companies, many of which had been under assessed by millions of dollars, and the earnings of many such companies did not decrease, as had been expected, but actually increased, as did the tax on gross premiums of insurance companies.

Revenues from inheritance taxes increased over the revised budget because of active supervision in the field over appraisements and deductions, and vigilant supervision of security and real estate values. Moreover, since estates are appraised at date of death and settlements are made about eighteen months afterwards, inheritance tax receipts had not as yet followed the general decline in values.

Active supervision of mercantile appraisers resulted in larger receipts than were anticipated. Beginning in April, 1931, field inspection over only one-third of the State secured an additional half million dollars in mercantile taxes.

The establishment of district offices under the Department of Revenue hastened the collection of delinquent accounts beyond expectation and resulted in prompt collection of all types of taxes.

Consequently, the revised budget estimate for the second year of the biennium ending May 31, 1933, will show an increase of about $4,500,000 after collecting funds sufficient to make up for the $8,000,000 originally estimated from the Delaware River Bridge, which cannot be collected during this biennium.

Financial Policy

When the present Administration came into office it was generally believed that the depression would be short, and that the Commonwealth should help to end it by spending the appropriations made by the Legislature and approved by the Governor.

For 1931-33 these appropriations in the General Fund were in round numbers $192,000,000 which represented a reduction by the Governor of $19,000,000 from the bills passed by the Legislature, and was a million less than for the previous two years.

Before my first year was over the need for unemployment relief, the continuance of the depression, and the consequent fall in returns from taxation required a change in policy. Instead of spending to create employment the State must save to prevent a deficiency.

The saving in the Departments responsible to the Governor is one-third greater than the general average of saving. The total cost of the Departments under the Governor is substantially the same today as it was for the same Departments six years ago. This is a remarkable achievement in view of the expansion of the Government during the boom years, the many new functions imposed on the Departments by the Legislature, and the great increase in services rendered by the Departments to the people.

In Conclusion

If you are in any doubt as to what has been accomplished in this Budget, I suggest that you compare it with the Budget of any other State in America. You will find no other like it.

The Commonwealth, as I have said before, stands like a rock in the swishing currents of the depression. We may well be proud of the financial soundness and solidity of the Keystone State, and take courage in the midst of this great trial in her unshaken strength and her unquestioned ability to meet the test of the future. Whatever else may totter, Pennsylvania is firm. Whatever else may default, Pennsylvania is solvent. Whatever else may tremble, Pennsylvania is unafraid.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR SHANNON. The Chair wishes to express the thanks of the General Assembly to the Governor for the splendid message he has delivered to us today.

ADJOURNMENT OF JOINT SESSION

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR SHANNON. The business for which the Joint Session of the General Assembly was convened, having been transacted, the session is adjourned, and the Senators will please reassemble in the Senate Chamber.

THE SPEAKER (GROVER C. TALBOT) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. The address of the Governor will be noted in the Journal and the Budget for the fiscal biennium June 1, 1933, to May 31, 1935; will be printed in the Appendix to the Legislative Journal.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Secretary of Agriculture has requested the Chair to announce that the Farm Show opens on next Monday evening. He is desirous of taking care of any members of the Legislature who wish to attend the session of the first meeting on Monday night, the hour of starting being 7.30 o'clock. Those members present who wish to attend the opening session of the Farm Show will kindly, some time today, leave their names in the Speaker's office so that the Secretary of Agriculture can make the necessary arrangements.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. It will be necessary to hold a session of this House tomorrow, due to the fact that the Senate will be in session. The Chair requests that the members stay for the session tomorrow, because we would not like to meet and not have a quorum. That would be serious, because it would mean that the members would be sent for; the doors of the House would be closed and the members inside would remain there until a quorum was present. For that reason the Chair requests that the members stay for the session tomorrow.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. BARNHARDT. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Wednesday, January 11, 1933, at 10.00 o'clock, A. M.

The motion was agreed to, and at 12.50 o'clock P. M., the House adjourned until Wednesday, January 11, 1933 at 10.00 o'clock, A. M.

The Chaplain, Rev. Christian H. Shirk, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we look to Thee for help and guidance as we enter upon the duties of a new day. We thank Thee for the manifold mercies wherewith Thou hast enriched our lives.

We are confronted with perplexing problems in our individual as well as our State, national and international affairs. As our worthy ancestors, in their day, met and overcame their adversities with courage, grant that we, in like manner, and with Thy help, may prevail over our difficulties.

May we have faith to believe that through Thy providence there are better days before us. May we do our part to hasten their coming.

For these mercies we entreat Thee in the name of our Lord. Amen.

COMMITTEE ESCORTS THE GOVERNOR TO THE SENATE CHAMBER

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, the committee appointed to escort the Governor to the Senate Chamber is honored in presenting the Governor of the Commonwealth, Honorable Gifford Pinchot.

The PRESIDENT. I have the honor to present to the Senate the Honorable Gifford Pinchot, the Governor of the Commonwealth, who will now address you.

ADDRESS BY THE GOVERNOR

Gentlemen of the Senate: An attack has recently been made upon the floor of this chamber so false, so insulting, so inspired by malice, and so entirely beyond the bounds of decency, that the honor of the Senate demands action more direct and effective than the mere expunging of the lie from its records.

Yesterday I was too angry to trust myself before you. But I can no longer postpone this demand for justice.

This is not the first time that a like dastardly attack has been made by men high in the Republican organization. During my first term an organization Senator committed a similar slander on this floor. At the beginning of this term I was warned in advance of the abominable whispering campaign which was being planned and which has in fact been carried on.

I am here to say that I am entirely ready to meet my enemies at any time and on any issue, but I insist they shall cease this cowardly system of striking at me through a woman. It has gone too far.

The charge, it is well known, is unqualifiedly false. Because it is false, I demand that you require the slanderer to produce his proof or make public reparation.

The laws of the State prevent me from taking into my own hands the punishment of the offender. I cannot properly horsewhip a Senator, however much I may desire to, and however much the Senator may deserve it.

But the Senate has disciplinary authority and power. The course which is demanded of you by the good name of the Commonwealth should be clear before you. I bid you good day.

RESOLUTION MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS RELATIVE TO PROPOSED DECREASE IN NATIONAL DEFENSE

Mr. PETHICK. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. PETHICK offered the following resolution, which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

In the Senate, January 11, 1933.

Whereas, The present Congress of the United States is considering under the guise of economy, the radical cutting of appropriations for the support of the Army, Navy and Marine corps of the United States and of the National Guards of the several States; and

Whereas, The Army is at present pitifully insufficient for the defense of our mainland without regard for our insular possessions; and

Whereas, The Navy is far below the standard decided upon as necessary for the safety of the United States and agreed to by the powers in a far less unsettled time; and

Whereas, The Marine Corps although small has proven for more than a century the most mobile and effective police force in any National or international emergency this Nation has ever had; and

Whereas, Through Federal aid and supervision the National Guard has risen to a point of efficiency heretofore unknown; and

Whereas, No reasoning person can believe in pacific safety in the face of existing facts. Every peace pact, treaty, or league of Nation action has proven and is at present proving futile and useless to turn any Nation from a policy of aggrandisement; and

Whereas, Events within the last twenty years have proven the futility of preserving the neutrality of the United States in the event of a major conflict; and

Whereas, The existing National and international debts are the result of past unpreparedness, and the existing brawl over the collection thereof, the result of present unpreparedness; and

Whereas, The voice of the United States in the interests of universal peace is respected only in proportion to its existing and active power; and

Whereas, The effects of the present economic chaos on the governments of the world have conclusively proven that only strong, well sustained governments can survive; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Senate and the House of Representatives of the 1933 Session of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorializes the present Congress of the United States to refrain from taking any action for the purpose of economy or other purpose that will further decrease the strength and effectiveness of the armed forces of the United States and the several States thereof; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania therein.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. PETHICK. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. PETHICK, from Committee on Military Affairs, reported as committed, the following resolution.

RESOLUTION MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS RELATIVE TO PROPOSED DECREASE OF NATIONAL DEFENSE

In the Senate, January 11, 1933.

Whereas, The present Congress of the United States is considering under the guise of economy, the radical cutting of appropriations for the support of the Army, Navy and Marine corps of the United States and of the National Guards of the several States; and

Whereas, The Army is at present pitifully insufficient for the defense of our mainland without regard for our insular possessions; and

Whereas, The Navy is far below the standard decided upon as necessary for the safety of the United States and agreed to by the Powers in a far less unsettled time; and

Whereas, The Marine Corps although small has proven for more than a century the most mobile and effective police force in any National or international emergency this Nation has ever had; and

Whereas, Through Federal aid and supervision the National Guard has risen to a point of efficiency heretofore unknown; and

Whereas, No reasoning person can believe in pacific safety in the face of existing facts. Every peace pact, treaty, or league of Nation action has proven and is at present proving futile and useless to turn any Nation from a policy of aggrandisement; and

Whereas, Events within the last twenty years have proven the futility of preserving the neutrality of the United States in the event of a major conflict; and

Whereas, The existing National and international debts are the result of past unpreparedness, and the existing brawl over the collection thereof, the result of present unpreparedness; and

Whereas, The voice of the United States in the interests of universal peace is respected only in proportion to its existing and active power; and

Whereas, The effects of the present economic chaos on the governments of the world have conclusively proven that only strong, well sustained governments can survive; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Senate and the House of Representatives of the 1933 Session of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorializes the present Congress of the United States to refrain from taking any action for the purpose of economy or other purpose that will further decrease the strength and effectiveness of the armed forces of the United States and the several States thereof; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania therein.

Which was laid on the table.

Whereas, The Treasury Department of the United States is empowered to select a site in the said city of Philadelphia, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, upon which to erect the said new Federal building as aforesaid; and

Whereas, The present site of the Federal building housing the aforesaid courts is located at the southwest corner of Ninth and Market Streets, and extending to the northwest corner of Ninth and Chestnut Streets; and

Whereas, The present location of the Federal building is not a suitable location for the courts aforesaid; and

Whereas, There is in the city of Philadelphia a Parkway, extending from City Hall, situated in Penn Square, to Fairmount Park, upon which are erected the many public buildings of architectural beauty, and upon which future buildings of similar type are to be erected; and

Whereas, The said Parkway in the city of Philadelphia has been laid out and developed by the city of Philadelphia at great expense, and is a boulevard of great beauty; and

Whereas, The said Parkway is situated so that it would be of convenient access to litigants and officers having business in the aforesaid courts and to railroad stations; and

Whereas, It is contemplated by the representatives of the government to erect a building of architectural beauty such as would be in keeping with those already erected, and which will in the future be erected on the Parkway aforesaid; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully urge the Treasury Department of the United States to select as a site or location for the erection of the said Federal building to house the Federal courts as aforesaid, the southeast corner of Eighteenth street and the Parkway;

We bless Thee that order is heaven's first law. Order Thou our lives, this day, we pray, in accordance with Thy divine laws. Give to us each the blessings of a conscience void of offense, in the sight of God and of our fellowmen.

We ask no greater blessing at Thy hand, O Lord, than that Thou shouldst inspire us to deal justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly before our Maker. In Thy name. Amen.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 11, 1933.

Whereas, There has been appropriated by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States the sum of two million nine hundred thousand dollars ($2,900,000) for the purpose of erecting and constructing a Federal building within the city of Philadelphia, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, for the use of the United States District Court of the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, and of the Circuit Courts of Appeal of the Third Circuit; and

Whereas, The Treasury Department of the United States is empowered to select a site in the said city of Philadelphia, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, upon which to erect the said new Federal building as aforesaid; and

Whereas, The present site of the Federal building housing the aforesaid courts is located at the southwest corner of Ninth and Market streets, and extending to the northwest corner of Ninth and Chestnut streets; and

Whereas, The present location of the Federal building is not a suitable location for the courts aforesaid; and

Whereas, There is in the city of Philadelphia a Parkway, extending from City Hall, situated in Penn Square, to Fairmount Park, upon which are erected the many public buildings of architectural beauty, and upon which future buildings of similar type are to be erected; and

Whereas, The said Parkway in the city of Philadelphia has been laid out and developed by the city of Philadelphia at great expense, and is a boulevard of great beauty; and

Whereas, The said Parkway is situated so that it would be of convenient access to litigants and officers having business in the aforesaid courts and to railroad stations; and

Whereas, It is contemplated by the representatives of the government to erect a building of architectural beauty such as would be in keeping with those already erected, and which will in the future be erected on the Parkway aforesaid; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully urge the Treasury Department of the United States to select as a site or location for the erection of the said Federal building to house the Federal courts as aforesaid, the southeast corner of Eighteenth street and the Parkway;

SENATE

MONDAY, January 16, 1933

The Senate met at 9.00 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Edward C. Shan-non) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Christian H. Shirk, offered the following prayer:

Thou Omnipotent God, while we are advocates of democracy in our American form of government, and believe in the sovereign rights of our people, when we come to consider Thy kingdom we most readily believe in an absolute monarchy. We regard Thee as the Sovereign Ruler of this universe.

Thou art so wise, loving, just and good; Thou art so kindly disposed toward Thy subjects, and so beneficent in Thy rulership; Thou art ever seeking their highest welfare. Hence we would submit our wills to Thy supreme will. We would ask Thee, in Thy great kingdom of righteousness, to rule over us.

May we ever love Thy just laws and render ready obedience to Thy blessed will. And to Thee we will ascribe endless praise in the name of our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

INVITATION TO ATTEND MASS MEETING IN CONNECTION WITH FARM SHOW

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate the following communications:

January 10, 1933.

Honorable Edward C. Shannon,
Lieutenant Governor,
Harrisburg, Pa.

Dear General:

The mass meeting in connection with the Farm Show, January 16 to 20, held in the arena, January 16, always fills the arena much more than its normal capacity.

If any members of the Senate, or all of them desire to attend this mass meeting at which a chorus of forty male voices will sing, Governor Pinchot and L. J. Taber the Master of the National Grange will speak, we will be glad to arrange for their comfort through a reserved seat. We hope that as many as desire to go to the meeting will express that desire so they can be cared for.

Parking will be furnished at the East end of the building for members of the House and Senate all of the week but we are especially anxious to care for them on Monday night because of the crowd.

I have also put in the hands of the Clerk of the Senate sufficient programs so that all members of the Senate may know the proceedings of the whole week.

Sincerely yours,
JOHN A. McSPARRAN,
Secretary of Agriculture.

INVITATION TO VISIT THE PENNSYLVANIA FARM SHOW

January 15, 1933.

Hon. Edward C. Shannon,
State of Pennsylvania,
Harrisburg, Pa.

Dear General Shannon:

Since we extended to you an invitation to go out to the Farm Show we realized that many of you are here without transportation. We are trying to meet that need so that you can get out and back with no inconvenience.

State cars will be at the center front door of the Capitol at seven (7.00) o'clock, Monday evening. Mr. George A. Stuart of the Bureau of Markets will be there to see that you get transportation. At seven fifteen (7.15) the procession will move under police escort to the Farm Show Building and the cars will be on hand to bring you back immediately at the close of the session. I understand that the Members of the House are not required to be back strictly at nine (9.00) o'clock.

If during the week you desire to go out to see the show, if you will call Extension No. 854 we shall be glad to see that you get out and back.

Sincerely yours,
JOHN A. McSPARRAN,
Secretary of Agriculture.

Sirs:—

By direction of the Twenty-Third Legislative Assembly of the State of North Dakota now in session we transmit, attached hereto, a copy of Senate Resolution A-1, urging State Legislatures to memorialize Congress to pass Senate Bill 1197, known as the Frazier Bill.

Will you kindly arrange to have this resolution read at an early session?

MEMORIAL TO THE MEMBERS OF STATE LEGISLATURES URGING STATE LEGISLATURES TO MEMORIALIZE CONGRESS TO PASS SENATE BILL 1197, KNOWN AS THE FRAZIER BILL.

SENATE RESOLUTION No. A-1.

INTRODUCED BY SENATOR FINE AND SENATOR GREENE

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE OF THE STATE OF NORTH DAKOTA, THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCURRING, THAT:

Whereas, a crisis exists and hundreds of thousands of once prosperous farmers in this nation have already lost their homes and their all by mortgage foreclosurers because of the fact that the price of agricultural products has for years been below the cost of production, a condition that effects all of the people of this nation and is largely responsible for the continuance of the depression; and

Whereas, there is no adequate way of refinancing existing agricultural indebtedness and the farmers are at the mercy of their mortgagees and creditors; and

Whereas, unless immediate relief is given thousands and hundreds of thousands of additional farmers will lose their farms and their homes and millions more will be forced into our cities and villages and the army of unemployed will necessarily increase to alarming proportions, precipitating a condition that threatens the very life of this nation; and

Whereas, the State Legislatures of Montana, North Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Illinois have each and all memorialized Congress to pass Senate Bill No. 1197, known as the Frazier Bill, without delay, which bill provides that existing farm indebtedness shall be refinanced by the Government of the United States at 1½% interest and 1½% principal on the amortization plan, not by issuing bonds and plunging the nation further into debt, but by issuing Federal Reserve notes the same as the Government now does for the banks through the Federal Reserve Bank.

Now Therefore, The Legislative Assembly of the State of North Dakota respectfully requests and petitions the legislatures of the other states that have not already done so to memorialize Congress to pass Senate Bill 1197 without delay, in order that the agricultural indebtedness of this nation may be speedily liquidated and refinanced and agriculture saved from utter ruin and destruction and this depression brought to an intelligent and speedy end, and respectfully requests that the state legislatures cause copies of such memorial, after same has been passed, to be sent to the President of the United States, to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House, to Senator Frazier at Washington, D. C., and to William Lemke, Congressman-elect, at Fargo, North Dakota.

Be It Further Resolved, That the Secretary of State cause sufficient copies of this resolution to be printed and that he cause to be mailed a copy to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of each of the forty-three states that have not as yet memorialized Congress to pass Senate Bill 1197, requesting that said resolution be read before each of said bodies.

OLE H. OLSON,
President of the Senate.

SIDNEY A. PAPKE,
Secretary of the Senate.

MINNIE D. CRAIG,
Speaker of the House.

JAMES P. CURRAN,
Chief Clerk of the House.

RESOLUTION RECOMMITTED

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I move that the resolution be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS RELATIVE TO PROPOSED DECREASE IN NATIONAL DEFENSE

Mr. PETHICK. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of resolution reported from the Committee on Military Affairs on January 11th.

Mr. PARKINSON. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, January 11, 1933.

Whereas, The present Congress of the United States is considering under the guise of economy, the radical cutting of appropriations for the support of the Army, Navy and Marine corps of the United States and of the National Guards of the several States; and

Whereas, The Army is at present pitifully insufficient for the defense of our mainland without regard for our insular possessions; and

Whereas, The Navy is far below the standard decided upon as necessary for the safety of the United States and agreed to by the powers in a far less unsettled time; and

Whereas, The Marine Corps although small has proven for more than a century the most mobile and effective police force in any National or international emergency this Nation has ever had; and

Whereas, Through Federal aid and supervision the National Guard has risen to a point of efficiency heretofore unknown; and

Whereas, No reasoning person can believe in pacific safety in the face of existing facts. Every peace pact, treaty, or league of Nation action has proven and is at present proving futile and useless to turn any Nation from a policy of aggrandisement; and

Whereas, Events within the last twenty years have proven the futility of preserving the neutrality of the United States in the event of a major conflict; and

Whereas, The existing National and international debts are the result of past unpreparedness, and the existing brawl over the collection thereof, the result of present unpreparedness; and

Whereas, The voice of the United States in the interests of universal peace is respected only in proportion to its existing and active power; and

Whereas, The effects of the present economic chaos on the governments of the world have conclusively proven that only strong, well sustained governments can survive; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Senate and the House of Representatives of the 1933 Session of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorializes the present Congress of the United States to refrain from taking any action for the purpose of economy or other purpose that will further decrease the strength and effectiveness of the armed forces of the United States and the several States thereof; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania therein.

Mr. EINSTEIN. Mr. President, I move that the resolution be adopted.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO APPOINTMENT OF JOINT LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION PROGRAM.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of concurrent resolution of the House of Representatives (Serial No. 200), reported from the Committee on Public Roads and Highways on January 15th.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 3, 1933.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the President pro tempore of the Senate shall appoint three Members of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall appoint three Members of the House of Representatives, who together shall constitute a joint legislative committee, and organize by the selection of a chairman and secretary.

It shall be the duty of said committee to investigate and study the desirability of continuing the low-cost-type highway construction, the cost of the construction and maintenance of such highways, and whether such highways justify the expenditures made, also whether the amounts expended from the Motor License Fund on low-cost-type highways should be limited or discontinued by the Legislature, and such other matters and facts in connection therewith as may be of information to the General Assembly in order to act intelligently on legislation relating to the Highway program of the Commonwealth.

The committee shall have power to hold such hearings as may be necessary. It shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requiring and commanding any person to appear before it, and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person by any members of the committee, or by any sergeant-at-arms of the Senate or House of Representatives, and shall have the same force and effect as subpoenas issued out of the courts of the Commonwealth. Each member of the committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before it. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to appear or testify before said committee, or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties approved by the laws of this Commonwealth in such cases.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I move that the resolution be adopted.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the House of Representatives accordingly.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President and members of the Senate, I hold in my hand at this time a letter addressed to myself, and

I think to each one of the members of the Senate, by Harry A. Mackey, former mayor of Philadelphia, the first two paragraphs of which are as follows:

"My dear Senator:

I am informed that a resolution passed by your Honorable Body taking sides in a purely local matter involving the location of the Federal Courts of the eastern district of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia, without having been passed upon at any meeting of your committee on Federal Relations, where the resolution had been sent, although a request had been made for a hearing.

"I represent very large interests in Philadelphia that desire an opportunity to show the Committee on Federal Relations, as well as your whole body, that this is a matter in which you ought not to have become involved at all, inasmuch as yours is not the tribunal where the location of a Federal Court building in Philadelphia should have consideration or should be debated."

The first part of this letter—and before I go into it, I think the mayor has been misinformed, and that if he had proper information on this subject, no doubt he would not have written this letter. The first part of this letter casts a stigma on the entire Senate of Pennsylvania, wherein he states that the bill was passed without any meeting of the Committee on Federal Relations. My experience has been in this Senate that when bills are sent to committees they receive full and proper consideration, and are not passed out of committees without proper consideration. My experience has been during the number of years that I have been in this body that every matter receives honest consideration, and is not treated as carelessly as this letter indicates.

The second clause of this letter casts reflection on the integrity of the Chairman of the Federal Relations Committee, and has caused considerable comment not only in Philadelphia but possible through the State of Pennsylvania, to the effect that the Senator who is Chairman of the Committee on Federal Relations would be a party to such a high-handed and unlegislative proceeding. I took it upon myself, upon the receipt of this letter, to look into the records to see just what had happened. I find that this resolution, which was passed by the House and then brought to the Senate, was passed over to the Committee on Federal Relations, the Chairman of that Committee being Senator Brandt, of Allegheny County. Senator Hunsicker and myself called on Senator Brandt, of Allegheny County, and told him that the big business interests in Philadelphia opposed to the building of these Federal Courts on the Parkway would like to have a hearing on the matter. Senator Brandt informed both of us that this bill would be kept in his Committee, and that an opportunity would be granted to those opposed to it to be heard. In addition to that, it has placed me in a rather unpleasant position, and I think also has placed Senator Hunsicker in a similar position, because these large interests in Philadelphia depended on Senator Hunsicker and myself to see that they would be heard, and after I had the word of Senator Brandt that they would be heard, I imparted to these interests the information that in due course they would be heard. To my utter surprise, I found that this resolution had been passed, and for the life of me I could not understand it, knowing Senator Brandt as I knew him, and knowing him to be a man of integrity and honor, and a man who was and is at all times faithful in the performance of his duties as a Senator. How such a condition could arise I did not know, and I took it upon myself to investigate this matter.

And now I would like to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Brandt, if he will allow himself to be interrogated.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Brandt, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BRANDT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, isn't it a fact that this resolution was referred to Senator Brandt's committee?

Mr. BRANDT. Mr. President, yes.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, is it also a fact that both Senator Hunsicker and I requested of Senator Brandt a hearing of the public interests in Philadelphia?

Mr. BRANDT. Mr. President, yes, I received such a request.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, isn't it also a fact that the resolution is still in Senator Brandt's committee and has never been reported out?

Mr. BRANDT. Mr. President, yes, it is still in the Committee.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, and isn't it a fact that Senator Brandt is still ready and willing to give those persons in our district an opportunity to be heard on that resolution?

Mr. Brandt. Mr. President, I certainly am still ready and willing.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I thank the Senator.

Now then, Mr. President, I want to tell you and the members of this body that I think we ought to know just what happened so far as this resolution was concerned. Senator Brandt, I understand, was asked to call his Committee together and report this resolution out one day last week, I think on Wednesday, and I am informed that Senator Brandt stated that he could not comply with the request because his promise had been given both to Senator Hunsicker and myself that the resolution could not be disposed of in his committee until the parties that Senator Hunsicker and myself were interested in could be heard. It then so happened, as I understand, that Senator Brandt had business to transact in Harrisburg last Wednesday. I happened to be in Philadelphia in court trying a case, and Senator Hunsicker happened to be in Philadelphia at the time. So neither one of us was present, and during our absence a similar resolution was presented in the House, a concurrent resolution, passed over in the House, and was passed in the Senate, although Senator Brandt's Committee had taken no action, and without Senator Brandt's consent.

This looks to me, Mr. President, like a high-handed piece of business. It looks to me as if someone took an unfair advantage of the prerogative of this Senate. It is a matter that cannot and should not be allowed to go unnoticed. This proposition, Mr. President and members of the Senate, is important. It is a sales proposition, purely a sales proposition, wherein and whereby the Senate of Pennsylvania and the members of this legislative body are to be taken with their resolutions to Washington, and there be made a part and parcel of a sales proposition to unload on the city of Philadelphia a lot of real estate that they do not want, or else to take a lot of taxable property from the city of Philadelphia and convert it into untaxable property. This location is not desirable, it is not wanted, and is not what the people in this particular district desire. Furthermore, it is not right that it should be in the legislative halls of Pennsylvania. It is not a Pennsylvania proposition. It is strictly a local proposition for the city of Philadelphia, for the city of Philadelphia and its citizens to decide.

The Senate of Pennsylvania and the members of the House, and that for which they stand, should not be taken to Washington with a resolution passed as a sales proposition for the benefit of a very large trust company in Philadelphia and for the material advantage of a lawyer who some years ago, when the Delaware River bridge was built, unloaded on the city of Philadelphia, through the influence that he then had—and that is quite a number of years ago—a lot of property that he had bought, unloaded and sold to the city of Philadelphia, which property was never needed, never used, and is lying idle in the city of Philadelphia now, unoccupied, no tax being paid on it, and never used for any purpose by the Delaware River bridge. It is time that people who want to earn money or want to sell property should learn that money or sell that property on its intrinsic value and for what it is worth, and not use the State of Pennsylvania and the dignity, the honor, and the respectability of this body and its members to advocate a personal proposition for personal gain. But, above all things else, and the main reason that I am bringing it to the attention of the Senate at this time is that the mayor should have written anything that would cast a stigma on the Senate of Pennsylvania or would be a reflection on the character, the honesty and veracity of Senator Brandt of Allegheny County, whom we all respect and admire.

I have no motion to make, because I do not believe the resolution is worth the paper that it is written on.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The President. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, the remarks that have been made by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, have confirmed and justified the thoughts that I have had in this body for a long time. It has grown to be the custom of this body, I am sorry to say, for some member of this body or some member of the House to present resolutions that shall be read from the desk and passed by a viva voce vote without any consideration whatsoever by this body, some of them on important subjects, of which we know little or nothing; and as a result of these resolutions Congress is memorialized through our thirty-four Congressmen and two United States Senators to do or not to do something, and give it the backing and authority of this Legislature of Pennsylvania. And I think it is high time that this Legislature should cease to pass such half-baked resolutions as we have been passing. We passed a resolution tonight asking Congress to do something that was presented, I understand, by the American Legion. It may be all right, I hope it is. I know nothing against it. But I want to serve notice now on the other members of this Senate that I for one shall insist on careful consideration upon all resolutions on subjects to be presented to the Federal Government at Washington, about which we know so little. In sessions gone by we have memorialized Congress to vote or not to vote for bills pending before the Federal Congress. This, to my mind, is a mistake. Congress does not pass resolutions asking this Legislature to pass or not to pass any bill pending before us. I consider that it is trespassing on the duties of the Federal Legislature for this Assembly to pass resolutions in the manner in which we have been doing in the past; and I am sick and tired and fed up on these resolutions being handed to me by a member of the Senate by a friend of his and being brought up to the desk and passed without any consideration whatsoever, and the weight of the great seal of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania attached to a memorial that is being brought to Congress on matter of importance with little or no consideration.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. EINSTEIN. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Einstein, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. EINSTEIN. Mr. President, I made the motion to have the resolution adopted that Senator Buckman is speaking about. The resolution was presented by Senator Pethick. I never heard the resolution before this evening, but I paid attention to it, and paid attention to every word the Secretary read; and I believe that if we as Senators pay attention and listen to the resolutions that are offered here, there is plenty of time to have them put in committee, or not to have them passed now, there was no one objected to that resolution and it passed unanimously, and I made the motion to adopt it.

RECESS

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for ten minutes.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I move the adoption of the resolution.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.
 The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO THE PURCHASE OF AMERICAN PRODUCTS

Mr. COYNE offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senaet, January 16, 1933.

Whereas, Many of the nations of Europe are conducting campaigns, for the purpose of inducing their citizens to confine their purchases to products grown or produced within such nations; and

Whereas, These campaigns are having a depressing effect on the export trade of the United States and tend to reduce the consumption of American products abroad, and

Whereas, It is particularly appropriate in this period of depression and under consumption that the American market be intensely cultivated and preserved for the benefit of American manufacturers and producers; and

Whereas, Hearst newspapers have inaugurated a campaign designed to impress upon American citizens the advantage of limiting their purchases to products grown or manufactured in the United States, now, therefore, be it Resolved by the Senate of the 103rd General Assembly, the House concurring herein, that is the sense of the General Assembly that this campaign should meet with general public approval and response.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I move that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I second the motion.
 The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO SESSION OF THE AMERICAN LEGISLATORS ASSOCIATION

Mr. WOODWARD offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, January 16, 1933.

Whereas, The Legislature by resolutions and by an appropriation at the 1931 Session, recognized the American Legislators' Association as a quasi-governmental body which could be of real service to the Legislature of Pennsylvania and those of other states; and

Whereas, This Association has called an Interstate Conference of Legislators to be held Friday and Saturday, February 3rd and 4th, 1933, in Washington, D. C., for the purpose of considering the advisability of establishing a standing committee of Legislators—with an advisory board of fiscal officials—to study and confer upon the problems of conflicting taxation; and

Whereas, the Association has invited the Legislatures and the Governors of the several states to send delegates to this conference; therefore be it

Resolved, That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate be authorized to appoint one Member of the Senate as the official delegate of the Senate to the Interstate Conference of Legislators of the forty-eight states to be held in the city of Washington on February 3rd and 4th, 1933;

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the Senate to the American Legislators Association.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, perhaps it is due to the Senate to explain this resolution. You all know, I think, what the American Legislators Association is. On February 3rd and 4th there is going to be a meeting of perhaps twenty-five or thirty states and a sub-committee of the Ways and Means Committee of Congress—the House of Representatives—to attempt to make a proper allotment in the field of taxation between the Federal Government and the government of the forty-eight states, and it certainly is high time that something of that kind is done. As you know, we all go fishing and play pool and we tax gasoline, and our taxes overlap everywhere and this is a perfectly logical movement to try to get some scientific separation of taxation of Federal Government between all the states, so that we will have a look-in and not the Federal Government get the whole line of taxes. I will also state that I hope the President Pro Tempore will appoint me as representative.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, in view of the candidacy of the Senator from Germantown and Philadelphia I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39 be suspended and that the Senate proceed to the immediate consideration of this resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

In the silence of this opening moment, O Lord, may we pause and know that thou art God. Thou hast been at work down through the ages, providing for us a happy world in which to live. For a brief season Thou has intrusted us with authority and power. Then for us all will come the Judgment Day

Almighty God we would live each day at our very best; we would have convictions and noble motives; and we would dare to stand by those convictions though the heavens fall.

We bring to the tasks of the evening minds that are willing to be guided of Thee; hearts that long for Thy peace and Thy power; and consciences trained in many schools, but unitedly seeking to be void of offense.

May wisdom, and courage, and strength be supplied to each Officer and Member of this House, and to all who are in authority in this great Commonwealth. We ask it in Thy name Amen.

INTERSTATE CONFERENCE OF LEGISLATORS

To the Governor, the Senate, and the House of Representatives of each of the Forty-Eight States:

It has long been apparent that substantial benefits would result to the citizens of all states from a closer contact between the various legislatures, and that many governmental difficulties are aggravated by the absence of adequate facilities for conference between these law-making bodies.

In connection with problems of taxation, the evils resulting from this lack of contact had become especially acute even before the present economic depression. The further factor of the inability of the states to deal with the federal government in an orderly and co-operative manner has involved heavy burdens upon the taxpayer, upon the federal government, and upon each state.

The impaired ability of our citizens to bear the cost of government has now rendered these problems of taxation critical. The burdens of our individual taxpayers and the difficulties of each of our forty-eight states imperatively demand that an attempt be made to improve this situation.

This is a legislative problem. The present economic emergency creates an imperative necessity for joint counsel and concerted action. It is time for the states to make common cause.

Accordingly, after careful consideration and conference with representative legislators, eminent tax experts, and state revenue officials, the American Legislators' Association now issues this call.

Call

The Interstate Conference of official delegates of the forty-eight legislatures will be held on Friday and Saturday, February 3 and 4, 1933 in Washington, D. C. This will be the first official conference of this character which has ever convened in the United State.

Purpose

This conference is called to consider the advisability of establishing a standing committee of legislators—with an advisory board of fiscal officials—to study and confer upon the problems of conflicting taxation. It will be the duty of this committee, if established, to report its findings and recommendations at a subsequent meeting of the Interstate Conference of Legislators.

Invitation to Legislatures

The Senate of each state is hereby invited to send as its delegate to this conference one of its members—chosen in such manner as the Senate may determine.

Similarly the House of Representatives of each state is hereby invited to send as its delegate to this conference one of its members—chosen in such manner as the House of Representatives may determine.

Invitation to Governors

The Governor of each state is hereby invited to send to the conference one or more principal fiscal officers of the state (such as the Budget Commissioner, the Chairman of the State Tax Commission, or the Director of the Department of Revenue, to represent him at the conference of legislators in an advisory capacity.

Designations

All such delegates and fiscal officials (and an alternate for each) should be designated on or before Thursday, January 12, 1933. And on or before that date official notification of the names of such delegates and alternates should be mailed in behalf of each state to the corresponding secretary of the conference by the Secretary of the Senate, the Clerk of the House of Representatives, and the Secretary to the Governor respectively.

Expenses of Delegates

In most cases the expenses of delegates to the conference will be provided from legislative contingent funds and the expenses of officials will be paid by their departments. Otherwise special administrative or legislative action will be necessary. But in each state, whether or not such financial provisions have been made prior to January 12, 1933, the delegates and alternates should be designated by that date. Each legislature and each Governor is strongly urged to take action promptly in order that the roster of the states may be complete from the outset. Obviously the conference will have no official point of contact with any legislature which fails to designate its delegates.

Time, Place, and Correspondence

The conference will be held at the Shoreham Hotel, Washington, D. C. The opening session will convene at 10 A. M. on Friday, February 3. Communications should be addressed in care of the American Legislators' Association, Drexel Avenue and Fifty-eighth street, Chicago, Illinois.

RESOLUTION

APPOINTMENT OF REPRESENTATIVES TO INTER-STATE CONFERENCE OF LEGISLATORS

Mr. HUTTON offered a resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 16, 1933.

Whereas, the Legislature by resolutions and by an appropriation at the 1931 Session, recognized the American Legislators' Association as a quasi-governmental body which could be of real service to the Legislature of Pennsylvania and those of other states; and

Whereas, This Association has called an Interstate Conference of Legislators to be held Friday and Saturday, February 3rd and 4th, 1933, in Washington, D. C., for the purpose of considering the advisability of establishing a standing committee of Legislators—with an advisory board of fiscal officials—to study and confer upon the problems of conflicting taxation; and

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives and one Member of the House to be appointed by the Speaker, shall be the official delegates of the House of Representatives to the Interstate Conference of Legislators of the forty-eight states to be held in the city of Washington on February 3rd and 4th, 1933;

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the American Legislators' Association.

RESOLUTION

COMMITTEE ROOMS

Mr. WILSON offered a resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 16, 1933.

Whereas, The special committee created by the House of Representatives at the Session of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, with respect to committee rooms for the use of the House reported on January third that but six committee rooms were available for the use of the House, and that four additional rooms designed for the use of the House are occupied by the Governor and the Auditor General; and

Whereas, Said committee reported that it has failed in its efforts to secure said additional rooms which it believed essential for the use of the House, and called attention to the fact that similar conditions existed at every session of the Legislature; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Governor and the Department of Property and Supplies be requested to take immediate steps to have vacated House committee rooms Numbers five hundred and five, five hundred and six, five hundred and seven, and five hundred and eight, and that said rooms be made available for the use of the House of Representatives during this Session and future sessions;

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Governor and to the Secretary of Property and Supplies.

The SPEAKER. This resolution being from the Rules Committee does not require unanimous consent.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

RESOLUTION

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO STUDY LEGISLATION ON UNEMPLOYMENT

Mr. BLUMBERG offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules.

In the House of Representatives, January 16, 1933.

Whereas, Various resolutions and bills are being introduced on the subject of unemployment relief, and it is apparant that further steps must be taken by the Legislature now in session to meet conditions presently prevailing in the Commonwealth; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives is authorized to appoint a special committee of seven Members of the House whose duty it shall be to study all resolutions and bills introduced with respect to unemployment and unemployment relief, and generally to make a study of the situation in different parts of the Commonwealth, and the manner in which relief may be granted by the Legislature;

Resolved, That said committee shall make a report to the House as early as possible, setting forth a program of legislation for the consideration of the House.

RESOLUTION

PROTESTING ESTABLISHMENT OF COMMISSARIES

Mr. MALINA offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, January 16, 1933.

Whereas, It has been reported that the State Emergency Relief Board is considering establishing commissaries in all sections of the Commonwealth for the purpose of supplying food to the unemployed instead of providing them with food orders, and,

Whereas, Such a system would not only put a gratuitous insult on all of the worthy needy of this Commonwealth who are destitute through no fault of their own but would also prove of little or no benefit in conserving relief funds, and,

Whereas, Such systems have proved valueless in other states where experiments have been tried with them and would certainly not be of any advantage in the populous sections of this Commonwealth such as the cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, therefor,

Be It Resolved, That this House of Representatives inform the said State Emergency Relief Board that the sentiment of this honorable body is strongly opposed to experimenting with human welfare and recommends that the proposed commissary scheme be abandoned.

RESOLUTION

ESTABLISHMENT OF LIQUOR LAW REVISION COMMISSION

Mr. RHODES offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, January 16, 1933.

Whereas, The amendment by Congress of the Volstead Act changing the definition of intoxicating liquor would allow the indiscriminate sale in this Commonwealth of brewed liquors of a higher alcoholic content than those sold; and

Whereas, Such sale of brewed liquor could result in the return of the saloon unless proper legislation is passed to regulate and control the same; and

Whereas, The repeal of the eighteenth amendment of the Constitution of th United States before the next regular session of this Legislature is possible; and

Whereas, Such repeal would find the Commonwealth unprepared to handle and regulate the resumption of the liquor traffic which would follow such repeal; and

Whereas, A careful study should immediately be made of the conditions that would most probably result, and of the legislation that will be needed to most carefully guard the interests of the public, and at the same time produce revenue for the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, If Congress should direct that the question of the repeal of the eighteenth amendment should be submitted to State Conventions, legislation would be necessary in order to arrange for the election of delegates thereto and the holding thereof; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania (if the Senate concur), That a Liquor Law Revision Commission is hereby created consisting of seven members, two of whom shall be appointed by the Speaker of the House, two by the President pro tempore of the Senate, and three by the Governor of the Commonwealth, whose duty shall be to make a careful study of (a) present and former liquor laws and their relation to present conditions, and of the effect any modification of the Volstead Act, or the repeal of the eighteenth amendment of the Constitution of the United States would have upon them, (b) the matter of revenue in connection with any change in the law regulating the manufacture, sale and consumption of alcoholic beverages, and (c) the manner of submitting amendments to the Constitution of the United States to constitutional conventions within the states, and the election of delegates to such conventions; and be it

Resolved, That said Commission shall, as soon as possible, report to this Legislature the result of its study and its recommendations, together with drafts of bills intended to regulate the liquor traffic in case of the repeal of the said eighteenth amendment, to license and control the sale of brewed liquors in case of the modification of the Volstead Act, to obtain from such regulation, licensing and control, the greatest possible amount of revenue for the Commonwealth, and to provide for the holding of a constitutional convention for the consideration of proposed amendments to the Constitution of the United States and for the election of delegates to such conventions; and be it further

Resolved, That the Commission shall report to the Legislature, from time to time, as it has completed its study of any of the matters referred to it by this resolution, the results thereof, so as to assist in the early passage of such legislation as may be deemed necessary.

RESOLUTION

PROTESTING DISTRIBUTION OF RELIEF THROUGH COMMISSARY

Mr. COHEN offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, January 16, 1933.

Whereas, The Act of Assembly approved the 19th day of August, 1932, and known as the Second Talbot Act, provided for direct relief in the total sum of twelve million dollars, and

Whereas, The amount provided for direct relief is available for expenditure through the State Emergency Relief Board under such rules and regulations as the board shall adopt, and

Whereas, In certain instances, namely in the City of York, the State Emergency Relief Board is distributing said direct relief by the institution of a commissary, and

Whereas, Such distribution of food and relief through a commissary is un-American and un-democratic, degrading to the unfortunate recipient, psychologically incorrect and occasions the congregation of unfortunates with the possibility of serious social disorder, now therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That it is the intent and desire of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that the distribution of food and relief through a commissary established by the State Emergency Relief Board shall be discontinued.

RESOLUTION

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO EQUALIZE TAXATION

Mr. LANE offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under rules:

In the House of Representatives, January 16, 1933.

Whereas, In many cases boats on rivers are operated in open competition with railroad transportation; and

Whereas, Boats so operated are not compelled to maintain rights of way in the manner required of railroads, and as a consequence can offer lower rates for transportation; and

Whereas, The belief prevails that river transportation is not subjected to a burden of Federal and State taxation equal to that imposed on railroads; and

Whereas, Railroad transportation is essential to the development of the commerce and business of the United States; and

Whereas, River transportation is in most instances, a matter of interstate commerce over which the Federal Government has control; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the General Assembly memorialize Congress of the United States to enact legislation which will equalize the burden of taxation between river and railroad transportation, in order to enable railroads to secure a fair share of the business;

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, January 11, 1933.

Whereas, The present Congress of the United States is considering under the guise of economy, the radical cutting of appropriations for the support of the Army, Navy and Marine corps of the United States and of the National Guards of the several States; and

Whereas, The Army is at present pitifully insufficient for the defense of our mainland without regard for our insular possessions; and

Whereas, The Navy is far below the standard decided upon as necessary for the safety of the United States and agreed to by the Powers in a far less unsettled time; and

Whereas, The Marine Corps although small has proven for more than a century the most mobile and effective police force in any National or international emergency this Nation has ever had; and

Whereas, Through Federal aid and supervision the National Guard has risen to a point of efficiency heretofore unknown; and

Whereas, No reasoning person can believe in pacific safety in the face of existing facts. Every peace pact, treaty, or league of Nation action has proven and is at present proving futile and useless to turn any Nation from a policy of aggrandisement; and

Whereas, Events within the last twenty years have proven the futility of preserving the neutrality of the United States in the event of a major conflict; and

Whereas, The existing National and international debts are the result of past unpreparedness, and the existing brawl over the collection thereof, the result of present unpreparedness; and

Whereas, The voice of the United States in the interests of universal peace is respected only in proportion to its existing and active power; and

Whereas, The effects of the present economic chaos on the governments of the world have conclusively proven that only strong, well sustained governments can survive; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Senate and the House of Representatives of the 1933 Session of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby memorializes the present Congress of the United States to refrain from taking any action for the purpose of economy or other purpose that will further decrease the strength and effectiveness of the armed forces of the United States and the several States thereof; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Secretary of the Commonwealth to the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States and to each Senator and Representative from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania therein.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 3, 1933.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the President pro tempore of the Senate shall appoint three members of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall appoint three members of the House of Representatives, who together shall constitute a joint legislative committee, and organize by the selection of a chairman and secretary.

It shall be the duty of said committee to investigate and study the desirability of continuing the low-cost-type highway construction, the cost of the construction and maintenance of such highways, and whether such highways justify the expenditures made, also whether the amounts expended from the Motor License Fund on low-cost-type highways should be limited or discontinued by the Legislature, and such other matters and facts in connection therewith as may be of information to the General Assembly in order to act intelligently on legislation relating to the highway program of the Commonwealth.

The committee shall have power to hold such hearings as may be necessary. It shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requiring and commanding any person to appear before it, and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person by any member of the committee, or by any sergeant-at-arms of the Senate or House of Representatives, and shall have the same force and effect as subpoenas issued out of the courts of the Commonwealth. Each member of the committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before it. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to appear or testify before said committee, or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties approved by the laws of this Commonwealth in such cases.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, these bills I have presented have placed me in somewhat of a peculiar position. Some time ago, when the Committee to investigate the Public Service Commission was appointed, I rose in the Senate and stated that I was not in the employ of any utility. At the present time I am not in the employ of any utility. I am, however, a firm believer in utilities; I am a firm believer in honest utilities; and without the utilities in Pennsylvania, and the large amount of taxes that they pay to support this Commonwealth, we would be in a sad plight. If anything should be done that would in any way drive the utilities out of Pennsylvania, there would be nothing for us to do but to put a "For Rent" sign on the State. They are an absolute necessity; but, as a necessity, they must, of course, be honest utilities, serving the purposes of the people of Pennsylvania and taking care of the rate-payers along fair and honest lines.

When this Committee was appointed it consisted of Senators Rial, Earnest, Clippinger, Coyne, Pethick, Roberts and myself. That Committee had before it a regular he-man's job and I am convinced, that every man on that Committee tried to fulfill his duty a hundred per cent. toward not only the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania but also toward the utilities and toward the rate-payers; and up until the time of its last meeting, and the presentation of its partial report, I believe, and I know, that they worked ardently, consistently and honestly for the welfare of everybody involved. And I want here, on the floor of this Senate at this time, to pay my respects to those men; and, so far as I am able, to tell the people of Pennsylvania that they endeavored to, and did, accomplish a lot, and progressed very far in this investigation.

In addition to these members, and in order that we might be advised as to the proper procedure as we went along, the Committee appointed four lawyers: Oliver K. Eaton, of Pittsburgh; John G. Hervey, of Philadelphia (the dean of the Temple Law School); J. Julius Levy, of Scranton, and J. Cullen Ganey, of Bethlehem. These four men worked until the small hours of the night, day in and day out, in order that the testimony taken before that Committee should be properly digested and understood by the Committee in their executive meetings.

We went along with all our work, and we were doing, as I believe, a good job, when, all of a sudden, we were stopped by court injunction. The men who were subpoenaed—the different corporations and some individuals—thought we really were transgressing on their rights and they sought their rights and privileges in the courts of law—which, of course, it was perfectly proper for them to do—and the cases now stand in that position, and until these cases are decided by not only the local courts but by the higher courts, I do not see that we can go much further; but it is important that these cases be decided one way or the other in order that the Senate of Pennsylvania may know just what its rights are.

It would be, and is, very unfair for us to spend large sums of money of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania on investigations and then, afterward, it be found out that this money was wasted or squandered, that in our endeavor to do the right thing we have possibly squandered the State's money. And in order that that should not happen in the future, it is my firm belief that all of these cases should be decided in the higher courts, in order that this Senate may know to just what extent it may proceed insofar as future legislation may be concerned. It will place us on record as knowing how far we can go, and knowing whether or not it will be advisable for the Senate of Pennsylvania to investigate not only a Public Service Commission but any other institution or cause we may see fit to investigate.

I want to come now to the point of why I am presenting these bills, so that the members of the Senate may know my attitude. I am in a peculiar position. On the day of the last meeting of this committee it was agreed that a partial report would be filed. Senators Rial, Clippinger and Earnest, as of the first day of December, 1932, were no longer members of the Senate—either their terms had expired or they were not candidates for re-election; and on the day of our final meeting these men who were no longer members of the Senate felt that the work to that date ought to be made a matter of public record, in order that the public might know just how far, to what extent, they were responsible for the activities of that committee. So, that day a partial report was signed and handed over to me, with the express understanding that I would file that report, together with these eight bills. The eight bills were held up for further consideration. I filed the report. I also felt myself bound under my word to these Senators that these bills should be introduced, and I have been wondering whether I must keep my word to these men, who are no longer members of the Senate, and possibly transgress on the rights of the committee, or whether I should not; and, after due and thorough consideration, I have decided to keep faith with these men who are no longer members of this Assembly.

These bills are not the finished product of the work of this committee; the bills were gotten up in considerable of a hurry, and I doubt very seriously whether any member formerly on that committee, if he were here today, would vote for those bills as they now stand. Personally I want to say to you, Mr. President, I cannot conscientiously vote for these bills in their present form, because I do not believe they are 100% fair to everybody; but they are here representing a partial work of that committee, to clean its work up as of the thirty-first day of December, 1932, and to be placed before the Committee on Judiciary General, where they will be considered, together with any other legislation that may be presented, and that committee to decide what is the proper thing to do under the circumstances, and which, if any, of those bills are in proper form. As I said before, I, personally, could not consistently vote for these bills in their present form.

There has been considerable controversy in the last year and a half, in the Commonwealth, as to the utilities being under the control of political powers and corporations, and the Governor of this Commonwealth traveled the length and breadth of this Commonwealth and made charges. We of that committee investigated these charges, and I can speak for the committee only up to the time of my resignation from it. What may be discovered in the future, or what evidence they may unearth in subsequent meetings, of course, I cannot speak of, but what I did find out, so far as I am concerned, is that there has been no great violation of the law, if any violation of the law, by any member of the Public Service Commission, either the present Public Service Commission, or those that have preceded this present Commission. There have been charges and statements made, some rather serious, but the most serious ones, to my mind, were born in heat, nurtured in revenge, and actuated, in my opinion, by a desire to blackmail. In our investigation we have found no criminality that is worth while talking about; but we have found out one thing, so far as I can see, and that is this: that the fault—and there is some fault—is due not to the personnel of the Public Service Commission, but to the inefficiency of the law under which they were trying to perform their duty. It is my earnest hope and belief that the appointment of this committee and the statements made by the Governor, and his charges, whether correct or incorrect, are going to inure to the benefit of the State of Pennsylvania and its people; they are going to inure to the benefit of the utilities and they are going to inure to the benefit of the rate-payer, and out of this great excitement, much of it born in the activities of political campaigns, great good is going to come to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. It is a good thing that the charges were made, because in the final analysis everybody is going to be benefited by what has been said in the past, whether correct or incorrect.

I am no longer a member of this committee. Had I remained a member I would have made a suggestion which, to some people, may seem foolish or ridiculous, but which, to my mind, I believe might solve the problems. If I had remained on that committee I would have had this committee meet with the Attorney General of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and his legal staff; and, in addition to that, I would have invited many of the public utilities of Pennsylvania to appear at those meetings and see whether or not in a round-table conference there could not be placed on the statute books such laws whereby the Public Service Commission of Pennsylvania would have sufficient power to control the utilities in a manner that would be beneficial to Pennsylvania and its citizens. I would, on behalf of the utilities, have suggested that they bring before that committee some of the great legal minds of Pennsylvania, together with some of the officials, to aid this committee in trying to solve this big problem,—and it is a big problem. I have in my mind that the public utilities, for instance, should have men of the caliber of ex-Chief Justice von Moschiszker, who surely would know every angle of this subject, men like George Wharton Pepper, men like Francis Shunk Brown,—men learned in the law, knowing every phase of this law, but also familiar with the utilities, familiar with the State, and, in addition to that familiar with the political situation,—all met in a round-table conference, and there agree on some Act of Assembly that would place in the hands of the Public Service Commission that power which they now lack.

The great trouble has been not in the inefficiency of the Public Service Commissioners that have gone before, nor in any corruption, nor in any desire to defeat the real purposes for which this Commission was appointed, but the trouble lies in the fact that that Commission's hands are tied, their working forces are limited,—they can go so far and no further. That is the great trouble.

It is my ardent hope and belief that if this Committee will work along these lines, if they will continue in their efforts, that they will get a Supreme Court decision as to what their powers are, and if they work with the same diligence, with the same honesty of purpose, with the same desire to serve their constituents as the former committee did, that there will be placed on the statute books of Pennsylvania referring to public utilities managed and controlled by our Public Service Commission that will not only be a credit to Pennsylvania but will be an example for every state in the Union and even for the United States Government to follow; and it is my ardent hope and wish that this be accomplished.

There has been a lot said about my resigning from this Committee because of the fact that I could not be elected Chairman. That is just the writings, and the weird imaginings, of some newspaper men. It has absolutely nothing to do with my presenting my resignation. I resigned for cogent reasons, reasons of my own—for my own benefit—and of my own volition. I feel that in the presenting of those bills, however, I need to make some explanation, and in this I have made. In conclusion, I hope the good work of the Rial Committee will continue.

PRAYER

Reverend George F. Conner, Norwood, Delaware County, offered the following prayer:

Dear Lord, we pause at the beginning of this session to reverently seek Thy favor upon us throughout this day.

In days of old Thou didst lead Thy people like a flock—Lead Thou us today we pray.

We thank Thee for the past night, with its rest, quiet and forgetfulness in refreshing sleep.

Now we are standing on the threshold of this new day. We face our tasks anew—we take up our burdens anew—the tasks are so great—the burdens are so heavy—and we are so human and weak. When we consider our responsibilities, they are almost more than we can bear. We remember Thy Word which says,

"If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him."

Again Thou hast said,

"As thy day, so shall thy strength be."

We reverently claim these promises, that every Representative here today may be Divinely guided and strengthened, "By Thy Spirit in the inner man, that he may quit himself like a man."

Let Thy Holy Spirit sustain with power from on high, the President of the United States, the Governor of this State and all others in authority. Imbue them with the spirit of wisdom.

goodness and truth, that their endeavors may be crowned with success, that law and order, justice and peace may prevail everywhere in our land.

Especially wilt Thou bless the Speaker of this House, and every Representative, present or absent. In blessing them may they become a blessing to the great Commonwealth whose servants they are. Amen.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Slate Committee?

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. BECHTEL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. BECHTEL. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, I did not sign the slate report presented at this time to the members of the House. I was elected as a delegate to the Slate Committee by a majority vote of the Republican members from Schuylkill County, with the duty imposed upon me by those members to attend its meeting and to there advance for positions the names of those chosen by the majority of the members from Schuylkill County. While endeavoring to carry out the mandate of my colleagues I was informed by the chairman of the Slate Committee that our recommendation would not be recognized or given consideration, that we had nothing to say as to the recommendations, that recommendations had been made by the County Chairman, which recommendations were final.

My friends, we, and not our county chairmen, are sent here to represent the people, and as such representatives we are clothed with the power and the privilege of making our own recommendations to this House without dictation, and free from the change of political slavery.

We, as individual members here in this House, should resent any effort made by any other power than that of the people who sent us here.

"Upon what meat hath this our Caesar fed that he has grown so great," usurping a privilege which is ours and making us like it.

Self-respect demands that we do not suffer it without some dissenting expression in the hope that those who follow us into the halls of this House will not have to bend low like fawning publicans with bated breath and whispering humbleness.

He who refuses to recognize the recommendation of any member of this House, or any delegation of this House, is doing that which he has no right to do, and is giving to another something which belongs to someone else, a mere pretender who will hold that scepteral sway as long as we fear to assert our respective rights which were given to us when we were chosen Representatives of and by the people.

This denial of the privilege which belongs to the majority Representatives of my county is done without my consent and in spite of us, and as representing the majority members of Schuylkill County, and speaking for them, I say as Bruce said to his army at Bannockburn, "Now is the day and now is the hour. What shall it be—liberty or chains and slavery."

My friends, I have spoken with the knowledge that political leaders do not reward those who oppose their wishes or try to expose that which they think is wrong. I was not sent here by that power which now tries to strip us of our privileges; I was sent here by the people, and I still have faith in the people.

I think it will reflect great honor upon the members of this House to reopen the report of the Slate Committee, to assert the dignity of man and teach honest hearts to feel.

Mr. Speaker, I move that the report of the Slate Committee be reopened so that the members of this House may make their own recommendations.

The SPEAKER. On the question of personal privilege the remarks of the gentleman will be spread upon the Journal.

The Chair is of the opinion that the motion of the gentleman is not a proper one at this time.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Slate Committee?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. SCORZA. Mr. Speaker, I second the request for a roll call.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. ROYLE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. ROYLE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Pittsburgh, Mr. Steedle.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Steedle, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I will, conditionally. I have asked for a roll call and the roll call demand has been seconded. If there is nothing before the House but the roll call I question whether the interrogation at this time comes through the exercise of wisdom. I should like to have a ruling from the Chair as to whether the request for interrogation by the gentleman from Philadelphia is in order.

The SPEAKER. The question before the House—will the House adopt the report of the Slate Committee—is debatable. If the gentleman from Allegheny declines to answer the interrogation from the gentleman from Philadelphia, then, of course, it is impossible for the gentleman from Philadelphia to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I have never been ungentlemanly in my legislative career and I do not at this particular time desire to change my conduct, so I say to the gentleman from Philadelphia, proceed with the interrogation.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Royle, will proceed.

Mr. ROYLE. Mr. Speaker, did the gentleman take the recommendation from the Slate Committee from Philadelphia or did he take the recommendations from a few who represent the "Philadelphia Gang"?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, I should like very much if he would—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I take it that the question just asked is an improper question and that the gentleman from Allegheny should not be required to answer it. The gentleman from Philadelphia knows it is an improper question, as to whether orders were taken from the "Philadelphia Gang"—there is no such thing.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. There is only one question before this body, and that is the question of adopting the report of the Slate Committee.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Slate Committee?

The yeas and nays required by Mr. Steedle and Mr. Scorza, were as follows:

SENATE MESSAGE

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, January 17, 1933.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvenes on Monday evening, January 23rd, at 9.00 o'clock; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvenes on Monday evening, January 23rd at 9.00 o'clock.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

RESOLUTION NO. 3

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 3, Printer's No. 3.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 16, 1933.

Whereas, Various resolutions and bills are being introduced on the subject of unemployment relief, and it is apparent that further steps must be taken by the Legislature now in session to meet conditions presently prevailing in the Commonwealth; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives is authorized to appoint a special committee of seven Members of the House whose duty it shall be to study all resolutions and bills introduced with respect to unemployment and unemployment relief, and generally to make a study of the situation in different parts of the Commonwealth, and the manner in which relief may be granted by the Legislature;

Resolved, That said committee shall make a report to the House as early as possible, setting forth a program of legislation for the consideration of the House.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

RESOLUTION NO. 4

Mr. MALINA. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 4, Printer's No. 4.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 16, 1933.

Whereas, It has been reported that the State Emergency Relief Board is considering establishing commissaries in all sections of the Commonwealth for the purpose of supplying food to the unemployed instead of providing them with food orders, and,

Whereas, Such a system would not only put a gratuitous insult on all of the worthy needy of this Commonwealth who are destitute through no fault of their own but would also prove of little or no benefit in conserving relief funds, and,

Whereas, Such systems have proved valueless in other states where experiments have been tried with them and would certainly not be of any advantage in the populous sections of this Commonwealth such as the cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, therefore,

Be It Resolved, That this House of Representatives inform the said State Emergency Relief Board that the sentiment of this honorable body is strongly opposed to experimenting with human welfare and recommends that the proposed commissary scheme be abandoned.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

RESOLUTION REFERRED

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, as the resolution which has just preceded this (Resolution No. 3) provides for a committee to study the question of unemployment, I would move that this resolution be referred to such committee when appointed.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be referred to the committee provided for in Resolution No. 3, after such committee has been appointed by the Chair.

RESOLUTION NO. 6

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 6, Printer's No. 6.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 16, 1933.

Whereas, The Act of Assembly approved the 19th day of August, 1932, and known as the Second Talbot Act, provided for direct relief in the total sum of twelve million dollars, and

Whereas, The amount provided for direct relief is available for expenditure through the State Emergency Relief Board under such rules and regulations as the board shall adopt, and

Whereas, In certain instances, namely in the City of York, the State Emergency Relief Board is distributing said direct relief by the institution of a commissary, and

Whereas, Such distribution of food and relief through a commissary is un-American and un-democratic, degrading to the unfortunate recipient, psychologically incorrect and occasions the congregation of unfortunates with the possibility of serious social disorder, now therefore be it

Resolved (If the Senate concur), That it is the intent and desire of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that the distribution of food and relief through a commissary established by the State Emergency Relief Board shall be discontinued.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

RESOLUTION REFERRED

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this resolution be referred to the Committee yet to be appointed to study unemployment relief.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be so referred.

RESOLUTION NO. 5

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 5, Printer's No. 5.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 16, 1932.

Whereas, The amendment by Congress of the Volstead Act changing the definition of intoxicating liquor would allow the indiscriminate sale in this Commonwealth of brewed liquors of a higher alcoholic content than those sold; and

Whereas, Such sale of brewed liquor could result in the return of the saloon unless proper legislation is passed to regulate and control the same; and

Whereas, The repeal of the eighteenth amendment of the Constitution of the United States before the next regular session of this Legislature is possible; and

Whereas, Such repeal would find the Commonwealth unprepared to handle and regulate the resumption of the liquor traffic which would follow such repeal; and

Whereas, A careful study should immediately be made of the conditions that would most probably result, and of the legislation that will be needed to most carefully guard the interests of the public, and at the same time produce revenue for the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, If Congress should direct that the question of the repeal of the eighteenth amendment should be submitted to State Conventions, legislation would be necessary in order to arrange for the election of delegates thereto and the holding thereof; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania (if the Senate concur), That a Liquor Law Revision Commission is hereby created consisting of seven members, two of whom shall be appointed by the Speaker of the House, two by the President pro tempore of the Senate, and three by the Governor of the Commonwealth, whose duty shall be to make a careful study of (a) present and former liquor laws and their relation to present conditions, and of the effect any modification of the Volstead Act, or the repeal of the eighteenth amendment of the Constitution of the United States would have upon them, (b) the matter of revenue in connection with any change in the law regulating the manufacture, sale and consumption of alcoholic beverages, and (c) the manner of submitting amendments to the Constitution of the United States to constitutional conventions within the states, and the election of delegates to such conventions; and be it

Resolved, That said Commission shall, as soon as possible, report to this Legislature the result of its study and its recommendations, together with drafts of bills intended to regulate the liquor traffic in case of the repeal of the said eighteenth amendment, to license and control the sale of brewed liquors in case of the modification of the Volstead Act, to obtain from such regulation, licensing and control, the greatest possible amount of revenue for the Commonwealth, and to provide for the holding of a constitutional convention for the consideration of proposed amendments to the Constitution of the United States and for the election of delegates to such conventions; and be it further

Resolved, That the Commission shall report to the Legislature, from time to time, as it has completed its study of any of the matters referred to it by this resolution, the results thereof, so as to assist in the early passage of such legislation as may be deemed necessary.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

RESOLUTION REFERRED

Mr. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, I move that this resolution be referred to the Committee on Judiciary General.

The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION NO. 7

Mr. LANE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 7, Printer's No. 7.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 16, 1933.

Whereas, In many cases boats on rivers are operated in open competition with railroad transportation; and

Whereas, Boats so operated are not compelled to maintain rights of way in the manner required of railroads, and as a consequence can offer lower rates for transportation; and

Whereas, The belief prevails that river transportation is not subjected to a burden of Federal and State taxation equal to that imposed on railroads; and

Whereas, Railroad transportation is essential to the development of the commerce and business of the United States; and

Whereas, River transportation is in most instances, a matter of interstate commerce over which the Federal Government has control; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the General Assembly memorialize Congress of the United States to enact legislation which will equalize the burden of taxation between river and railroad transportation, in order to enable railroads to secure a fair share of the business;

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the President of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

RESOLUTION REFERRED

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker, I move that this resolution be referred to the Committee on Railroads and Railways.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION

PROTESTING AGAINST ESTABLISHMENT OF COMMISSARY

The SPEAKER laid before the House two communications addressed to Hon. J. M. Flinchbaugh, protesting against the establishment of State commissary which were read by the Clerk.

The SPEAKER. The communications will be noted in the Journal and will be referred to the Committee on Unemployment Relief when such committee is appointed.

ADDITION TO STANDING COMMITTEE

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to announce the addition of one name to the Committee on Highways by the appointment of Mr. WITKIN.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, I want to say to the ladies and gentlemen of the House that I have not yet called a meeting of the Committee on Education. While there are in the committee two or three small bills I think every member of this House knows that one of the burning propositions in this session of the Legislature is the question of the public schools of Pennsylvania and the taxation relating thereto.

This program can not be built up in five minutes, and there is no use of calling together the Committee on Education for the purpose of considering two or three bills which have no particular relation to this program and the problems we have before us. But I do want to say to this House that I think most every member of the House has some idea on what should be done with the educational problem. If you have any ideas or suggestions that you wish to present to the committee, I would be very glad if you would drop me a line as chairman of the committee and let me know what your ideas are and what suggestions you have to make, and the Committee on Education will take those suggestions and ideas and consider them and go over each one of them before the program is made up in this session. I would like very much to get a cross section of the views of this House on this question which means so much to the people of Pennsylvania, and if any members of the House have suggestions to make as to what should be done with this educational program or if your constituents have any ideas, I would be very glad if you would drop me a line or have them drop me a line, in order that we may take these letters and refer them to the sub-committees on Education and have them considered so that we may have the views of the members of this House when we make up this program.

The SPEAKER. The remarks of the gentleman under the question of personal privilege will be spread upon the Journal.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the Chair will declare a recess until 4.30 o'clock this afternoon. Are there objections? The Chair hears none and (at 12.08 P. M.) declares a recess until 4.30 o'clock P. M.

AFTER RECESS

The House reconvened at 4.30 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (Grover C. Talbot) in the Chair.

RESOLUTION

DIVISION OF HOUSE BILLS BOOK IN VOLUMES

Mr. DeFREHN offered a resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, January 17th, 1933.

Whereas, The number of bills and resolutions already introduced in the House indicates that the House Bill book will continue to grow to its usual monumental proportions; and

Whereas, This volume becomes so large, heavy and difficult to handle, making it hard to properly study the bills contained therein, thus making it difficult to vote intelligently; therefore be it

Resolved, That this book be divided into two or more volumes, neither of which shall be more than four and one-half inches in thickness; unless it be the third or last volume which shall not exceed six inches in thickness; and be it further

Resolved, That these volumes shall be consecutively numbered, and that the bills shall include with the Printer's number, the volume number.

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections the resolution will be referred to the Committee on Rules. The Chair hears none and the resolution is so referred.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. PHILIP STERLING, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed, House Bill No. 85, entitled:

An Act to amend section six hundred and twenty of the act approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 905), entitled, "An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways, and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, the courts and clerks thereof, owners of vehicles, and garage keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures, fees, and miscellaneous receipts; making an appropriation and providing for refunds," as amended; requiring the fining and imprisonment of persons convicted of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or drug, and restricting the parole and suspension of sentence powers of the court in such cases.

BILL REFERRED

Mr. PHILIP STERLING returned from the Committee on Judiciary General with the recommendation that it be referred to the Committee on Insurance, House Bill No. 72, entitled:

An Act to require owners and operators of motor vehicles to furnish proof under certain circumstances of their financial responsibility in respect to vehicles owned or operated; defining the form and limits of such responsibility and the manner of furnishing proof; defining the requirements of motor vehicle liability policies; providing for suspension of operators' licenses and registration certificates for certain offenses and until judgment for damages are satisfied and proof of the responsibility furnished; requiring prothonotaries and clerks of court to file certified copies of such judgments and other court records with the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles; providing for substitution, cancellation and refund of proof; exempting bonds, collateral or cash deposits from attachment or execution; providing for the appointment of the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles as the agent of any non-resident operator of a motor vehicle upon whom civil process may be served in any suit for damages caused by the operation of a motor vehicle and providing for further notices to the defendant in such suit; imposing penalties.

Referred to the Committee on Insurance.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair is somewhat disappointed that there have been no bills reported from committee at the afternoon session. It was the thought that during the recess the committees might have met, reviewed legislation and reported out bills this afternoon. The Chair is glad to state however, that there have been a number of bills introduced since we started at four-thirty, which was the particular reason why we recessed until that time.

Due to the fact that the Senate has no further communications to give us, we have practically finished the business of the day.

ADJOURNMENT

Miss BRANCATO. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until tomorrow morning at 10.00 o'clock.

The motion was agreed to and at 4.45 o'clock P. M. the House adjourned until tomorrow morning at 10.00 o'clock.

RESOLUTION REQUESTING INFORMATION FROM THE SECRETARY OF PROPERTY AND SUPPLIES

Mr. REED offered the following resolution, which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Public Printing:

In the Senate, January 18, 1933.

Whereas, Section 2406 of the Administrative Code of 1929 provides that the Department of Property and Supplies shall have the power, and its duty shall be, "(a) To edit for publication all reports, bulletins and other publications of the various departments, boards and commissions of the State Government," and "(j) To distribute to the public, upon payment to the department of such sum per copy as shall cover the cost of publication, any documents published by the department for the Commonwealth, or any department, board, commission, or officer thereof, which shall cost more than five cents per copy to publish, except documents published for the Governor and the General Assembly which shall be distributed without charge as heretofore," and "To administer this subsection the department may publish, for free distribution to applicants therefor, a price list showing the publications which the department is prepared to furnish to the public and the charges for each such document," and

Whereas, The said Department of Property and Supplies did, in compliance with the provision of the Act of Assembly just referred to, publish the following circular letter:

"COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA
Department of Property and Supplies Harrisburg

Dear Sir:

We have just received your request for a document published by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

In the pages appended to this communication you will find a list of documents published by the Commonwealth, for which a charge must be made, and the amount charged for each.

The Bulletin to which you refer has been checked and if you will forward immediately a check, postal order or money order, payable to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, it will be sent to you. Stamps cannot be accepted.

This reply is sent to you in this form in order that you may be informed of the other publications which are available for distribution.

Very truly yours,

JOHN L. HANNA,
Secretary Property and Supplies.

By: JOHN R. HOOD,
Director Bureau of Publications."

Please mail order and remittance to:
DIVISION OF DOCUMENTS,
Harrisburg, Pa.
JH:r

To which letter was appended a list of about one hundred and seventy-six documents of various State departments, with a charge attached ranging from ten cents to five dollars each, and

Whereas, It was clearly the legislative intent that the money received by the said Department should cover the cost of such publications of executive departments, boards and commissions, and

Whereas, The rumor is current upon the streets of Harrisburg, that there has been reckless and extravagant waste of the taxpayer's money in printing certain useless documents, and that the quantity printed has far exceeded the demand, that the vaults, storerooms and other subterranean compartments of the Department of Property and Supplies are bursting with documents, uncalled for and unsold, and

Whereas, It is the duty of the Senate to ascertain whether the dignity and usefulness of the Commonwealth is being impaired by the Governor's departments practicing "economy to a point where it hurts," and in recommending a slight reduction to be made to the Department of Property and Supplies.

Resolved, That the Secretary of Property and Supplies be instructed to prepare a list of the one hundred and seventy-six odd documents above referred to and any other documents published since the day of the inauguration of Governor Pinchot and furnish to each member of the Senate not later than March 1, 1933, a fully itemized statement with respect to each and every one of said documents showing: 1. Date of publication; 2. Total number printed; 3. Approximate number remaining in the custody of the Department of Property and Supplies; 4. Total cost of publication; 5. Number of copies sold and amount received from sale thereof.

Resolved, That the Secretary of Property and Supplies also include in his report a list of documents published for Governor Pinchot, showing in each instance: 1. Date of publication; 2. Total number printed; 3. Approximate number remaining in Department of Property and Supplies; 4. Total cost of each publication; 5. Brief description of publications.

Resolved, Further that in said report, the Secretary of Property and Supplies, shall advise the Senate of the approximate number, tonnage and total per square foot cubic content of such documents in his vaults, store rooms and subterranean compartments, and whether or not, in his opinion, there could be a bonfire equal to that which burned in Rome while Nero fiddled; and whether or not, in his opinion, such a celebration would be a fitting ceremony to commemorate the new-born passion of his Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, for economy.

RESOLUTION

PROTESTING AGAINST ESTABLISHMENT OF COMMISSARIES

Mr. STEVENSON offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over for printing:

In the House of Representatives, January 18, 1933.

Whereas, The State Emergency Relief Committee in an effort to economize in the purchase of the necessities of life for those who have become the objects of relief in the Commonwealth, and to procure the most for the money available for such purpose, has established community commissaries in different localities in the Commonwealth; and

Whereas, The purchase in bulk and at lower prices of food-stuffs for distribution in relief work has doubtless resulted in a saving and has made possible more relief for more people, it has also meant, and still means, a loss to those merchants who formerly profited by the method then in use for the granting of relief to the needy; and

Whereas, Many such merchants extended credit to unemployed and needy persons to a considerable amount before the Commonwealth undertook to furnish aid and by reason thereof have sustained a great financial loss which is now made worse by the loss of the profit heretofore made on the purchases by the relief agencies of footstuffs for relief of unemployed persons; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House, while recognizing the intent of those responsible for the change, to make more relief possible, is, nevertheless opposed to the continuation of the new system of affording relief and is of the opinion that as much relief can be afforded by properly guarded purchases from, or orders on, reputable dealers and merchants as by the commissary system, and that at the same time the business brought to the dealer and merchant will make more probable his continuance in business and save him from bankruptcy; and be it

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House to the Chairman of the State Emergency Relief Committee.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. MATHAY. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 85, Printer's No. 13, be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General.

The motion was agreed to.

HON. MILES M. CALLAGHAN, MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE, INTRODUCED

The SPEAKER. The Chair has the peculiar pleasure of presenting to the members of the Pennsylvania Legislature the Honorable Miles M. Callaghan of the legislature of the State of Michigan.

Mr. CALLAGHAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I assure you that I did not expect to impose upon you this morning, but I am here as Chairman of a Commission from the Michigan Legislature to look over your Farm Show with the thought that possibly we might adopt some such system in Michigan. I understand that you have done away with your state fair and have centralized your activities on this event, which has become a nation wide enterprise so to speak, and we want to know what we can get out of it.

I am very glad to meet here in this fine capitol that you have erected and to bring the good wishes of Michigan to you. I met a man the other day and he said, "You're from Michigan?" and I said "yes," and he said "That's a great automobile state. You make a lot of automobiles there," and I said "Yes, we do, and we make a lot of other things in Michigan," and he said "Yes, I have ridden in those too."

I presume you have the same problems here that we have in Michigan. For the first time in forty years we have a Democratic governor, and all Democratic state officers were elected except one, and a Democratic state legislature. I am really not a member of the legislature, I am simply one of forty-five Republicans.

I hope I may go back to our Democratic Governor and our Democratic Commissioner of Agriculture and tell them that I have seen the greatest Farm Show in the world.

I thank you.

The SPEAKER. In the name of the Assembly, Mr. Callaghan, I thank you.

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to announce that it is the hope that by some time next week the members will have their identification badges, so that we may proceed to carry out the wishes of the Republican caucus in maintaining order. As soon as those badges are received they will be issued and at the same time courtesy cards will be issued to those friends of the members who desire access to the floor.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO EMBARGO OF COAL FROM RUSSIAN PORTS

Mr. HOWELL offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, January 23, 1933.

Whereas, The importation into, and sale of Russian coal in the United States has resulted in great financial loss to the Pennsylvania coal miners and to the operators; and

Whereas, The amount of such coal sold in the United States during the year 1932 meant a loss of $2,700,000 in revenue, the enforced idleness of 1,500 coal miners in the anthracite region of this Commonwealth, and the loss in wages of $1,600,000, as well as the loss of the purchasing power of that amount of money; and

Whereas, In spite of the two dollars per ton tariff placed on such coal by Congress as a deterrent to soviet importation of coal, the importation of Russian coal, during the past ten months of 1932, amounted to 171,623 tons, or an average of 17,163 tons per month, as against a monthly average of 18,082 tons for the year 1932; and

Whereas, The importation of this coal, mined and produced under the soviet Russian government, does not mean cheaper coal for those buying anthracite but is actually sold in the New England State, after paying the present tariff, at seventy-five cents more per ton than is paid for Pennsylvania anthracite; and

Whereas, The issuance of an embargo order against the importation of Russian anthracite by the Treasury Department would stop this flood of Russian coal and provide work for those 1,500 miners now forced into the ranks of the unemployed; and therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Legislature of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully urges the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States to issue an embargo order against the importation of Russian anthracite coal and end the unfair competition of forced foreign labor with the well-paid labor of Pennsylvania, restore to the miners of this Commonwealth the right to work and support their families, turn millions of dollars back into the channels of trade that make for prosperity and insure to the merchants and manufacturers the profits that such trade will mean; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Honorable Ogden Mills, Secretary of the Treasury of the United States.

Mr. WILLIAMSON. Mr. President, I move that Rule 39, which requires concurrent resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee be suspended, and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE TO DRAFT MEMORIAL RESOLUTIONS TO HONORABLE AUGUSTUS F. DAIX, JR.

Mr. SHAPIRO offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, January 23, 1933.

Resolved, That a committee of five members of the Senate be appointed to draft suitable resolutions on the death of the late Senator Augustus F. Daix, Jr., who died on May fifth, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two, and present said resolutions at a special meeting to be held on Wednesday afternoon, March first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, at two-thirty o'clock.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Dauphin, Mr. REED, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, A few days ago the American people stood at attention while the mortal remains of a great President of the United States were laid to rest in the granite-bound soil of his native state of Vermont. He possessed to a marked degree the homely virtues of courage, thrift and honesty which have enhanced his fame, motivating his outstanding achievements in the realm of statesmanship. And the sympathy of a nation is extended to the lady who for more than five years presided over the Executive Mansion at Washington with a winsomeness, charm and beauty of character which has endeared her to millions of her fellow countrymen, in whose hearts she will ever live as one of "America's Uncrowned Queens."

I have read in a Harrisburg daily of January 6th last, "The Patriot," that the "rise of President Coolidge from the political obscurity of a member of the common council at the turn of the century to the most exalted office within the gift of the Nation made little or no difference to his private life.

"Throughout his long service as a Massachusetts Representative and Senator, his subsequent election to the Lieutenant-Governorship and finally to the Chief Magistracy, he continued to live in one-half of an unpretentious duplex house on an ordinary street.

"It was, in fact, only after he had quit the Presidency that he permitted himself to depart from the Spartan frugality of life that had characterized him for more than half a century."

Governor Calvin Coolidge received a salary of $10,000 per annum. Governor Gifford Pinchot receives a salary of $18,000 per annum. The Massachusetts Legislature in 1919 appropriated for salary of Governor, Lieutenant-Governor and personal service of office $29,580, and in 1920 the Massachusetts Legislature appropriated for a like purpose $31,590. There were seven employees, and each year some extra service which was rendered the Governor's office cost approximately $1,000. Governor Pinchot asks the Legislature of Pennsylvania to appropriate to the Governor's Office $371,000.

Mr. President, in times such as these, we must insist upon something akin to "Spartan frugality" in government, and I therefore offer the following resolution:

RESOLUTION REQUESTING INFORMATION RELATIVE TO APPROPRIATION TO THE GOVERNOR'S OFFICE.

Mr. REED offered the following resolution:

In the Senate, January 23, 1933.

Whereas, Governor Pinchot in his Budget Message said: "It is neither good business nor good sportsmanship for the General Assembly to waste money without stint on unnecessary political appointees and other extravagances, while insisting on the utmost economy, even to the point of danger to the public interest, in the executive departments responsible to the Governor;" and

Whereas, The Senate of Pennsylvania agrees with the Governor that "What is sauce for the goose ought to be sauce for the gander; and

Whereas, Governor Pinchot in his Budget Message recommends an appropriation of $371,000 to the Governor's Office; and

Whereas, Statistics show that for the fiscal biennium 1921-23, covering largely the last two years of the administration of Governor Sproul, the total appropriation to the Governor's Office was $127,300 and the deficiency was $200; that during the two bienniums of Governor Pinchot, 1923-25 and 1925-27, the appropriations were $122,500 and $140,000 respectively; that during the two bienniums 1927-29 and 1929-31, largely covering Governor Fisher's term as Governor, the appropriations were $337,000 and $446,400, respectively, the large increase resulting from the installation of the Personnel Bureau and the Budget Bureau in the Governor's Office; and that during 1931-22, the biennium largely covering the first two years of Governor Pinchot's second term, the appropriation was $447,250, not including the $225,000 appropriated to the Greater Pennsylvania Council; and

Whereas, this appropriation will doubtless cover the needs of a Personnel Bureau, which has become useless; a Budget Bureau which is unreliable, incompetent and wasteful; and a Publicity Bureau in the Governor's Office, which promotes the private political fortunes of Governor Pinchot, in defiance of law and public decency; and

Whereas, The records in the State Treasurer's Office show that during December, 1932, there were nine "flunkies" at the Executive Mansion at Harrisburg to minister to the needs of Governor Pinchot, receiving from the State a total salary of $365 per month, an amount larger than Calvin Coolidge ever received as Governor of Massachusetts; and

Whereas, The appropriation requested by Governor Pinchot is almost three times the amount appropriated to Governor Sproul for a like purpose, and is larger than the appropriation to Governor Fisher in 1927, when every one was prosperous and happy; and

Whereas, The Senate of Pennsylvania is entitled to know where the cut is to be made lest the dignity of the Commonwealth be impaired and important interests suffer by reason of the General Assembly "insisting on the utmost economy, even to the point of danger to public interests";

Resolved, That His Excellency the Governor make a report to the Senate of Pennsylvania not later than March 1, 1933, indicating with complete detail and itemization the exact use which he intends to make of the $371,000 requested by him, and further indicating what, if any, economies have been practiced by him during the present biennium or may be expected in the future.

Resolved, Further, that it be the intent of the Senate of Pennsylvania, by the passage of this Resolution, that no action be taken by the Appropriation Committee of the Senate relating to any appropriation to the Governor's Office pending the receipt of a report from the Governor.

Mr. McCURE. Mr. President, I move the resolution be laid on the table for future consideration.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. HOWELL, from the Committee on Judiciary General reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 187, entitled:

A Joint Resolution continuing the Senate Committee constituted to investigate charges against members of the Public Service Commission and related matters; defining the powers and duties of said committee; ratifying and confirming the filling of vacancies in the membership thereof; and making an appropriation for the payment of its past and future expenses.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO APPOINTMENT OF JOINT LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE TO STUDY THE REPORT OF THE LEGISLATIVE FINANCE COMMITTEE

Mr. FAY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of concurrent resolution Serial No. 101, reported from Committee on Appropriations on January 18th.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, January 3, 1933.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the President Pro Tempore of the Senate shall appoint three Members of the Senate, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall appoint three Members of the House of Representatives, who, together shall constitute a joint legislative committee and organize by the selection of a chairman and secretary.

It shall be the duty of said committee to thoroughly study and analyze the report of the Legislative Finance Committee, the budget for the next fiscal biennium when presented by the Governor, the Administrative and Fiscal Codes, and such other reports and data as may be available or be obtained by the committee for the purpose of enabling said committee to prepare and report to the General Assembly as early as possible a comprehensive legislative program designed to secure economy in the operation of the State Government, cut the present cost of the State Government, and eliminate useless details, overlapping functions, and departmental supervision.

The committee shall have power to hold such hearings as may be necessary. It shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman, requiring and commanding any person to appear before it and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person by any member of the committee, or by any Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate or House of Representatives, and shall have the same force and effect as subpoenas issued out of the courts of the Commonwealth. Each member of the committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before it. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to appear and testify before said committee, or to produce any books, papers, records and documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of this Commonwealth in such cases.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to know more about this resolution. I would like to know when it came in and what Committee it was reported from. I do not see it on my desk. I have looked, looked rather hastily, for it.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair informs the Senator from Bucks, Mr. BUCKMAN, that the resolution was introduced on January 3rd, referred to the Committee on Appropriations on January 9th, and reported from the Committee on Appropriations on the 18th day of January.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, it seems to me that this is creating a new committee. I understand that the rules of the Senate as adopted provided for the Standing Committees of this Session, but as I understand this resolution, from just having heard it read, it creates a new committee.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair informs the Senator from Bucks, Mr. BUCKMAN, that it creates a joint committee of the Senate and House, three from each body, called a Joint Legislative Committee, to be organized by the election of a chairman and secretary.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

O Spirit of God, Thou who didst brood over the hearts, and guide the destinies of our fathers and forefathers, from the beginning,—brood over our hearts this night. We need Thee—the whole world needs Thee.

Overshadow the Speaker of this House and his coadjutors, that their minds may be enlightened to see more than there is to be seen, until the unseen may become reality and the difficult problems of State may be solved in the glory of Thy presence.

Comfort and sustain the millions of our citizens whose hearts turn anxiously to Capitol Hill—may they ever have just cause for pride in their rulers and legislators. Amen.

RESOLUTIONS

REQUESTING INFORMATION RELATIVE TO DISTRIBUTION OF UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF

Mr. BLUMBERG offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, January 23rd, 1933.

Whereas, It is important that the General Assembly should have information with respect to experiences in the distribution of unemployment relief in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, both from Federal and State sources; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the Governor of the Commonwealth, as chairman of the State Emergency Relief Board, is hereby respectfully requested to furnish to the Senate and House of Representatives on or before February 15th, 1933, a statement showing: (a) the amount of Federal funds which have been advanced for unemployment relief purposes by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation; (b) the amount of money expended from such Federal funds to February 1st, 1933; (c) the rate of interest paid upon such funds by the depositories in which the same have been deposited; (d) the manner in which the Federal funds advanced are to be repaid and the amount of interest which the State is required to pay on such Federal funds; (e) the amount of money expended in the administration of the State Emergency Relief Board to February 1st, 1933; (f) the amount expended in each county or other subdivision for administration in connection with the work of the State Emergency Relief Board in distributing Federal moneys for unemployment relief purposes to February 1st, 1933; (g) similar information to that requested with respect to Federal funds for all funds appropriated by the Legislature at the Special Session of 1932, expenditure of which was vested in the State Emergency Relief Board; and (h) amount of money from Federal sources earmarked for borough and rural highways and for other public purposes, in each county.

URGING SECRETARY OF TREASURY TO ISSUE EMBARGO AGAINST RUSSIAN COAL

Mr. HERMANSEN offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, January 23, 1933.

Whereas, The importation into, and sale of Russian coal in the United States has resulted in great financial loss to the Pennsylvania coal miners and to the operators; and

Whereas, The amount of such coal sold in the United States during the year 1932 meant a loss of $2,700,000 in revenue, the enforced idleness of 1,500 coal miners in the anthracite region of this Commonwealth, and the loss in wages of $1,600,000, as well as the loss of the purchasing power of that amount of money; and

Whereas, In spite of the two dollars per ton tariff placed on such coal by Congress as a deterrent to Soviet importation of coal the importation of Russian coal, during the past ten months of 1932, amounted to 171,623 tons, or an average of 17,163 tons per month, as against a monthly average of 18,082 tons for the year 1932; and

Whereas, The importation of this coal, mined and produced under the Soviet Russian government, does not mean cheaper coal for those buying anthracite but is actually sold in the New England States, after paying the present tariff, at seventy-five cents more per ton than is paid for Pennsylvania anthracite; and

Whereas, The issuance of an embargo order against the importation of Russian anthracite by the Treasury Department would stop this flood of Russian coal and provide work for those 1,500 miners now forced into the ranks of the unemployed; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the Legislature of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully urges an embargo order against the importation of Russian anthracite coal and end the unfair competition of forced foreign labor with the well paid labor of Pennsylvania, restore to the miners of this Commonwealth the right to work and support their families, turn millions of dollars back into the channels of trade that make for prosperity, and insure the merchants and manufacturers the profits that such trade will mean; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Honorable Ogden Mills, Secretary of the Treasury of the United States.

PROTESTING AGAINST ESTABLISHMENT OF COMMISSARIES

Mr. HEFFERON offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, January 23, 1933.

Whereas, The establishment of State commissaries throughout the Commonwealth for the furnishing of relief to the unemployed has met with the protest of the citizens of those communities in which they have been established; and

Whereas, The State Emergency Relief Board proposes to establish a commissary in the Wilkes-Barre-Scranton-Hazleton district in opposition to the wishes of a vast majority of the residents of such district; and

Whereas, The establishment of such a commissary would mean bankruptcy and ruin to a large number of the merchants thereof by reason of the withdrawal of the profits due to them by reason of their extension of credits to this time to those in need; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House protests against the establishment of such commissary or any other commissaries against the wishes of those who to this time have carried the burden of furnishing relief to the unemployed and respectfully requests the State Emergency Relief Board to abandon their intention to establish such commissaries and allow the small profit due the merchants of those communities to be theirs, in order to insure their continuance in business; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House to the State Emergency Relief Board.

DISTRIBUTION OF EMERGENCY RELIEF IN CASH

Mr. HOOPES offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, January 23, 1933.

Whereas, Most of the persons receiving food vouchers in Pennsylvania are involuntarily unemployed and

Whereas, The food voucher system greatly restricts the freedom of purchase by

1. Compelling the receiver to buy all supplies from the same merchant even though some articles can be bought more cheaply elsewhere.

2. Preventing the purchase of fresh vegetables, fruits, eggs and dairy products directly from farmers.

3. Denying the unemployed the right to buy many incidentals and services which in particular cases are almost as necessary as food, and

Whereas, It is socially desirable to maintain the morale and self-respect of the unemployed by preserving their freedom, now therefore

Be it resolved (if the Senate concur), by the General Assembly of Pennsylvania that the Emergency Relief Board shall distribute unemployment relief in cash instead of food vouchers.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I want to open my remarks by congratulating the Speaker upon his efforts to maintain order in the House so that we can hear what is going on. I regret that at least on one occasion last week such order was not maintained despite the attempts of the Speaker to do so. I refer to the time when a resolution from the Senate memorializing Congress was brought up on National Defense, and there was so much disorder in the House that it was almost impossible for those of us in the back to understand what the clerk was reading, with the result that that resolution went through without some of us just realizing what it was. Since that time we have been in receipt of numerous protests from numerous persons and organizations asking that it be given reconsideration. This resolution, to those of you who do not know what it was, memorialized Congress that in the name of economy or any other reason they should not reduce the appropriations for military and naval purposes. They should refrain from "taking any action for the purpose of economy or other purpose that will further decrease the strength and effectiveness of the armed forces of the United States and the several States thereof."

I think it is a well known fact that approximately seventy-two per cent. of the expenditures of our National Government go for wars past and present and if we are going to take a position that we shall not in anywise reduce any of these expenditures then it is going to be very difficult to put over any program of economy such as has been very widely advocated in this House, and elsewhere, by the leaders of both the Republican and Democratic parties.

I understand that the appropriations of the Federal Government for defense at the present time are about three times what they were in 1913 and that we are now spending as much as Great Britain and Japan together; so it would seem that it might be possible to economize along these lines a little bit particularly in times such as these. I am in receipt of the following communications:

WOMEN'S INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE FOR PEACE AND FREEDOM

Pennsylvania Branch Headquarters

Telephone Rittenhouse 7110

My dear Sir:

The Pennsylvania Branch of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, representing over 3,000 members, wishes to protest with vigor the Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 104, introduced by Mr. Pethick, memorializing Congress to protect our national defense.

We understand that this resolution was passed by the Senate January 17, and by the Assembly January 18th, and that it was rushed through with little debate or consideration and without any opportunity for an expression of public opinion. We believe that this resolution does not represent the majority opinion of the people of Pennsylvania. The taxpayers of Pennsylvania are interested in having the United States Government balance its budget, thus making an increase in taxes unnecessary.

The expenditures for the maintenance of our military establishments have been steadily growing, and are higher than those of any other country in the world, and absorbed by far the greatest percentage of the money raised for the cost of government. If there is to be a decrease in expenditures, money spent on the army or navy must be cut.

This is but one phase of the question. The method of warfare to maintain national security has been tried from the beginning of time, and history shows that those nations which have militarized themselves have finally fallen. The old method of warfare means extinction, both as a nation and as individuals. If international disputes are to be settled rightly they must be settled by the orderly procedure of law conference and conciliation. Confidence in these methods of maintaining peace cannot be upheld while countries, including the United States, are constantly increasing their arms.

The passage by the Pennsylvania State Legislature of this memorial to Congress does not represent the peace-loving sentiment of this State, nor the universal desires of its citizens to reduce taxes. I shall be glad to hear as to how you per onally feel about this matter, and whether there is anything you can do to neutralize this hasty and ill-considered action.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) ANNA GRISCOW ELKINTON,
(Mrs. J. Passmore Elkinton),
Legislative Chairman.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. HUTTON. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not speaking on a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The resolution is not before the House, having been transmitted to Congress, after having passed the General Assembly.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I take the position that a member of the House at least has a right to state his position on something that was put over at a time when the order was such that he could not understand what was going on. I am taking this opportunity to state that position, as briefly as I possibly can and to state that I have received a number of communications opposing it.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House reconsider the vote by which that resolution was passed on last Monday evening.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the motion is out of order because the resolution is not in the hands of the House.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I therefore ask that I be recorded as voting in opposition to the resolution.

The SPEAKER. Under the question of personal privilege, the gentleman will be so recorded in the Journal.

Mrs. WILSON. Mr. Speaker, may I also be recorded as voting "no."

The SPEAKER. The lady from Berks, Mrs. Wilson, will be recorded in the Journal as voting "no."

INTERPRETATION OF RULE 67

The SPEAKER. At this time, so that there may be no misunderstanding under the question of personal privilege, the Chair desires to read rule number 67:

"Any member may rise and explain a matter personal to himself by leave of the Speaker, but he shall not discuss any pending question in such explanation."

The Chair is of the belief that questions of personal privilege must be confined to the integrity of a member or of the House.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, January 23, 1933.

Whereas, The importation into, and sale of Russian coal in the United States has resulted in great financial loss to the Pennsylvania coal miners and to the operators; and

Whereas, The amount of such coal sold in the United States during the year 1932 meant a loss of $2,700,000 in revenue, the enforced idleness of 1,500 coal miners in the anthracite region of this Commonwealth, and the loss in wages of $1,600,000, as well as the loss of the purchasing power of that amount of money; and

Whereas, In spite of the two dollars per ton tariff placed on such coal by Congress as a deterrent to Soviet importation of coal, the importation of Russian coal, during the past ten months of 1932, amounted to 171,623 tons, or an average of 17,163 tons per month, as against a monthly average of 18,082 tons for the year 1932; and

Whereas, The importation of this coal, mined and produced under the Soviet Russian government, does not mean cheaper coal for those buying anthracite but is actually sold in the New England States, after paying the present tariff, at seventy-five cents more per ton than is paid for Pennsylvania anthracite; and

Whereas, The issuance of an embargo order against the importation of Russian anthracite by the Treasury Department would stop this flood of Russian coal and provide work for those 1,500 miners now forced into the ranks of the unemployed; and therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Legislature of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully urges the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States to issue an embargo order against the importation of Russian anthracite coal and end the unfair competition of forced foreign labor with the well paid labor of Pennsylvania, restore to the miners of this Commonwealth the right to work and support their families, turn millions of dollars back into the channels of trade that make for prosperity and insure to the merchants and manufacturers the profits that such trade will mean; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Honorable Ogden Mills, Secretary of the Treasury of the United States.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

DISAPPROVING RESOLUTION MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO PROTECT OUR NATIONAL DEFENSE

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Governor's Office, Harrisburg, January 24, 1933.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Resolution of January 11, 1933.

This resolution memorializes the Congress of the United States to refrain from taking immediate action for the purpose of economy or for any other purpose which will further decrease the strength and effectiveness of the armed forces of the United States and the several states thereof.

It is no more appropriate for the Legislature of Pennsylvania to take action upon questions which are distinctively Federal than it would be for the Congress of the United States to attempt to advise the Legislature of Pennsylvania what measures it should pass and what measures it should reject.

For this reason the resolution is not approved.

GIFFORD PINCHOT.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, as the sponsor of the resolution is not in the Chamber, I move that it be laid on the table for the present.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Your Excellency:

Since receipt of your letter under date of December 15 in answer to my letter of December 12 I have communicated with Mr. Wm. B. Rodgers, executive Director of the State Emergency Relief Board and finally, on December 30, Mr. Rodgers informed me that the State Emergency Relief Board went on record in favor of Community Markets a month previous to that date. Mr. Rodgers also informed me that several of these markets have been established and are now operating successfully. On January 3 I wrote Mr. Rodgers and asked him for the locations of such Community Markets as are operating successfully in the State of Pennsylvania and until this writing have not received an answer to my inquiry. Is it to be assumed from Mr. Rodgers' silence on this very important question that there is no information available as to the successful operation of these markets?

The objections to the establishment of State Community Markets or Commissaries are not based wholly upon the mere fact that by the establishment of these markets the retail grocer loses his business incident to the former method of emergency food distribution. The objections to the establishment of community markets are based upon lack of proof of economy of operations, and upon moral, social and economic effect. These questions will be covered seriatim in the following:

Lack of Proof of Operation

In your letter of December 15 you say, "The present system of handling food relief is entirely too costly." Upon what information do you base your belief that emergency food relief can be distributed with less cost by using the so-called Commissary System. This has certainly not been the experience either in the State of New York, or New Jersey, nor in many places throughout the middle west where the Commissary System has been tried and tested, where, since it eliminated none of the abuses or evils that were present in previous systems of food distribution, it has been abandoned. Certainly, were it factual that emergency food could be distributed at a saving through this system this would be more than off-set by the concomitant economic and social evils present in the Community Market or Commissary form of food distribution. The cheapest is not always the best.

Moral

The Hagmaier Emergency Sales Tax, we believe, was originally conceived and was enacted as a consumer form of taxation. Due to faulty construction of the bill it became direct taxation upon the retail merchant in 90% of its application. This was occasioned by the fact that while Section 21 permitted the retail merchant to pass the tax on to the consumer it was found that on sales aggregating less than one dollar it was impossible for the merchant to pass this tax on and he has had to bear the full burden of it himself.

In the grocery trade sales aggregating less than one dollar amount to practically 90% of the business. This means that the grocer has been compelled to pay a tax approximating from 30% to 50% of his net profit. Under present conditions this tax closely approaches the line of confiscation.

Now, after saddling a tax of this character upon the retail merchant to the extent of twelve million dollars for unemployment relief we find the State of Pennsylvania using this money largely derived from the retail merchant as a means of setting the State up in business to compete with the merchants who furnished the money. You no doubt recognize the irony and injustice in a situation of this kind.

Social

It is a mistake for your Administration to view the new poor in the light of ne'er do wells and paupers. Many of them have maintained their economic integrity until conditions beyond their control placed them in the group requiring assistance. Standing in a bread line, with its consequent loss of self-respect and the breakdown of morale incident thereto, has been usual in the treatment of panhandlers in our large centers of population and no doubt is usual in Soviet Russia, but until we find it absolutely impossible to feed our needy people in any other way we should not subject them to practices of this kind. If they are to be fed by an expenditure of the taxpayers' money then at least the interest of the people in protecting the morale of their fellow unfortunates should be recognized.

Economic

A further consequence incident to operation of Commissaries will be the eventual tearing down of our entire system of food distribution. It is not necessary, I am sure, for me to point out to one so well versed in economics the necessity for maintaining our entire distributive system at as high a standard as possible, particularly during such conditions as are present today. No less an authority in emergency relief food distribution than the American Red Cross has condemned the practice of food commissaries when it was possible to distribute food through the regular channels of business. Additional economic burdens, practically governmental competition, cannot be borne by any part of our business structure without consequences too serious to contemplate.

Now, Mr. Governor, we note a very significant statement in your letter of December 15, as follows: "While we are hoping the Legislature will give us more money and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation lend us more, we are certain that as the needs of the State become greater the amounts supplied will not be sufficient unless we can buy at wholesale and distribute it through Community Markets established by the State."

We believe in view of the above that the time has come to demand facts and figures assuring beyond the question of a doubt that your so-called Commissary System or State Community Markets will accomplish the distribution of emergency food as efficiently and effectively as, and with less cost to the taxpayer than, through the regular channels of business and in the absence of such figures the Pennsylvania Grocers Association, comprising 254 retailer owned wholesale grocery companies with an affiliation in excess of 6,400 stores in the State of Pennsylvania desires to go on record as protesting against any further appropriation by the State Legislature or any further loans from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to be used for the purpose of distributing emergency food relief through State Community Markets or Commissaries.

We trust you will be able to give us such information as will not necessitate a program of this nature for we would rather co-operate with than oppose, but we are convinced that it is impossible to distribute food through State Community Markets as cheaply, as efficiently, or as effectively as through the ordinary channels of business.

A resolution approving this letter was duly passed at a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Retail Merchants' Association of Pennsylvania, January 17, 1933, and by the Pennsylvania Grocers Association in regular monthly meeting assembled on January 18, 1933, and in accordance with the above resolution I have been instructed as Secretary of the Pennsylvania Grocers Association to forward copies of this letter to the Philadelphia newspapers, to the Lieutenant Governor, to the President Pro Tem of the Senate of Pennsylvania, to the Speaker of the House, to the members of the State Emergency Relief Board, to the State Director of Welfare, and to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Respectfully yours,

(Signed) CHARLES H. VON TAGEN, Secretary.

The PRESIDENT. The communication will be printed in the Legislative Journal.

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 86, entitled:

An Act relating to public improvements Declaring it to be a proper governmental function for one or more poor districts of this Commonwealth to enter into contracts to furnish labor for public improvements in municipal subdivisions of this Commonwealth under certain conditions from among persons entitled to relief and other citizens of this Commonwealth authorizing poor districts to make public improvements in and for themselves using such labor under certain conditions with the approval of the Court of Common Pleas providing for the reimbursement of such poor districts by the municipal subdivision out of any fund lawfully available for the purpose either from general taxation or from municipal liens where the poor district furnishing the labor and the municipal subdivision for which the work is done are not co-extensive providing for interest of 3% per annum providing that the provisions of this act are severable as affected by the Constitution defining Municipal Subdivisions as meaning any county city borough township poor district or school district of this Commonwealth and repealing inconsistent laws.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STORB. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill, Mr. McElwee.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lawrence, Mr. McElwee, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McELWEE. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. STORB. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Lawrence please explain the workings of this bill.

Mr. McELWEE. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of this bill is to provide that when Poor Districts have men that they must otherwise maintain by poor relief by food orders, or the like, and they have or can get work for them to do that they may so employ them and instead of giving them orders shall pay them wages in cash at the current rate. If the Poor District itself has the work to do all that is necessary is to have the approval of the court to go ahead with the work on these conditions. If a municipality that desires to do the work is co-extensive with the Poor District the Poor District may bid on the labor and there will be no reimbursement of the Poor District, but if the Poor District is not coextensive with the municipality, the Poor District will be reimbursed for the money that was paid by the municipality where the work was done. If they cannot pay it forthwith they will be entitled to pay it at three per cent interest. Does that answer the gentleman's question.

Mr. STORB. Mr. Speaker, who will they pay this money to?
Mr. McELWEE. Mr. Speaker, they will pay it to the Poor District.

Mr. BECHTEL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lawrence, Mr. McElwee, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McELWEE. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. BECHTEL. Mr. Speaker, is it or is it not a fact that at the present time those who are permitted under the law to obtain what we call poor relief must be classified as indigents, which would comprehend in its meaning old and infirm people?

Mr. McELWEE. Mr. Speaker, under the present law that possibly would be correct, but they would not, it seems to me, furnish labor by persons who are incompetent to do the labor.

Mr. BECHTEL. Mr. Speaker, if those are the only people now qualified to receive relief under the Poor Boards, does the gentleman expect that old and infirm people would be suffered to perform labor under the contracts of the Poor Directors?

Mr. McELWEE. Mr. Speaker, I would expect that only those who are capable of performing the labor and are willing to do it, as provided in the bill, would do such work.

Mr. BECHTEL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, if the statement by the gentleman from Lawrence, Mr. McElwee, is correct that those people who are only entitled to relief by the Poor Districts are classified as indigents, it would comprehend people who are old and infirm, and I do not see the advisability at this time of having the Poor Districts enter into contract so that these people might be let out who are classified as indigents to perform any work. I think the bill as it stands should be voted down.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Stand by our Speaker, and every Representative and officer of this great Commonwealth as we face the taxing toll of the day.

Thou art the God of Light and Truth, lighten our darkness—Help us to think thy thoughts. May the truth and right be more precious to us than pride of intellect or partisan approval.

Total	$41,412,880	$31,941,377	$73,354,257	15.3%

And Whereas, The Philadelphia Motorists have contributed 15.3% of the entire Motor Fund of the State of Pennsylvania

And Whereas, In the said eleven year period the County of Philadelphia received from the Motor Fund the following sum:

Gasoline Tax $\frac{1}{2}$ c per gallon	\$5,730,410
Legislative Appropriation	1,450,000

Total returned in 11 years $7,180,410

PHILADELPHIA RECEIVED FROM MOTOR FUND

Year	% of Gas Tax	Legislative Appropriation	Total	Received % of Contribution	Received % of Total Fund
1922	$162,315 (3)	$162,315
1923	291,689 (3)	291,689
1924	373,004 (3)	373,004
1925	391,854 (3)	$100,000 (1)	491,854
1926	441,836 (3)	100,000 (1)	541,836
1927	533,230 (4)	250,000 (1)	783,230
1928	609,251 (4)	250,000 (1)	859,251
1929	693,592 (4)	375,000 (2)	1,068,592
1930	689,629 (4)	375,000 (2)	1,064,629
1931	735,190 (5)	735,190
1932	808,820 (5)	808,820
Totals	$5,730,410	$1,450,000	$7,180,410	9.8%	1.49%

And whereas, In the said eleven year period the County of Philadelphia's receipts from the Motor Fund were only 1.49% of the entire fund, that is to say were seventy-three million, three hundred fifty-four thousand two hundred fifty-seven dollars of four hundred eighty million, thirty-nine thousand, one hundred thirty dollars.

And Whereas, During the said eleven year period the County of Philadelphia only received from the Motor Fund 9.8% of the amount the Philadelphia Motorists contributed thereto. That is to say the County of Philadelphia received only seven million, one hundred eighty thousand, four hundred ten dollars of the seventy-three million, three hundred fifty-four thousand, two hundred fifty-seven dollars it contributed.

And Whereas, In addition to the gasoline tax and registration fees totaling four hundred eighty million, thirty-nine thousand, one hundred thirty dollars, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has received from the Government of United States of America sixty million dollars, and upwards, of Federal aid, which has been spent in all parts of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania other than the County of Philadelphia.

And Whereas, The County of Philadelphia has received no favor or part of the sixty millions of dollars and upwards of Federal aid.

And Whereas, Federal aid for highways is apportioned to the several States of the United States on the basis of three factors, each having an equal weight:—(1) area, (2) population, (3) road mileage.

And Whereas, The same basis of apportionment is used by a number of States of the United States.

And Whereas, If the same basis of apportionment was used by Pennsylvania the County of Philadelphia's proper share of State Highway Funds should be about 7.5%. That is to say, namely.

	State	Philadelphia	Phila.'s Ratio
Area	44,832	128	.0028
Population (1930)	9,631,350	1,950,961	.2026
Road Milage (5 15 30)	103,205	1,995	.0194
		3) .2243
		7.49 %

And Whereas, On the basis stated the County of Philadelphia's share of the estimated revenue of the Motor License Fund for the biennium of 1933-35 (Budget, Page 49), should be about some nine million, four hundred fifty-nine thousand dollars.

And Whereas, This sum of nine million, four hundred fifty-nine thousand dollars should be in addition to the one-half cent of the gas tax in which all of the counties of Pennsylvania share.

And Whereas, This apparently high sum of nine million, four hundred fifty-nine thousand dollars is much less than the contribution of Philadelphia County Motorists to the Motor Fund of the State, which contribution for the year 1932 was nine million, five hundred one thousand, nine hundred twenty dollars.

And Whereas, The foregoing statements and figures appear to be correct, but lack official endorsement, and official verification thereof,

And Whereas, Many Members of the House desire to know with certainty the truth or falsity of the statements recited above, now therefore be it

Resolved, That for the information of the House of Representatives the Secretary of the Department of Revenue, the Auditor General and the State Treasurer, are hereby directed to furnish to the House of Representatives, by the third Monday of February, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, statements setting forth therein the truth or falsity of the facts set forth in the foregoing preambles or Whereas clauses, and if the statements therein are false, to furnish to the House of Representatives true facts and figures.

And, be it further Resolved, That the Chief clerk of the House of Representatives shall upon its passage transmit a copy of this resolution to the Secretary of the Department of Revenue, the Auditor General, and the State Treasurer.

RELATIVE TO JOINT LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE TO STUDY THE REPORT OF THE LEGISLATIVE COM-MITTEE

Mr. FAY offered the following resolution, which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Finance.

In the Senate, January 30, 1933.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Concurrent Resolution providing for a joint legislative committee to report to the General Assembly a comprehensive legislative program designed to cut the cost of the State Government, adopted in the Senate January twenty-third, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, and concurred in by the House of Representatives on January twenty-fourth, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, and printed in the Senate History, page fifty-one, Serial Number one hundred and one be amended to read as follows:

It shall be the duty of said committee to thoroughly study and analyze the report of the Legislative Finance Committee, the budget for the next fiscal biennium when presented by the Governor, the Administrative and Fiscal Codes, and such other reports and data as may be available or be obtained by the committee for the purpose of enabling said committee to prepare and report to the General Assembly as early as possible a comprehensive legislative program designed to secure economy in the operation of the State Government, cut the present cost of the State Government, and eliminate useless details, overlapping functions, and departmental supervision.

The committee shall have power to hold such hearings as may be necessary. It shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requiring and commanding any person to appear before it, and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person by any members of the committee, or by any sergeant-at-arms of the Senate or House of Representatives, and shall have the same force and effect as subpoenas issued out of the courts of the Commonwealth. Each member of the committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before it. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to appear or testify before said committee, or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of this Commonwealth in such cases."

RESOLUTION CALLING ON THE SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH FOR INFORMATION ON SUBJECTS TOUCHED UPON IN HIS SPEECH BEFORE SHRINE CLUB OF PHILADELPHIA

Mr. REED offered the following resolution, which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Appropriations:

Whereas, The Honorable Richard J. Beamish made an address before the Shrine Club, at Philadelphia, on January twenty-fifth on the subject "Behind the Scenes at Harrisburg," during the course of which address the distinguished Secretary of the Commonwealth said many very interesting things, according to reports appearing in sundry Philadelphia newspapers, and

Whereas, The Secretary of the Commonwealth, according to the Evening Public Ledger of January twenty-fifth, specifically stated that "Ten millions of dollars are being given away annually by the State of 'Santa Claus' Pennsylvania to corporations and individuals," and

Whereas, The distinguished Secretary further stated, according to the Philadelphia Record of January twenty-sixth, that "sixty-five private banks have no supervision," and "that he wanted to see every private bank in Pennsylvania come under supervision," and

Whereas, According to the "Philadelphia Record," he also stated that "during the term of Matthew Stanley Quay the Secretary's office was the 'star loafing place of the Commonwealth,'" and that the said "office now is neither pro-Pinchot nor anti-Pinchot, but it is an efficient office which is running more cheaply than it was in 1914 and doing five times as much work," and

Whereas, The distinguished Secretary of the Commonwealth, according to the morning "Public Ledger" of January Twenty-sixth, said that "From my experience as a member of the Board of Elections, I am going to urge the passage in the present session of a law making it obligatory for every candidate for State wide office to pay a small fee," and

Whereas, According to the "Evening Bulletin" of January twenty-fifth, the distinguished Secretary of the Commonwealth "told of evasions of fee payments to the corporation bureau of his department and said that after getting after delinquent corporations and individuals, enough money was being collected to pay the running expenses of the entire department."

Resolved, that the eminent and distinguished Secretary of the Commonwealth furnish to the Senate of Pennsylvania, not later than March fifteenth, with complete itemization and detail, the following information:

1. The method by which ten millions of dollars are being given away annually by the State of Pennsylvania to corporations and individuals, and the methods by which this sum, in whole or in part, can be recaptured and conserved.

2. The names and addresses of the sixty-five private banks which have no supervision, the draft of a bill which will guarantee proper supervision; and the reason why the Secretary of Banking is not urging that they be supervised.

3 (a). The number, names, and salaries of the employees of the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth during the administration of Matthew Stanley Quay when the office was the star loafing place of the Commonwealth.

3 (b). The names of all officers and employees of his Department (including the Secretary himself) who are neither pro-Pinchot nor anti-Pinchot, and the reason why his Excellency the Governor has not been informed of the existence of employees in an Executive Department under the control of th Governor who are not pro-Pinchot.

3 (c). The number, names, and salaries of the employees in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth during the day of the month of the year 1914 when the said office was running less cheaply and doing at least five times as little work as it is now.

4. How much tax should be imposed upon a candidate for State-wide office; how much revenue will probably result therefrom; and what amount of tax Governor Pinchot should have paid in 1930.

5. Whether or not the item of $265,000.00 suggested in the Governor's Budget is needed, should the Legislature decide to make no appropriation to the Department of State, but permit fee payments to the corporation bureau of his department to be used exclusively for the administration of his department, and whether such a change in the law would not permit his department to run exclusively on fee payments received, and whether thereby a net return to the Commonwealth of a large magnitude might not be possible if the Secretary of the Commonwealth would in even a larger degree exert his talents and ability to compel corporate tax evaders to meet their delinquencies.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 105, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article nine section eight of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania (Municipal Indebtedness Increased—Philadelphia.)

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President and members of the Senate, it seems to me that a joint resolution always ought to have a little explanation. The explanation placed here in italics might prejudice some of the Senators against the bill: "(Municipal Indebtedness Increased—Philadelphia)".

I would like to explain in a few words that our borrowing capacity is based upon not only the assessed value of the real estate, but also from the four mills personal property tax; and the object of this resolution, which passed the session of 1931,—this is a duplicate,—is to take away that four mills personal property tax as a basis for taxation, because it is a very uncertain quantity and we want to base our borrowing capacity on the realty alone.

The bill increases the rate from ten per cent. to fifteen per cent. It applies to Philadelphia only.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I have been requested by a number of individuals and a number of corporations to ask for a public hearing on Senate Bill No. 107, the bill just read, and I, therefore, move that it be recommitted to the Committee on Elections.

Mr. FAY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, Senator Harris introduced the measure in the last special session and I went to his desk and asked him what he thought of this measure, and I would like to ask if he did not say he thought it was a very good measure because it saved his county one hundred and fifty thousand dollars?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I certainly did not make any such statement.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator if he did not say if the measure was enacted it would save Allegheny County over two hundred thousand dollars?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, the best answer I can make to the Senator from Warren is that I not only voted against the bill, but made a speech on it.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I wish to ask the Senator from Allegheny if certain lobbyists did not come to his desk and he brought those lobbyists to my desk and asked me not to support this bill?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, if the gentleman means the League of Women Voters, I admit that very frankly. They have the same privilege on this floor that the Representatives of the public utilities have, and if occasion arises again, that these women come here to lobby for or against a bill, I will do the same thing.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator whether these lobbyists did not tell him that it would be for his glorification and his own glory, if he opposed this bill?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I will reply to the gentleman by saying that I will vote as my conscience dictates all the time, and I never take orders from anyone.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, that is all.

Mr. PRINCE. Mr. President, I made a speech on the Chapman bill during the special session of 1932, and have since contributed three or four times to Mr. George H. Brennen's personally conducted column on the editorial page of the Philadelphia Inquirer. Without reiteration but with a different emphasis, I would like to add a further word to this discussion.

I have been both a loser and winner under the primary system, and always a skeptical and an unsympathetic observer of its operation. That this is the prevailing sentiment throughout this Commonwealth is indicated by the men and women of various affiliations, of every shade of political thought, representing the State organization, the administration, the reformers, Independents, Democrats and Republicans who are lining up in support of this measure. The Chapman-Prince bill provides for a return to the convention system of nomination to State and local offices, but with the option that delegates or committeemen may be elected at the preceding fall election. Delegates to the State convention shall be elected by legislative districts, the number of such delegates to be double the number of legislators now elected in those districts.

The primary election law was passed about twenty years ago, during a nation-wide epidemic of unparalleled humbug and hysteria engendered by Utopian Prophets and dreamers, who, with "certain lewd fellows of the baser sort," preached an alien democracy of which the principal ingredients were the popular election of United States Senators, the initiative, the referendum, the recall, and the direct primary. Some of the States adopted all of this program of innovations and all of the States adopted some of it.

The people fell for it, and the people have been paying for it ever since in disintegrated party loyalty, in demoralized party responsibility, in public scandals, and in heavier taxes. Objections to this measure seems to summarize in the apprehension that the people will lose control over their government unless those who carry on the government continue to be nominated in the first instance by direct popular vote. The direct primary has done more to impair the intelligence, discredit the honesty, blunt debauch the conscience and jeopardize the success of popular government than all the bosses that ever sold a franchise or scuttled a treasury, from Augusta, Maine, to Sacramento, California.

It has not even got rid of boss rule, which is only one of its many lying promises that deceived the public twenty years ago. The Constitution of the United States guarantees to every State a republican form of government. A republic is based upon the representative conception of government; a democracy is based on the principle of direct popular government.

The primary belongs to a democracy, but it does not belong to a republic. If we are trying to supplant the republic with a democracy, then we ought to by all means retain the primary, and even extend its principle. But if we would preserve the government of the people, by the people, and for the people, as ordained by the fathers, before this and similar perversions complete the wreckage of representative government, we must repudiate the primary with all its works and exterminate it, root, branch and vine. It has already destroyed the political independence of the average citizens, depreciated the value of public political honors, and compromised the dignity of office. For twenty years we have been threshing over old straw that was rejected in 1787 by the keenest intelligences in the roster of American statesmanship as unsuited to the genius and political aspiration of the American people.

We have been trying to imitate the example of ancient Greece. Athens was a democracy, with its resultant "tumultuous assemblage." Saint Paul tells us that the Athenians spent their time in nothing else but either to tell or to hear some new thing.

The direct primary is a combination of the auction block and the racket. It is reckless political driving in utter disregard of the stop-light warnings of history. Worse than that, it is back seat driving, with everybody shouting contrary directions and all drunk. Even when it nominates a good man—and the presence of the Lieutenant-Governor and these forty-nine other Senators attests that now and then it does nominate a good man—nevertheless, he is the beneficiary of a wrong principle.

The Constitution of the United States was adopted by convention. The Constitutions of the various states were adopted by conventions. The ordinances of secession that precipitated the Civil War were passed and subsequently repealed by conventions. The candidate for President of the United States is selected by convention. Organized labor, fraternal orders, banking associations, the teaching professions, the bar, the federated women's clubs, legislate, nominate, and elect for their respective memberships in convention assembled. Instead of eliminating the boss, the primary has extended his domain and magnified his power. In the convention the opposition has a chance to combine and to marshal forces against him, but in the primary a coalition of scattered voters and antagonistic factions is impossible.

More than this, not only has the primary made running for office a rich man's game, as I emphasized previously here and elsewhere, but by its very terms of the primary it makes running for office an individual enterprise. Take for example a candidate for Congress, in order to get votes he must personally approach and canvass individual voters, and groups of voters with their several selfish interests. So he promises everything to everybody. If elected, he must make good his promises even though they are contrary to the party platform. In order to get his appropriation bills passed which he promised to Tom, Dick and Harry, he must go along with and help his colleagues get their bills passed. Everybody grabs the pump handle, and appropriations pour from the treasury like a spring freshlet over a broken dam.

When a business finds that it is employing wasteful or futile methods, it drops them. When a bank finds that it has a dishonest clerk, it fires or prosecutes him. But when a party takes to its bosom a worthless and ungrateful foundling, it becomes deaf, dumb, and blind to betrayals and its vices and continues to invest his confidence in a discredited and incorrigible scapegrace.

But, Mr. President, there is another phase to this question, not technical, not merely utilitarian, but sentimental but patriotic, equally relevant to any situation were like this the foundations of government are imperiled or involved. Our Republican government is an inheritance from the past, to be administered and held in trust for the future.

Franklin at the age of eighty-one, who attended every session of the Constitutional Convention, was asked on the day of adjournment what kind of a government the convention had agreed upon. He replied, "A republic, if you can keep it."

We have drifted far in the last twenty years from the course unerringly charted by the master pilots of a century and a half ago. We shall do well, before the current becomes too strong, to head the ship of state back to the saner ideals and the safer practices of representative and constitutional government.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, as we seem to be having the hearing now I would like to speak for about five minutes on the other side. The Senator from Cumberland is an illustration of the danger of the scholar in politics. We are all delighted with his address, but it is a sad spectacle to see a good man going wrong. I would not say the same thing about the doctor in politics, because I am in the same class myself. I refer to Senator Chapman.

I had two personal experiences I would like to relate at this hearing on the convention system. One was cut and dried, and very pleasant; and the other was a fist fight. The first convention was a ward convention. I was candidate for Common Council in Philadelphia, and instead of advertising my assets in any way I sent some influential friends to see the leader of the ward, and when the convention came along we all assembled in a large room and were entertained by speakers, while in the back room the ward leader and his friends wrote the slate. In this case it was perfectly all right for me, and I heard myself eulogized by silver-tongued orators, and I was duly nominated.

The second occasion was a convention to nominate a congressman in Philadelphia. There were two conventions, and the first convention got in the room first and locked the door; and the police were with them. If you came to the door and you belonged to the other faction, you could not even get into the room. The other faction finally broke the door down and instructed the police to stick to their duties and not go outside. They took possession of the convention and duly nominated the other man, who was elected.

Now, those are two stories about the convention system. It may work like oiled machinery, as it did in my case, or it may degenerate into a fist fight.

I noticed today in a New York paper some references to former acting Mayor McKee. He was such a good acting Mayor, after Jimmy Walker went to the Riviera, that you cannot tell whether the majority of New Yorkers wanted McKee; but the fact that thousands and thousands of people wrote McKee's name on voting machines in November showed the sentiment in favor of Acting Mayor McKee.

Now, I submit that in the primary election McKee would have stood a fine chance to be Mayor of New York had Tammany not, at a convention, nominated Judge John J. O'Brien.

Mr. WILLIAMSON. Mr. President, there is a phase to this case that has not been discussed so far as I recall. We are preaching economy and endeavoring to reduce taxation. If we had the money that uniform primaries have cost the respective counties of this Commonwealth in the past twenty years we would have an abundance, an over-abundance, to take care of the unemployed each year. It cost the counties of Pennsylvania more than half a million dollars. Here is a chance to save that amount, and relieve the counties of that much county tax; and therefore I feel that it is incumbent on this body to show the people of the Commonwealth that we will return to the primaries and save that amount in taxation to the people from the various counties of the Commonwealth.

Return to the convention system. The Commonwealth prospered under the convention system, and in the twenty years since we have had the uniform primaries we have heard rumors of stuffed ballot boxes and fraudulent return of that vote. Everything was done above-board in the days of the old convention system. We had more party loyalty; we had no destruction of the minority parties, but we had men and women proud of their allegiance to their party. And as a matter of economy I think it is highly necessary that we save this money at this time. If, five years from now, prosperity has returned and we want to go back to the uniform primary, then let us do it. But in Heaven's name let us do away with this expensive primary and return to the convention system.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will state his point of order.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, this being a motion to recommit, debate is not in order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator's point of order is well taken.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HARRIS and Mr. HOMSHER and were as follows, viz

A Supplement to the act approved the eighteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws five hundred forty-nine) entitled "An act to permit the use of voting machines for recording and computing the vote at all elections including primaries in any county city borough or township of the Commonwealth at the option of the electors thereof prescribing regulations with reference to the adoption requirements examination purchase installation preparation custody and demonstration of use of voting machines providing rules and regulations for the conduct of elections held with voting machines prescribing the qualifications number and duties of election officers in election districts in which voting machines may be used placing duties upon county commissioners and the Secretary of the Commonwealth providing for redivision of wards of cities and boroughs into election districts and the consolidation of election districts providing for the payment of expenses incident to the purchase and use of voting machines by the counties in which they are used and providing penalties for violation of the provisions of this act" providing procedure whereby the purchase of voting machines by counties authorized but not contracted for may under certain circumstances be postponed

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever the electors in any county or any city borough or township therein shall have signified their desire for the use of voting machines in such county or subdivision thereof under the provisions of the act to which this act is a supplement and the county commissioners of such county shall not on the date this act shall become effective have entered into a contract or contracts for the purchase of voting machines under the provisions of said act such county commissioners shall not for a period of sixty days thereafter enter into such contract or contracts.

Section 2 Within said period of sixty days a petition signed by not less than twenty-five qualified voters of the political subdivision which has signified its desire to use voting machines may be presented to the court of common pleas of the county praying that the purchase of the voting machines so desired be postponed

Section 3 Upon receipt of such petition the court of common pleas of the county shall fix a day for hearing on the petition and shall require the county commissioners of the county and the authorities in charge of the poor district or poor districts lying wholly or partly within the county to present at the time fixed for the hearing a report of the financial status of the county and of the poor district or districts The court may further inquire from whatever sources as to the existing and contemplated poor relief needs of the county The court may also receive and consider argument and data from persons other than county and poor district officials as to conditions within the county

Section 4 If the court shall determine from said hearing and the facts disclosed hereby that the needs for poor relief within the county would render the immediate expenditure by the county of the sums necessary for the purchase of voting machines improvident the court may by order direct the commissioners of the county to refrain from entering into such contracts until such time as the court in said order may stipulate or until such time as the court may for cause shown rescind such order. The action by the court on such petition shall be final and not subject to repeal. No contract shall be entered into by the county commissioners of such county after a petition has been presented within the time specified until final action by the court on such petition.

Section 5 This act shall become effective immediately upon its final enactment.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

We thank Thee, Lord God of our fathers for our great State. Thy blessing has made us great. O may our Speaker and these ladies and gentlemen who represent Pennsylvania, the birthplace of Liberty,—the fountain head of Independence, the bulwark of Righteousness, be guided by Thy Spirit of Truth, may they be kept loyal to Thee to the ideals of our great Commonwealth, and thus serve the best interests of all the people, whose servants they are. RESOLUTION

MEMORIALIZING CONGRESS TO REPEAL EIGHTEENTH AMENDMENT

Mr. JOHN J. KANE offered the following resolution which was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, January 30, 1933.

Whereas, More than twelve years of trial have demonstrated the unworkability of National Prohibition, thereby confirming the universal experience of mankind that all governmental functions must find their sanction in the popular will and approval, and

Whereas, At the November elections the American people, by unprecedented pluralities, registered an unmistakable protest against the present system of National Prohibition and joined in the demand of the Democratic Party for immediate repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, and

Whereas, Further delay in remedial measures can result only in further confusion of political issues, hinder economic recovery, break down all party responsibility and foster distrust in our representative form of government, therefore be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring, that the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to head the clearly expressed mandate of the American people and forthwith to propose an amendment to the Constitution of the United States repealing the Eighteenth Amendment thereto, the mode of ratification of the same to be by conventions called in the several states and composed of persons elected on no question other than the repeal or retention of the Eighteenth Amendment, and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the Speaker of the House of Representatives and to the President of the Senate of the United States.

Senatorial courtesy would demand that perhaps we should accede to a Senator's request that a measure of this kind should be postponed. A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 157, entitled:

An Act directing the Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau to appoint a Legislative Budget clerk to be present in the office of the Budget Secretary during the preparation of the biennial budgets in order to gather information, facts and statistics for the use of the General Assembly, its committees and Members; and making an appropriation.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, this is a bill that has passed the Senate and House at about two or three different sessions and has always been vetoed like the Governor and will probably be vetoed again, and

I would like to get it under the wire. This bill provides that the director of the Legislative Reference Bureau shall appoint a budget clerk whose duty it shall be to attend in the office of the Budget Secretary during the preparation and assembling of material for the biennial budget and during the hearings of the heads of the various departments, boards and commissions before the Budget Secretary, but that he should not be privileged to attend any meetings between the Governor and the Budget Secretary and have nothing to do with the preparation of the budget.

In New York state they always have the chairman of the Finance Committee sitting in when the budget is made up. When these previous bills were drawn, the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee did not think it fair to ask the secretary to come to Harrisburg because there were no means to pay the extra cost, no money to pay for coming to Harrisburg. So it seemed practical to have the director of the Legislative Reference Bureau, Mr. Fertig, for whom we have very great respect, to set up an officer in his Bureau and to make the salary seventy-five hundred dollars for the biennium.

Now we all know that we have two volumes of the budget locked up in our desks, and when we get home we are more or less likely to find a detective story more interesting to read. We all know that. And I thought I ought to read the budget, and I cut out the only picture in it, and I did not understand it. I have read it six times. Then I cut out the page on Highways, and I read a great many figures here, and I discovered, by the way, that the Highway Department has additional money which I was not able to trace. I learned that it had money to loan for the North Office Building. They got a big refund on that, they got that all back. If you read two columns of figures, you will find that it appears that this department is devoted entirely to the motor license fund, and there are no figures at all. I do not know anything about that. They get one-half of the State's revenue. Now I cut out some of the Governor's remarks about the budget, and I thought I might get some light there, but was unable to do so. So I asked the Department of Internal Affairs to investigate, and I asked Mr. Fry of our own Legislative Reference Bureau to investigate the question. And they studied the budget, and they cannot answer this question. The question is that we are receiving Federal aid money from the R. F. C. and we have to pay back to Washington one-fifth every year, and we do not pay it back with cash, but the Federal aided highways is credited with the amount we owe every year. We owe one-fifth every year. Naturally that reduces the fifty-fifty, the amount of the money, that is the Federal highway money. And, therefore, I say there is no use of appropriating money, either directly or indirectly—and everything is principally indirectly in the Highway Department. That difference should appear in the budget, and I defy anyone to locate it. I simply can't find it. I use this as an example that we represent the people and we hold the purse-strings, and we have two volumes of the budget. Well, it is like "Open your mouth and shut your eyes, and I will give you something to make you wise." And we swallow it, and we do not know anything about it. We tried to pass a similar bill before, and we should try again, so that we can go up to Mr. Fertig's office and find out something about the budget.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward.

The CHAIRMAN. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward how many new jobs are created under this bill?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, one.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, and what is the salary?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, seventy-five hundred dollars for two years.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, does the gentleman from Philadelphia think it is right to go on record as voting to create new jobs?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, if the gentleman had been on the Sterling Committee and interrogated the heads of departments, he would have discovered that there was plenty of chance to save seventy-five hundred dollars. If he knew what was going on, he would realize that seventy-five hundred dollars is a small investment, and would bring many, many returns.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, as indicated by my question, I think that this is the wrong time to create new jobs for any service whatever. If there is any information wanted from the Budget Secretary, each and every member of this Legislature has the right to get it. But to start at the outset of this session to create new jobs is entirely out of order, and I think every member of this Legislature who votes for new jobs is going to be called to account by his constituency and should be.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—21

Aron,	Ealy,	Krause,	Salus,
Bell,	Fay,	McClure,	Scott,

Less than a majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the negative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of House Resolution No. 9, reported from the Committee on Finance, at yesterday's session.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer resolutions at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

In the Senate, January, 1933.

Whereas, Senate Bill No. 60 of the present session of the General Assembly provides for a reduction in the salary of all judges learned in the law; and

Whereas, Said bill has passed the Senate, and has been transmitted to the House of Representatives for concurrence; and

Whereas, There is doubt whether the reductions in salaries carried in said bill can legally be made applicable to any judge now in commission; and

Whereas, The conditions of unemployment and financial distress make it extremely difficult to raise sufficient revenue without new taxation to conduct the business of the Commonwealth during the next fiscal biennium, and economy becomes absolutely necessary in all branches of government; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That it is the sense of the General Assembly that if Senate Bill No. 60 becomes a law, all judges now in commission should voluntarily agree to accept a reduction in their present salaries, equal to the reductions provided in Senate Bill No. 60; and that those so agreeing cause requisitions to be drawn on the Auditor General for salaries carrying such reductions;

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Commonwealth be directed, upon the final enactment of Senate Bill No. 60, to mail a certified copy thereof, together with a copy of this resolution, to all judges learned in the law in this Commonwealth, and that said judges be respectfully requested to reply to the Secretary of the Commonwealth, stating whether such reduction will or will not be voluntarily accepted in order that the Legislature may ascertain the amount of money which can be saved during the present and the next fiscal biennium.

Whereas, The strictest economy in every branch of the State Government is imperative; and

Whereas, It is doubtful whether the salaries of those Members of the General Assembly now in office can be legally reduced; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives of the present session of the General Assembly be urged to voluntarily accept a reduction of fifteen per centum (15%) in their salaries for the present session, and in order that the General Assembly may ascertain the amount of money which can be saved by such reduction, the Senators agreeing to such reduction be requested to notify in writing the Secretary of the Senate, and Members of the House of Representatives be requested to notify in writing the Chief Clerk of the House, and in said communication authorize all future requisition on account of salaries for the present session to be drawn at the reduced rates as provided in this resolution.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. George F. Conner, offered the following prayer:

Dear Lord God, we thank Thee for the rest and rejuvenation of the past night. With renewed interest and vigor we address ourselves to the mighty issues of State today.

The Scriptures tell us "The Lord sitteth upon His throne in the heavens, and His kingdom ruleth over all." Even so Lord, may the ladies and gentlemen of this Legislature—chosen leaders all—assist Thee in carrying out Thy will. May the various states be Thy agents in achieving Thy purpose in our nation.

Help us ever to remember that the foundations of our national life are moral, and that the life of morality is religion. "Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people."

May the eternal principles of Thy divine kingdom be breathed into our constitution and laws, and into our public and private life, that our government may even stand and flourish in righteousness, justice and everlasting peace.—Amen.
